PROXY AND ANNUAL MEETING INFORMATION

Who may vote

Stockholders who owned common stock at the close of business on March 14, 2005, the record date for the Annual Meeting, may vote at the meeting. If you beneficially owned common stock on the record date, you have either four votes or one vote per share for each proposal at the Annual Meeting.

Votes per share

For all five proposals, you have four votes per share for each share you beneficially own if you have beneficially owned the share continuously since before March 1, 2001, or if you acquired it through Potlatch's dividend reinvestment plan or through one of the Potlatch 401(k) Savings Plans.

If your shares are registered directly with Potlatch and held in your name, the enclosed proxy card indicates the number of shares with respect to which we presume you are entitled to four votes per share and the number of shares with respect to which we presume you are entitled to one vote per share, based on Potlatch's stockholder records. You should indicate in the space provided on the enclosed proxy card in the event that our presumption is incorrect.

If your shares are held in street or nominee name, we presume that each of your shares has only one vote per share. In order to claim entitlement to four votes per share, you must certify to the fact that you have beneficially owned the shares continuously since before March 1, 2001. You can do this by signing the certification on the enclosed voting instruction form. Potlatch may require additional evidence of continuous ownership upon request.

You are encouraged to review Potlatch's stockholder time-phased voting procedures, attached to this proxy statement as Appendix A, for more information on the number of votes to which you are entitled.

Proxy solicitation and tabulation of votes

The Board of Directors of Potlatch Corporation has sent you this proxy statement in connection with our solicitation of proxies for use at Potlatch's 2005 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. Certain Directors, officers and employees of Potlatch and our proxy solicitor, D.F. King & Co., also may solicit proxies on our behalf by mail, phone, fax, e-mail, or in person. Potlatch will bear the cost of the solicitation of proxies, including D.F. King's fee of $8,000 plus out-of-pocket expenses, and will reimburse banks, brokers, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable charges and expenses to forward our proxy materials to the beneficial owners of Potlatch stock. Potlatch has also engaged Computershare Investor Services to act as the inspector of election and will reimburse reasonable charges and expenses related to the tabulation of votes. No additional compensation will be paid to Directors, officers and employees of Potlatch who may be involved in the solicitation of proxies.

To vote in person at the Annual Meeting, you must obtain a proxy, executed in your favor, from the holder of record.

If you return your proxy by mail or vote via the Internet or by telephone but do not select a voting preference, the individuals named as proxies on the enclosed proxy card or voting instruction form will vote your shares FOR Proposals 1, 2, 3 and 4, and AGAINST Proposal 5. If you have any questions or need assistance in voting your shares, please contact D.F. King & Co., toll-free at 1-800-207-3158.

Revoking your proxy

If you are a stockholder of record, you may revoke your proxy at any time before the Annual Meeting by giving the Corporate Secretary written notice of your revocation or by submitting a later-dated proxy and you may revoke your proxy at the Annual Meeting by voting by ballot. Attendance at the meeting, by itself, will not revoke a proxy. If you are a stockholder in street or nominee name, you may revoke your voting instructions by informing the bank, broker or other nominee in accordance with that entity's procedures for revoking your voting instructions.

Quorum

On the March 14, 2005, record date, Potlatch had 28,971,046 shares of common stock outstanding. Voting can take place at the Annual Meeting only if stockholders owning a majority of the voting power of the common stock (that is, a majority of the total number of votes entitled to be cast) and one-third of the total number of shares outstanding on the record date are present either in person or by proxy. Abstentions and broker non-votes will both be counted towards a quorum.

Votes needed

The affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power present at the meeting, either in person or represented by proxy, and entitled to vote is required to approve proposals 1, 3, 4 and 5. The affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power outstanding and entitled to vote is required to approve proposal 2. The inspector of election appointed for the Annual Meeting will tabulate affirmative, negative and withheld votes, abstentions and broker non-votes. Withheld votes and abstentions will have the same effect as negative votes. Broker non-votes will not be counted in determining the number of shares entitled to vote.

Annual Meeting attendance

All stockholders are invited to attend the meeting. Persons who are not stockholders may attend only if invited by Potlatch. If you own shares in street or nominee name, you must bring proof of ownership (e.g., a current broker's statement) in order to be admitted to the meeting.

Table of Contents

Other matters presented at Annual Meeting

Potlatch's By-laws specify the matters that may be presented to stockholders at an Annual Meeting as matters specified in the notice of meeting given by or at the direction of the Board of Directors; matters otherwise properly brought before the meeting by or at the direction of the Board of Directors; and matters otherwise properly brought before the meeting by stockholders.

Under Potlatch's By-laws, a stockholder must give written notice to the Corporate Secretary of a matter the stockholder wishes to present or a nomination for the election of Directors the stockholder wishes to make at that year's Annual Meeting no later than ninety (90) days nor more than one hundred twenty (120) days in advance of the same day and month that distribution of materials in connection with the prior year's Annual Meeting occurred. As the date that materials were distributed for the 2004 Annual Meeting occurred on April 5, 2004, to present a matter or to make a nomination for the election of Directors at the 2005 Annual Meeting, the stockholder must have given written notice to the Corporate Secretary by January 7, 2005. A stockholder who wishes to present a matter at the Annual Meeting should refer to Article III, Section 4 of the By-laws, and a stockholder who wishes to make a nomination for the election of Directors should refer to Article IV, Section 11 of the By-laws, for a complete statement of the requirements for submission of a written notice to the Corporate Secretary. A copy of the By-laws is available for downloading or printing by going to Potlatch's web site at www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance.

We do not expect any matters, other than those included in this proxy statement, to be presented at the 2005 Annual Meeting. If other matters are presented, the individuals named as proxies on the enclosed proxy card will have discretionary authority to vote your shares on the matter.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

The Board of Directors and Management of Potlatch operate within a comprehensive plan of corporate governance for the purpose of defining responsibilities, setting high standards of professional and personal conduct and monitoring compliance with such responsibilities and applicable legal standards. The Board has adopted Corporate Governance Guidelines that define responsibilities, standards and practices to assist the Board in the exercise of its duties. The Committees of the Board have each adopted Charters that define their respective responsibilities, standards and practices. The Board has also approved a Corporate Conduct and Ethics Policy that outlines Potlatch's policies on specific issues related to business conduct and reaffirms the commitment to integrity of the Directors and employees as our way of doing business. Copies of each of these documents are available for downloading or printing by going to Potlatch's web site at www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance.

The following sections describe certain of Potlatch's governance practices and procedures.

Director Independence

The role of the Board of Directors is to oversee and provide policy guidance on the business and affairs of Potlatch Corporation. The Board believes that it will best serve stockholders if the majority of the Directors are independent of Potlatch. As of March 1, 2005, the Board was comprised of ten members, nine of whom were outside (non-employee) Directors. The Board of Directors has determined that all Directors, other than L. Pendleton Siegel who serves as Chief Executive Officer, have no material relationship with Potlatch (either directly or as a partner, shareholder or officer of an organization that has a relationship with Potlatch), and are independent within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange listing standards and Potlatch's Director Independence Policy, a copy of which is attached to this proxy statement as Appendix B, and can also be found on Potlatch's web site by going to www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance, and then Board of Directors.

