On February 25, 2019, Gary Goldberg, Chief Executive Officer, and Tom Palmer, President and Chief Operating Officer, sent the following communication to employees and contractors of Newmont Mining Corporation:

DATE: February 25, 2019
TO: All Newmont employees and contractors
FROM: Gary Goldberg, Chief Executive Officer
Tom Palmer, President and Chief Operating Officer
SUBJECT: Update on news regarding market activity

Following up on our message from yesterday, as expected we received a letter from Barrick this morning indicating their intention to pursue an unsolicited, negative premium bid to acquire Newmont.

In response, Newmont issued a news release (<https://www.newmont.com/newsroom/newsroom-details/2019/Newmont-Confirms-Receipt-of-Barrick-Acquisition-Proposal/default.aspx>) outlining the reasons why Barrick's proposal is not in the interests of our shareholders and inferior to our proposed combination with Goldcorp. In addition, we have been meeting with investors, analysts and media attending the BMO Metals & Mining conference to describe in detail how Barrick's proposal would expose our shareholders to increased risk.

In the Newmont presentation (https://s1.q4cdn.com/259923520/files/doc_presentations/2019/02/25/2019-BMO-Presentation_Final_posting_4.pdf) delivered at the conference today, we highlighted that we remain confident in our ability to deliver superior value for our shareholders and other stakeholders while highlighting that:

- Our team has a proven track record of successfully managing and operating a global mining portfolio, delivering total shareholder returns of 65 percent since January 2014, compared with Randgold's anemic nine percent and Barrick's negative 22 percent over the same period
- The current Barrick management team has only been together for eight weeks and never collectively managed a global portfolio of our scale, complexity and quality
- We have a highly experienced, skilled and aligned team of more than 22,000 employees and contractors who remain focused on our proven and systematic approach to operating a global mining business safely, profitably and responsibly
- We agree that looking at a potential joint venture to operate our collective assets in Nevada could be a compelling value opportunity, but there is no reason to burden our shareholders with the risk from Barrick's other assets

- Our announced combination with Goldcorp represents an unparalleled opportunity to create the world's leading gold company with an unmatched portfolio of operations, projects, exploration opportunities, reserves and people

We will continue engaging with the market and our other stakeholders over the coming weeks to reinforce the value proposition that Newmont has delivered and that Newmont Goldcorp (<https://newmontcorp.com/>) will deliver well into the future.

Please remain focused on working safely, above all else, and thank you for your ongoing efforts to create the world's leading gold company.