At each of its in-person meetings, the Board meets in executive session without members of management present and has elected Dr. William T. Weyerhaeuser as Vice Chair of the Board to preside at these executive sessions. Each Committee of the Board, except for the Finance Committee, also meets in executive session at every in-person meeting without members of management present.

During 2004, the Board met eleven times. Each Director attended 75% or more of the meetings of the Board and its Committees, and the aggregate attendance at all Board and Committee meetings was 98%. The Board does not have a policy requiring Director attendance at annual meetings of the stockholders. One Director attended the 2004 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

Communications with Directors

Potlatch has established procedures for stockholders and other interested parties to contact one or more of the non-management Directors by e-mail or mail. These procedures can be viewed by going to Potlatch's public web site at www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance, and then Board of Directors. All communications with a proper business purpose are forwarded to the intended non-management Director or Directors.

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

The Audit Committee has established procedures to accommodate complaints and concerns about Potlatch's accounting, internal controls and auditing matters by two different groups: (1) employees, who are entitled to confidential and anonymous treatment; and (2) third parties (such as competitors, vendors and consumers), who are not entitled to confidential and anonymous treatment. All complaints and concerns are directed through an independent, third-party hotline provider and are routed directly to the Chair of the Audit Committee. The procedures and hotline number are available by going to Potlatch's public web site at www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance, and then Hotlines.

Nominees for Director

The Board of Directors nominates Directors for election at each annual meeting of stockholders and elects new Directors to fill vacancies when they arise. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee has the responsibility to identify, evaluate, recruit and recommend qualified candidates to the Board of Directors for nomination or election.

It is an objective of the Board of Directors that its membership be composed of experienced and dedicated individuals with diversity of backgrounds, perspectives and skills. Potlatch's Corporate Governance Guidelines contain membership criteria that call for candidates to be selected for their character, judgment, and diversity of experience, business acumen and ability to act on behalf of all stockholders. In addition, each Director must be committed to enhancing stockholder value and must have sufficient time to effectively carry out his or her duties as a Director. The Committee also considers the requirement in the Corporate Governance Guidelines that a majority of the Board members be independent under New York Stock Exchange rules, as well as the Board's desire that at least one Board member meet the criteria for an audit committee financial expert under Securities and Exchange Commission rules.

Prior to each annual meeting of stockholders, the Committee identifies nominees first by evaluating the current Directors whose term will expire at the annual meeting and who are willing to continue in service. These candidates are evaluated based on the criteria described above, the candidate's prior service as a Director, and the needs of the Board with respect to the particular talents and experience of its Directors. In the event that a Director does not wish to continue in service or the Committee determines not to re-nominate the Director or if a vacancy is created on the Board as a result of a resignation, an increase in the size of the Board or other event, then the Committee will consider various candidates for Board membership, including those suggested by the Committee members, by other Board members, by any director search firm engaged by the Committee and by stockholders. During 2003, the Committee retained the professional search firm TMP/Highland Partners to assist the Committee in the identification and evaluation of candidates for Director. The Committee did not utilize any third-party professional search firm services during 2004 and does not anticipate utilizing any such services during 2005.

A stockholder who wishes to recommend a prospective nominee for the Board for consideration by the Committee should notify the Corporate Secretary in writing at Potlatch's principal office. Each notice must include the full name, age, business and residence addresses, principal occupation or employment of the nominee, the number of shares of Potlatch common stock beneficially owned by the nominee, and the skills, qualifications, background and other attributes of the nominee that the stockholder believes are pertinent in making the nomination and any other information about the nominee that must be disclosed in proxy solicitations under Rule 14(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the nominee's written consent to serve, if elected.

The Audit Committee

Under the terms of its Charter and in accordance with applicable regulations and requirements, the Audit Committee is responsible for assisting the Board in its oversight of Potlatch's accounting and internal control matters, and has the sole authority to retain, compensate and terminate the independent auditor. The Audit Committee Charter is attached to this proxy statement as Appendix C. The Committee has appointed KPMG LLP as Potlatch's independent auditor and pre-approved its audit fees and non-audit services and fees for 2005 in accordance with criteria adopted by the Committee. Representatives of KPMG LLP are not expected to be present at the Annual Meeting. The Internal Audit Director reports directly to the Audit Committee.

The Board of Directors has determined that all members of the Committee are independent of Potlatch within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange listing standards and Potlatch's Director Independence Policy and are financially literate. The Board also has determined that Committee Chair Boh A. Dickey is an audit committee financial expert as defined by the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Committee met eight times in 2004. The section titled, "Audit Committee Report" in this proxy statement contains a description of the Committee's activities during 2004.

The Executive Compensation and Personnel Policies Committee

Under the terms of its Charter, the Executive Compensation and Personnel Policies Committee oversees compensation and benefits for Potlatch's senior officers, including salary, bonus, and incentive awards. The Committee also evaluates the performance of the Chief Executive Officer and reviews succession plans for key officer positions.

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

The Board of Directors has determined that all members of the Committee are independent of Potlatch within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange listing standards and Potlatch's Director Independence Policy. The Committee met five times in 2004. The section titled, "Executive Compensation and Personnel Policies Committee Report" in this proxy statement contains a description of the Committee's activities during 2004.

Table of ContentsThe Finance Committee

Under the terms of its Charter, the Finance Committee reviews and makes recommendations on financings and other financial matters.

The Finance Committee met four times in 2004.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee

Under the terms of its Charter, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee is responsible for identifying, evaluating, recruiting and recommending to the Board nominees for election as Directors and for developing and recommending to the Board a set of corporate governance principles and related policies.

The Board of Directors has determined that all members of the Committee are independent of Potlatch within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange listing standards and Potlatch's Director Independence Policy. The Committee met four times in 2004.

Compensation of Directors

The only member of Potlatch's Board of Directors who is an employee is L. Pendleton Siegel, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Siegel receives no compensation for serving as Chairman of the Board.

Retainer and Fees. During 2004, cash compensation for outside Directors was increased upon the recommendation of an independent compensation consultant based upon the consultant's review of data for compensation paid to directors of 19 paper and forest products industry companies and 37 general industry companies of similar size to Potlatch. Effective July 1, 2004, the outside Directors began receiving the following cash compensation:

Annual retainer fee	$ 35,000
Supplemental annual retainer fee (Vice Chair only)	$ 15,000
Attendance fee for each Board meeting	$ 1,500
Attendance fee for each Committee meeting	$ 1,500
Annual retainer fee for Chair of the Audit Committee	$ 10,000
Annual retainer fee for Chair of each other Committee	$ 5,000

During 2004, Potlatch paid to Directors, or deferred on their behalf, a total of $570,000 in fees. Directors may defer receiving any of their fees. Under the terms of the Potlatch Corporation Deferred Compensation Plan for Directors, when a Director elects to defer fees, he or she elects to have these fees credited with interest at the higher of either 70% of the prime rate or the corporate A bond rate, or converted into common stock units. These common stock units are then credited with amounts in common stock units equal in value to the dividends that are paid on the same amount of common stock. During 2004 Potlatch also reimbursed Directors for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses for attending Board and committee meetings and educational seminars and conferences in accordance with the Potlatch Corporation Director Education Program, and for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses for their spouses to attend the September 2004 Board meeting retreat.

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

Long-Term Incentive Awards. Through 2003, each outside Director was granted a nonqualified stock option to purchase 5,000 shares of common stock in December of his or her first year as a Director, and each December after that each outside Director was automatically granted a nonqualified stock option to purchase 2,500 shares of common stock. Beginning in December 2004, upon the recommendation of an independent compensation consultant, the automatic grant of nonqualified stock options to outside Directors was replaced by a discretionary award, consisting of a credit to an account established on behalf of each outside Director under the Potlatch Corporation Deferred Compensation

Plan for Directors in the amount of $30,000, except for Director William L. Driscoll, for whom a credit was made in the amount of $60,000. As a new Director during 2004, Mr. Driscoll was eligible to receive an award equal to twice that of continuing Directors, proportionately equal to the previous grants of nonqualified stock options to new Directors. Under the terms of the award, $30,000 ($60,000 in the case of Mr. Driscoll) was credited to an account for each Director in common stock units, based on the price of the common stock on the date of the grant. These common stock units are then credited with amounts in common stock units equal in value to the dividends that are paid on the same amount of common stock. Upon separation from service as a Director, the common stock units held by the Director in the deferred account will be converted to cash based upon the then market price of the common stock and paid to the Director.

Other Benefits. Potlatch provides coverage for Directors under its Director and Officer Liability Insurance Policy and its Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance Policy, and Directors may, at their own expense, purchase coverage for their spouses under the Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance Policy. Directors are eligible to participate in the Potlatch Corporation Matching Gifts to Education Program, which matches contributions of up to $1,500 per year to eligible educational institutions, and for contributions made through June 30, 2005, Directors are also eligible to participate in the Potlatch Corporation Matching Gifts to Tsunami Relief Effort Program, which matches contributions of up to $1,500 to eligible relief organizations listed on the USA Freedom Corps web site. During 2004, no charitable donations were provided by Potlatch to organizations with which any Director was affiliated as an executive officer or director in excess of the amounts matched by Potlatch under these programs.

Stock Ownership Guidelines

In the interest of promoting and increasing equity ownership in Potlatch, in December 2003 the Board of Directors adopted stock ownership guidelines for the Directors. Under the guidelines, each Director must beneficially own at least 3,000 shares within five years of their election to the Board. A copy of the stock ownership guidelines are available by going to Potlatch's web site at www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance, then Board of Directors. Stock Ownership Guidelines for Potlatch senior management are discussed in the section titled, Executive Compensation and Personnel Policies Committee Report that appears in this proxy statement.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION AND PERSONNEL POLICIES

COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Responsibilities and Independence

The Executive Compensation and Personnel Policies Committee (the Committee) administers Potlatch's executive compensation and benefits programs, general personnel policies and practices, and the management succession plan. The Committee's Charter reflects these responsibilities, and the Committee and the Board of Directors regularly review and revise the Charter as necessary. You may download or print a copy of the Charter by going to Potlatch's web site at www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance, and then Executive Compensation and Personnel Policies Committee.

Each member of the Committee is independent of Potlatch as determined by the Board of Directors, based on the New York Stock Exchange listing standards and Potlatch's Director Independence Policy. You may download or print a copy of the Director Independence Policy by going to Potlatch's web site at www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance, and then Board of Directors.

Compensation Philosophy

Potlatch's philosophy is to set target compensation levels for employees at the median of the peer companies with which Potlatch compares itself, as described below, with such adjustments as management and the Committee deem necessary based upon the individual's performance and experience. This philosophy applies to all salaried employees, and those employees with higher levels of responsibility will have a higher proportion of their compensation at risk and have a larger proportion of their compensation in equity, for the purpose of more closely aligning their interests with those of Potlatch's stockholders. For those senior employees, their compensation package includes a mix of base salary and short- and long-term incentives, each of which is described in more detail in the following sections of this report.

The Committee from time to time reviews and revises Potlatch's compensation philosophy. The Committee last reviewed and reaffirmed Potlatch's compensation philosophy in 2004.

Compensation Practices

During 2004, the Committee retained Deloitte Consulting LLP, an independent compensation consulting firm, to conduct reviews of Potlatch's compensation programs and the competitiveness of the compensation components for senior employees, including base salary and short- and long-term incentives. As a result of these reviews, the Committee approved certain changes to Potlatch's incentive compensation programs, including, among other things, an expansion of the peer group used to measure relative performance for purposes of the short- and long-term incentive programs. We generally deem Potlatch's peer companies to be the 33 paper and forest products industry companies listed in the section titled, Performance Graph in this proxy statement, and general industry companies of similar size to Potlatch that operate in cyclical, commodity industries similar to the paper and forest products industry. The Committee includes general industry companies in its reviews because it believes that Potlatch competes for executive talent against a wider spectrum of companies than those in the paper and forest products industry.

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

In late 2004, at the Committee's request, the compensation consultant reviewed management's recommendations to the Committee for long-term incentive awards to Potlatch's senior employees in the form of performance shares and nonqualified stock options. In early 2005, at the Committee's request, the compensation consultant reviewed management's recommendations to the Committee for base salary merit increases for Potlatch's officer group, as well as management's recommendations for short-term incentive awards to be paid to senior employees under the Management Performance Award Plan for performance during the prior fiscal year. With respect to the base salary merit increase, awards and grants approved for the Chief Executive Officer, at the Committee's request the compensation consultant made recommendations directly to the Committee based upon its review of competitive data without influence or input from management. The Committee's specific methodology for consideration of each of these awards, grants and merit increases is described in greater detail in the following sections.

Compensation Components

The following sections describe the three components of Potlatch's compensation program: base salary and the short- and long-term incentive plans. Under the terms of the Committee's Charter, the Committee administers these programs, periodically reviews the competitiveness of each program relative to Potlatch's compensation philosophy, and makes any necessary adjustments with input from the compensation consultant and management, as needed. As described in more detail below, the Committee reviews individual base salary increases and any awards and grants made under the short- and long-term incentive plans for the officer group, and reviews any grants made under the long-term incentive plans for approximately 125 senior employees, as recommended by management and with input from the compensation consultant. In the case of the Chief Executive Officer, we consider his increases, awards and grants upon recommendation from the compensation consultant and after the Committee's annual evaluation of his performance relative to his annual performance plan.

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code generally disallows a tax deduction to public companies for annual compensation in excess of $1 million paid to the Chief Executive Officer and the other named executive officers. Potlatch may deduct compensation above $1 million, however, if it is performance-based compensation within the meaning of the Code. While the Committee considers the impact of this rule in developing and implementing Potlatch's compensation program, in order to preserve the Committee's flexibility, Potlatch has not adopted a policy that all compensation must qualify as deductible under Section 162(m). Potlatch's long-term incentive programs are intended to qualify as performance-based compensation. The Committee believes that amounts paid under Potlatch's Management Performance Award Plan are deductible because a participant must defer any payment that causes the participant's compensation to exceed $1 million. For more than the past five years, no executive officer has had compensation subject to Section 162(m).

Base Salary. Consistent with Potlatch's compensation philosophy, the Committee strives to provide base salaries at the median of Potlatch's peer companies, with such adjustments as management and the Committee deem necessary based upon the individual employee's performance and experience. The base salary ranges (minimum, midpoint and maximum) for all pay grades had been frozen for 2003 and 2004 following a review of competitive information, which indicated that the base salary midpoints were slightly above the median. Base salary ranges for 2005 will be increased by 2% based upon more recent competitive information.

At the Committee's request, during 2004 the compensation consultant conducted a review of the competitive level of the base salary ranges established for senior employees. This review consisted of analyzing job-specific compensation surveys that included the peer companies referenced in the section above titled, Compensation Practices. The consultant concluded that base salaries for Potlatch's officer group were slightly below the competitive median, and as a result, base salaries of certain individuals were increased in 2005 to near the median for their respective positions.

In addition, the consultant reviewed and confirmed management's proposed 3.2% guideline increase in base salaries applicable to all salaried employees in 2005 based upon similar competitive data. Individual base salaries may be further adjusted based upon the employee's performance relative to their performance plan. The performance plans contain operational, financial and customer-oriented objectives determined together with the employee's supervisor, and include behavior attributes expected of all employees.

Short-Term Incentives. Potlatch's Management Performance Award Plan provides the potential for annual incentive awards for approximately 125 senior employees that, if earned, are paid in cash. The plan is designed to create an incentive for our senior employees, including the Chief Executive Officer and the other named executive officers, who are in a position to contribute to and therefore influence Potlatch's performance on a return on equity (ROE) and a return on invested capital (ROIC) basis. Prior to 2004, any awards earned had been paid in a mix of cash and stock. Recipients can elect to defer awards earned into either Potlatch common stock units or an account bearing interest at the higher of either 70% of the prime rate or the corporate A bond rate.

Awards to eligible corporate employees are determined based upon Potlatch's ROE performance and are paid from the Corporate Performance Fund. Awards to eligible operating division employees, other than the four individuals who lead the operating divisions, consist of two components: their respective operating division's ROIC (which accounts for 70% of the award and is paid from the Operating Division Performance Fund), and Potlatch's ROE performance (which accounts for 30% of the award and is paid from the Corporate Performance Fund). In the case of the four operating division leaders, their awards similarly consist of two components and are weighted at 50% for Potlatch's ROE performance and 50% for their respective operating division's ROIC.

Under the terms of the plan as in effect through December 31, 2004, no awards could be paid from the Corporate Performance Fund to any employee if Potlatch did not achieve an ROE in excess of 5%. As Potlatch's 2004 ROE performance exceeded the 5% threshold, a modifier was calculated by dividing Potlatch's ROE by the average ROE of the 14 paper and forest products industry companies with whom Potlatch compared its performance for 2004. In 2004, Potlatch earned $271.2 million, or $9.19 per diluted share for an ROE of 57.6%, which was above the 14 company peer group's average ROE performance of 7.0%, and therefore the maximum modifier of 2.0 was applied in the calculation.

Also under the terms of the plan and subject to the Committee's discretion, no awards could be paid from the Operating Division Performance Fund to eligible operating division employees if the employees' respective operating division did not achieve an ROIC equal to or greater than 8%. Each year, the Committee approves an ROIC scale for each operating division based upon that division's operating budget for that year relative to that division's invested capital. At the end of the year, the ROIC is calculated and the result is compared to the Committee's pre-approved scale to determine a modifier, which may range from 0.1 (in the event of an ROIC of exactly 8.0%), up to a maximum modifier of 2.0. After taking into consideration the 2004 performance of each operating division, the Committee established the modifiers as follows: Resource Management Division, 1.0; Wood Products Division, 2.0; Pulp and Paperboard Division, 1.0. The Consumer Products Division did not achieve the 8.0% ROIC hurdle, therefore no award was paid to eligible employees in this division from the Operating Division Performance Fund.

Under the terms of the plan applicable to awards for 2004, the aggregate pool of the Corporate Performance Fund and the Operating Division Performance Funds from which any awards are paid may be capped at 4% of Potlatch's pre-tax income. Over the past ten years, no award has been paid to any employee under this plan that has exceeded 140% of that employee's base salary.

Upon the completion of the calculations for all eligible corporate and operating division employees as described in the preceding paragraphs, the Committee reserves the right under the plan to modify individual short-term incentive awards, or awards to all eligible employees as a group, based upon its discretion after considering individual performance, operating division performance, or Potlatch's performance. In addition to the quantitative plan measures described above, the Committee may also consider qualitative measures in determining awards, including safety performance, environmental performance, or other factors. After calculating the awards paid in March 2004 for performance in 2003, the Committee exercised its discretion to increase the awards paid by 20%, based upon Potlatch's financial performance, and Potlatch's ROE results relative to the peer group.

The Committee considered the ROE and ROIC results as outlined in the preceding paragraphs, among other factors, in approving $6,832,000 in short-term incentive awards paid in March 2005 for performance in 2004 to approximately 125 senior employees, including the Chief Executive Officer and the named executive officers.

In December 2004, the Committee approved certain changes to the Management Performance Award Plan applicable to its consideration of awards in connection with performance in 2005. As earlier noted, the Committee approved an expansion in the peer group to include all 33 paper and forest products industry companies listed in the Performance Graph of this proxy statement, and we eliminated the 5% ROE threshold for purposes of calculating the Corporate Performance Fund in favor of a comparison of Potlatch's ROE results relative to the 33 company peer group. The Committee also approved an increase in the cap on the pool from which awards are paid to 6% of Potlatch's pre-tax income, based upon our review of competitive data.

Long-Term Incentives. Through 2002, Potlatch's sole long-term incentive for senior employees was an annual grant of nonqualified stock options at fair market value. In 2003, upon review of the median level of long-term incentives awarded to senior employees of the companies in Potlatch's peer groups described in the section above titled, Compensation Practices, the Committee chose to replace a portion of the grant of nonqualified stock options to senior employees with performance shares to further reinforce the importance of the Company's long-term return to shareholders.

Under this revised program, in December 2003 and again in December 2004, the Committee granted long-term incentive awards to approximately 125 senior employees. The target value of these awards was the median award value for each pay grade based upon competitive data provided by the compensation consultant. The Committee then granted approximately 80 percent of the target value in performance shares and 20 percent in nonqualified stock options. The actual number of performance shares and nonqualified stock options granted to each senior employee was subject to an increase or decrease at the Committee's discretion based upon management's assessment of the individual employee's future potential performance and contributions to Potlatch.

The December 2003 and 2004 grants of performance shares and nonqualified stock options were granted in accordance with the terms of Potlatch's stockholder-approved 1995 and 2000 Stock Incentive Plans. The Stock Incentive Plans provide the opportunity for senior employees to benefit from the results of their efforts to increase shareholder value over the long term. The awards under the plans are intended to focus managerial efforts on enhancing stockholder value and to align the participants' interests with those of our stockholders.

The following describes how the value of the December 2, 2004, grants of stock options and performance shares were calculated.

Stock Option Value The stock options the Committee granted have no intrinsic value to employees unless the common stock price exceeds the option exercise price. The option exercise price was $50.75 per option share, which equaled the fair market value of Potlatch's common stock on the date of the grant. The Black-Scholes value on the date of the grant was $6.99 per option share, as described in the footnote to the table titled, Option/SAR Grants in Last Fiscal Year in this proxy statement. These options will vest in 50% increments on the first and second anniversaries of the date of the grant. Optionees may exercise their options using either cash or shares of Potlatch common stock.

Performance Share Value The performance shares the Committee granted have no value unless Potlatch's total shareholder return (stock price appreciation plus dividends) exceeds pre-determined levels relative to our 33 paper and forest products industry peer group over the three-year performance measurement period that began in late 2004. The peer group is listed in the section titled,

Performance Graph in this proxy statement. No award is earned if

Potlatch's total shareholder return is below the 34th percentile of our competitor's total shareholder return at the end of the three-year performance measurement period. The target number of shares is earned if Potlatch's performance is at the 56th percentile; the maximum number of shares is earned if Potlatch's performance is equal to or greater than the 97th percentile. The Committee reserves the right to reduce or eliminate any award that may become payable to an employee, or to all senior employees as a group, if we determine that the total stockholder return has been insufficient, or if the financial or operational performance of the Company has been inadequate. If awards are paid out at the end of the three-year performance measurement period, the recipients will receive dividend equivalents at the time of payment equal to the cash dividends that would have been paid on the shares earned had the recipient owned the shares during the three-year period. The award and the dividend equivalents are paid in the form of shares of common stock, and the shares and dividend equivalents have no voting rights unless and until they are paid at the end of the three-year performance period.

In October 2004, the Board of Directors approved, and Potlatch paid, a special dividend of $2.50 per common share to all stockholders of record as of the close of business on November 10, 2004 (the "Special Dividend"). Under the terms of the 1989, 1995 and 2000 Stock Incentive Plans, the Special Dividend constituted a recapitalization, requiring an adjustment to all options that had been awarded but not exercised by the record date to account for the effect of the Special Dividend on the price of Potlatch's common stock. The Committee, as plan administrator, approved the adjustment, which increased the number of shares subject to outstanding options by approximately 4.98% and decreased the exercise price of outstanding options by approximately 4.98%. The adjustment was made in accordance with APB No. 25 in order to maintain the same aggregate intrinsic value to all holders of Potlatch's outstanding stock options immediately before and after the Special Dividend was paid and was not implemented to provide any additional compensation to Potlatch's officers or directors.

At December 31, 2004, there was a maximum of 227,653 performance shares previously granted but not yet vested, and 1,307,815 nonqualified stock options outstanding. There were 313,007 shares available for future use under the 2000 Potlatch Corporation Stock Incentive Plan and no shares available under any prior plan. As noted in this proxy statement, Potlatch is seeking stockholder approval of a new equity compensation plan and authorization for an additional 1.6 million shares for purposes of future long-term incentive grants to Directors and employees. Details of the proposed plan can be found in the section of this proxy statement titled, "Proposal 3 - 2005 Stock Incentive Plan."

Officer Stock Ownership Guidelines

In the interest of promoting and increasing equity ownership of Potlatch shares by senior officers, in December 2003 the Board of Directors at the Committee's recommendation adopted stock ownership guidelines for the senior officers who serve on Potlatch's Management Committee. Under the guidelines, each senior officer is required to acquire within five years a specified number of shares as shown in the table below and during such period must meet increasingly higher interim ownership guidelines each year. Any shares of Potlatch common stock beneficially owned by the senior officer and held in a brokerage account or in Potlatch's 401(k) Savings Plan, or any common stock units owned that result from deferred awards paid under the short-term incentive program, count toward the ownership guidelines. Shares subject to nonqualified stock options and unearned performance shares do not count toward the ownership guidelines. In the event that the ownership guideline is not met in any of those years, all or a portion of any short-term incentive award paid under the Management Performance Award Plan will automatically be paid in stock, and any performance share award that is earned must be retained.

Personal Benefits

Potlatch seeks to maintain an egalitarian culture in its facilities and offices. Officers and senior employees are not entitled to operate under different standards than other Potlatch employees. Potlatch does not provide officers and senior employees with reserved parking spaces, country club memberships or separate dining facilities. Nor does Potlatch provide personal benefit perquisites to officers and senior employees such as the use of aircraft (Potlatch does not own or routinely lease aircraft) or defraying the cost of personal entertainment or family travel. Although Potlatch maintains a Supplemental Benefit Plan due to Internal Revenue Service limitations, we do not have a supplemental executive retirement program. Our health care and other medical insurance programs are the same for all salaried employees, including officers, with the exception that highly compensated employees pay a larger percentage of their insurance premiums than other employees. The loan program, provided as a feature of participation in Potlatch's 401(k) savings plans, is not available to executive officers. There are no outstanding loans of any kind to any executive officer, and since 2002, federal law has prohibited any new company loans to executive officers for any reason. We expect our officers and senior employees to be role models under Potlatch's Corporate Conduct and Ethics Code, which is applicable equally to the members of the Board of Directors and all employees, including officers.

2004 Compensation of the Chief Executive Officer and the Named Executive Officers

The 2004 compensation of Potlatch's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Siegel, and the named executive officers, Messrs. Kelly, Olson, Seamans and Zuehlke, consisted of three elements: base salary, a short-term incentive bonus award and a grant of performance shares and nonqualified stock options.

The Committee approved the compensation amounts, awards and grants to these individuals based upon a review and assessment of their performance relative to the objectives contained in their respective performance plans, Potlatch's financial performance as described in the section above titled, Short-term Incentive Plan, and, with the assistance of the compensation consultant, the Committee's review of competitive data for compensation paid to individuals in similar positions with Potlatch's peer companies, as described in the section above titled, Compensation Practices.

Chief Executive Officer. Based on our assessment of the factors described above, the Committee approved a 4.0% increase in Mr. Siegel's base salary in March 2004, to an annual rate of $620,100, which was approximately 6.0% below the median for chief executive officers among Potlatch's peer companies. Based on Potlatch's 2004 financial performance as described in the section above titled, 2004 Company Performance, the Committee approved a short-term incentive bonus award under the Management Performance Award Plan in March 2005 of $880,000. Mr. Siegel chose to defer receipt of this award in the form of Potlatch common stock units until after he retires from Potlatch. Based on our assessment of Mr. Siegel's performance and potential future performance and after a review of competitive data, in December 2004 we granted Mr. Siegel a target award of 11,100 performance shares and nonqualified options to purchase 19,200 shares of Potlatch common stock. In the case of each of the compensation components for Mr. Siegel approved by the Committee as outlined above, the Board of Directors ratified each decision. Mr. Siegel does not have an employment agreement with Potlatch.

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

The Committee has also reviewed all components of the Chief Executive Officer's compensation, including base salary, short-term incentive bonus awards and long-term incentive grants as described above, plus the cost to Potlatch of any other salaried employee benefits, the earnings and accumulated payout obligations for deferrals made under Potlatch's short-term incentive program and the projected payout obligations of Potlatch under several potential severance and change-in-control scenarios. Based on this review, the Committee finds that the Chief Executive Officer's total compensation (and in the case of the severance and the change-in-control scenarios, the potential payouts) in the aggregate to be reasonable and not excessive.

Named Executive Officers. Based on our assessment of the factors described above, and upon recommendations by the Chief Executive Officer that were reviewed by the compensation consultant, the Committee approved increases in base salaries for the named executive officers in March 2004, short-term incentive bonus awards under the Management Performance Award Plan in March 2005 and target awards of performance shares and nonqualified options to purchase shares of Potlatch common stock in December 2004. None of the named executive officers have an employment agreement with Potlatch.

(1) This column represents the base salary paid to the named executive officers in the years shown. Salary increases for merit, if granted, occur on March 1 except in those years in which a promotion occurs. The named executive officers received merit increases on March 15, 2003 and March 15, 2004. Messrs. Kelly and Olson received lump-sum payments of $8,550 and $8,530, respectively, on March 15, 2004 in lieu of merit increases. None of the named executive officers received a merit increase or a lump-sum payment in 2002 due to a salary freeze.

(2) This column represents short-term incentive bonuses awarded to the named executive officers in the years shown under the Management Performance Award Plan. The totals shown in 2004 for the named executive officers, except Mr. Siegel, were paid in cash. Mr. Siegel elected to defer receipt of his 2004 award until he retires from Potlatch. The totals shown in 2003 for the named executive officers, except Messrs. Siegel and Olson, were paid 50% in cash and 50% in common stock. For the 2003 award, Messrs. Siegel and Olson elected to defer receipt of their awards into common stock units until they retire from Potlatch. No short-term incentive bonuses were paid for 2002 under the Management Performance Award Plan because Potlatch's earnings did not meet the minimum requirements under the plan.

(3) In November 2004, Potlatch paid a special dividend of $2.50 per common share to all stockholders of record as of the close of business on November 10, 2004 (the Special Dividend). Under the terms of the 1989, 1995, and 2000 Stock Incentive Plans, the Special Dividend constituted a recapitalization, requiring an adjustment to all options that had been awarded but not exercised by the record date to account for the effect of the Special Dividend on the price of Potlatch's common stock. The adjustment was made in accordance with APB No. 25 in order to maintain the same aggregate intrinsic value to all holders of Potlatch's outstanding stock options immediately before and after the Special Dividend was paid. The adjustment increased the number of shares subject to outstanding options by approximately 4.98% and decreased the exercise price of outstanding options by approximately 4.98%. The numbers shown in this column reflect recapitalization adjustments made to account for the Special Dividend.

(4) This column represents matching contributions by Potlatch under the Salaried Employees' 401(k) Savings Plan. Mr. Olson's 2002 amount includes $2,558 as relocation costs, and Mr. Seamans' 2004, 2003 and 2002 amounts include $2,715, $13,186 and $19,000, respectively, as relocation costs.

The table below shows the stock options granted to the named executive officers during 2004.

Option/SAR Grants in Last Fiscal Year

Name	Individual Grants (1)					Grant Date Present Value (2)
	Number of Securities Underlying	% of Total			Exercise Price
		Options/SARs Granted To	Employees in	Expiration Date
	Options/SARs Granted	Fiscal Year	Per Share	Date
	L. Pendleton Siegel	19,200	16%	$ 50.75	12/2/2014		$ 134,208
	Richard K. Kelly	4,510	4%	50.75	12/2/2014		31,525
John R. Olson	4,305	4%	50.75	12/2/2014	30,092
Harry D. Seamans	4,510	4%	50.75	12/2/2014	31,525
Gerald L. Zuehlke	4,100	3%	50.75	12/2/2014	28,659

(1) These options were granted on December 2, 2004, and become exercisable for 50% of the shares on December 2, 2005, and for the remaining 50% on December 2, 2006. If a change in control of Potlatch occurs after June 2, 2005, all options become exercisable in full and would include stock appreciation rights.

(2) This amount was calculated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, a complex mathematical formula that uses different market-related factors shown below to estimate the value of stock options. The Black-Scholes model generates an estimate of the value of the right to purchase a share of stock at a fixed price over a fixed period. The actual value, if any, a named executive officer realizes will depend on whether the stock price at exercise is greater than the grant price, as well as the executive's continued employment through the two-year vesting period and the 10-year option term. The following assumptions were used to calculate the Black-Scholes value:

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

Stock fair market value at date of grant	= $50.75
Option exercise price	= $50.75
Option term	= 10 years
Risk-free rate of return	= 4.35%, based on 10-year U.S. Treasury Notes
Company stock volatility	= .2655, based on prior 3-year monthly stock price
Company dividend yield	= 6.11%
Calculated Black-Scholes Value	= $6.99 per option share

Under the Retirement Plan and the Supplemental Benefit Plan, remuneration includes: 1) base salary, and 2) bonus awards under the Management Performance Award Plan whether paid or deferred, and is set equal to the highest annual average of such amounts for any five-year period out of the last 10-year period prior to the termination of employment.

The plans recognize bonuses and incentives in the year paid. However, for participants required to retire no later than age 65, the plans calculate benefits as if the participant received a standard bonus award under the Management Performance Award Plan, even if the award was not paid. Benefits under the plans are computed as straight-life annuity amounts and are not subject to reduction by Social Security and other benefits.

The remuneration of the named executive officers (calculated as described in the paragraph immediately above) for the most recent year was: Mr. Siegel, $1,001,785; Mr. Kelly, $412,716; Mr. Olson, $411,585; Mr. Seamans, $349,870; and Mr. Zuehlke, $347,628. Although the calculated remuneration of the named executive officers includes a standard bonus award, none of the named executive officers received an award for 2002 under the Management Performance Award Plan because Potlatch's earnings did not meet the minimum requirements under the plan. The full years of credited service for the named executive officers as of March 1, 2004, were: Mr. Siegel, 25; Mr. Kelly, 29; Mr. Olson, 26; Mr. Seamans, 27; and Mr. Zuehlke, 32 years.

Severance Program for Executive Employees. Under the Severance Program for Executive Employees, participants who are terminated for reasons other than misconduct, who resign within two years after a material diminution in compensation, benefits, assigned duties, responsibilities, privileges or perquisites, or who resign rather than relocate at Potlatch's request can receive severance pay of up to 12 months' base salary and benefits for the same period under Potlatch's medical, dental, basic accidental death and dismemberment, and life insurance plans.

Participants who are terminated or resign under the circumstances described above after a change in control of Potlatch can receive severance pay of 2 1/2 to 3 times base salary, depending upon their present position with Potlatch, plus standard bonus. Participants can also receive benefits for 2 1/2 to 3 years under Potlatch's medical, dental, disability, basic accidental death and dismemberment, and life insurance plans, and the value of their unvested benefits, if any, in the Salaried Employees Savings Plan, Retirement Plan and Supplemental Benefit Plan. Potlatch will offset any Federal excise and related income taxes payable on all payments received by participants. All principal officers, vice presidents and certain other designated employees participate in the program.

Equity Compensation Plan Information

This table shows certain information as of December 31, 2004, with respect to Potlatch's equity compensation plans. As noted in this proxy statement, Potlatch is seeking stockholder approval of a new equity compensation plan, which if approved would provide for an additional 1.6 million shares for purposes of future long-term incentive grants to Directors and employees. Details of the proposed plan can be found in the section of this proxy statement titled, Proposal 3 2005 Stock Incentive Plan.

(2) Includes 227,653 performance shares granted in December 2003 and 2004, which amount includes the maximum number of shares that could be awarded under the grant, but does not include future dividend equivalents. AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors is composed of four outside (non-employee) Directors, all of whom meet the New York Stock Exchange listing standards for Director independence. The Audit Committee is an audit committee for purposes of Section 3(a)(58) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Committee is governed by a Charter that is annually reviewed by the Committee and the Board of Directors. A copy of the Audit Committee Charter is attached to this proxy statement as Appendix C.

The Committee is responsible for providing independent, objective oversight of Potlatch's accounting functions and internal controls. In performing its functions, the Committee acts only in an oversight capacity and necessarily relies on the work and assurances of management, which has the primary responsibility for financial statements and reports, and of the independent auditor, who, in its report, expresses an opinion on the conformity of the company's annual financial statements to generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. During fiscal year 2004, the Committee met eight times, including four in-person meetings.

In connection with the audit process, the Committee obtained from the independent auditor, KPMG LLP, a formal written statement describing the non-audit relationships between KPMG LLP and Potlatch consistent with Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1, Independence Discussions with Audit Committees, and the Committee discussed with KPMG LLP whether any relationships may affect KPMG LLP's independence. The Committee also discussed the quality and adequacy of Potlatch's internal controls with management, the internal auditor and the independent auditor. The Committee reviewed with the independent auditor and the internal auditor their respective audit plans, audit scope, and identification of audit risks, and with the internal auditor reviewed and discussed the results of the internal audit examinations.

The Committee reviewed and discussed the audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004, with management and with KPMG LLP outside the presence of management. The Committee also discussed with KPMG LLP the matters required to be discussed by the Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended, Communication with Audit Committees.

Based on these reviews and discussions with management, KPMG LLP and the internal auditor, the Committee recommended to the Board that Potlatch's audited consolidated financial statements be included in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004, for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Board approved this recommendation.

Fees Paid to Independent Auditor in 2004 and 2003

The Audit Committee has considered and determined that the services provided by KPMG LLP in fiscal year 2004 are compatible with the auditor's independence. The following table shows fees for professional services rendered by KPMG LLP for the audit of Potlatch's financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2004, and 2003 and fees billed for other services rendered by KPMG LLP during each of these years.

	Audit Fees (1)	Audit-Related Fees (2)	Tax Fees (3)	All Other Fees
2004	$ 1,258,500	$ 48,500	$	$
2003	628,950	89,958	3,750

- (1) Audit fees represent fees for the audit of Potlatch's annual financial statements, the audit of internal controls over financial reporting, the audit of 11-Ks and reviews of the quarterly financial statements. Substantially all of the increase in 2004 audit fees is related to the audit of internal controls over financial reporting
- (2) Audit-related fees represent fees for the audit of Potlatch's defined benefit plans and implementation assistance for Potlatch's assessment of internal controls over financial reporting.
- (3) Tax fees for 2003 represent fees for tax consultation services.

In connection with the sale of Potlatch's oriented strand board manufacturing facilities during 2004, fees for audit services in the amount of $455,000 were paid directly to KPMG LLP by the purchaser of such facilities, Ainsworth Lumber Co., Ltd. As the fees were not paid directly to KPMG LLP by Potlatch, the fees are not included in the table above.

All audit services, audit-related services and tax services for fiscal year 2004 were pre-approved by the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee Policy for Pre-approval of Independent Auditor Services and Fees provides for pre-approval of audit, audit-related, tax and other services specifically described by the Committee on an annual basis. A copy of the Policy can be found on Potlatch's web site by going to www.potlatchcorp.com, and clicking Corporate Governance, then Committee Composition, and then Audit Committee. Under the terms of the Policy, unless a type of service to be provided by the independent auditor has received general pre-approval, it will require specific pre-approval by the Audit Committee. In addition, any proposed services anticipated to exceed pre-approved cost levels must be separately approved. The policy authorizes the Audit Committee to delegate to one or more of its members pre-approval authority with respect to permitted services. The member or members to whom such authority has been delegated must report any pre-approval decisions to the Audit Committee at its next scheduled meeting.

Stockholder proposals

To be considered for inclusion in the proxy statement for Potlatch's 2006 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, stockholder proposals must be received at Potlatch's offices no later than November 30, 2005. All stockholder proposals must meet the requirements of Rule 14a-8 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Based solely on its review of copies of the reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and written representations of its Directors and executive officers, Potlatch believes all persons subject to reporting filed the required reports on time in 2004, with the exception of Richard K. Kelly who filed one late Form 4.

PROPOSAL 2 AMEND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION TO ELIMINATE TIME-PHASED VOTING

We recommend a vote FOR this proposal.

In January 2005, the Board of Directors unanimously adopted and declared advisable an amendment to Article Fourth of the Restated Certificate of Incorporation to eliminate Potlatch's time-phased voting structure. Under the time-phased voting structure, shares beneficially owned for 48 consecutive months and shares acquired under certain employee benefit plans and the dividend reinvestment plan are entitled to four votes per share on most matters considered by stockholders. Under the proposed amendment, each share would be entitled to one vote on all matters considered by stockholders.

Form of Amendment

The proposed amendment to Potlatch's Restated Certificate of Incorporation would amend Article Fourth, Section V Voting Rights, by amending paragraph (a) and deleting paragraphs (b) through (i). The full text of Article Fourth, Section V as revised by the proposed amendment, is set forth as Appendix D to this proxy statement.

Background of Proposal

Potlatch stockholders adopted time-phased voting in 1985, a time when short-term, speculative investors were employing hostile and coercive takeover tactics to acquire companies for the purpose of enriching themselves to the detriment of longer-term stockholders. At that time, the Board of Directors was concerned that these short-term, speculative investors were exercising undue influence in the governance of publicly-traded companies by causing companies to be overly concerned with short-term performance at the expense of long-term strategic interests. The time-phased voting structure was intended to cause persons seeking to acquire control of the Company to initiate arms-length negotiations with the Board of Directors, who would then be in a position to follow a course of action they believed to be in the best interests of all stockholders. During the 1980s, and since then, many companies have adopted defensive measures to protect the interests of stockholders against opportunistic corporate raiders. Most of these companies adopted measures such as stockholder rights plans and a few, like Potlatch, adopted time-phased voting structures. In December, 1985, Potlatch's stockholders adopted the current time-phased voting structure by 68% of the shares voted.

The Board remains committed to the long-term best interests of Potlatch and its stockholders, and it has periodically reviewed the merits of the time-phased voting structure. The Board recognizes that the time-phased voting structure has been subject to criticism by institutional stockholders and others as undemocratic. At last year's annual meeting of stockholders, a stockholder proposal to eliminate time-phased voting was opposed by the Board and was defeated by a margin of two votes to one (32% of the voting power voted in favor of the proposal and 61% voted to reject the proposal). Following that vote, the Board again considered the merits of time-phased voting. The Board's consideration included the views of institutional shareholders and the result of last year's vote on time-phase voting and other measures the Company currently has in place or could put in place, such as a stockholder rights plan, to protect the long-term interests of the Company and its stockholders.

As a result of the Board's review of the advantages and disadvantages of the time-phased voting structure, the Board has determined that from a governance perspective time-phased voting is no longer appropriate. The Board has concluded that the one share, one vote principle will better serve the stockholders by making stockholder decisions in the future more representative of the wishes of all holders of the Common Stock, in proportion to their ownership interest, rather than giving disproportionate influence to long-term holders. If the amendment is adopted, all holders of the Common Stock will have voting rights proportionate to their economic ownership of the Company.

Effects of the Amendment

Although the Board believes that adoption of the proposal is in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders, the Board recognizes that there will be disadvantages to stockholders who currently have four votes per share or who anticipate receiving four votes per share in the near future. If the proposal passes, those stockholders who have four votes per share will experience an immediate dilution of their voting power. This will reduce the ability of four-vote stockholders to influence the outcome of most matters submitted to a vote of stockholders, including the election of directors and the approval or disapproval of other matters submitted to a vote of stockholders, such as other amendments to Potlatch's Restated Certificate of Incorporation, mergers or other extraordinary transactions that may involve a change of control of the Company, or approval of other proposals of the board or stockholders. On the other hand, holders of one-vote shares will experience an increase in their relative voting power.

If the proposal is adopted, the Company may be more susceptible to a takeover bid than it might otherwise have been because less voting control will be vested in long-term holders of the Common Stock. However, the Board believes that the mechanisms already in place plus a stockholder rights plan can be utilized by the Board to protect the interests of the Company's stockholders consistent with the Board's fiduciary duties under Delaware law. The Board believes that these mechanisms are prudent for the purpose of protecting the interests of the stockholders.

If the proposal is adopted, there will be no effect on the form of the stock certificate held by each Stockholder of record, and no new stock certificates will be issued to reflect the change in voting power.

Intent to Adopt a Stockholder Rights Plan

As stated above, if the proposed amendment to the Restated Certificate of Incorporation is approved by stockholders, the Board intends to adopt a stockholder rights plan. Stockholder rights plans are designed to afford a company's board of directors a meaningful opportunity to negotiate with third parties and take other steps in response to unsolicited acquisition proposals and other tactics, including market accumulation programs, designed to interfere with the company's strategic business plans or to force a restructuring, liquidation or sale of the company that may not be in the best interests of the company, its stockholders and other constituents.

While the Potlatch Board has not yet approved the terms of any stockholder rights plan, these plans generally provide a board of directors with the ability to threaten an acquirer with substantial dilution of the acquirer's investment if the acquirer purchases a substantial number of the company's shares without board approval. Stockholder rights plans are implemented by the issuance of rights to all stockholders. These rights generally are not exercisable (and trade with the common stock) until a third party acquires more than a specified percentage of the company's outstanding common stock (e.g., 15%) without the approval of the board. When the rights become exercisable, however, they permit each holder, other than the third-party acquirer, the right to purchase common stock (or fractions of a share of a new series of preferred stock designed as a common stock equivalent) at half of then current market price, significantly raising the costs of the third party's acquisition and providing additional value to other stockholders. As a result, third parties are extremely unlikely to cross the specified stock ownership threshold without board approval and in this regard stockholder rights plans provide the board with valuable time in which to investigate the third party and its intentions, seek to negotiate acceptable terms on behalf of company stockholders and, if appropriate, explore alternative means to enhance stockholder value.

In reaching its conclusion to adopt a stockholder rights plan if Potlatch stockholders vote to approve the proposal to eliminate time-phased voting, the Board is mindful of critics of stockholders rights plans who assert, among other things, that such plans are used to repel takeover attempts and entrench management, adversely affecting stockholder value. The Board believes, however, based on its collective experience and the advice of outside experts, that a stockholder rights plan will protect the rights of stockholders for the reasons described above and because such a plan will not affect the Board's continuing fiduciary obligation to consider in good faith any proposal to acquire the company and to redeem the rights under appropriate circumstances.

The Board also considered provisions of Potlatch's Restated Certificate of Incorporation, By-laws and Delaware law that protect the rights of stockholders, including the following:

a classified board structure in which the Board of Directors is divided equally into three classes, with members of each class elected every third year;

the requirement that the directors may be removed only for cause;

the disallowance of stockholder action by written consent;

the requirement that the holders of 80% of the outstanding shares (on a one share, one vote basis) approve any dissolution or liquidation of the Company, or a merger or consolidation with, or the sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all or any substantial part of the assets, or the issuance or delivery of any voting securities to, any person or entity that owns or controls 5% or more of the Company's outstanding voting shares;

the authorization of blank-check preferred stock;

limitations on the ability of the stockholders to amend the By-laws of the Company;

the requirement that certain provisions of the Restated Certificate of Incorporation may only be amended, altered or repealed by holders of 80% of the shares (on a one share, one vote basis) entitled to vote in the election of directors, voting as a single class;

the requirement that the Board, when evaluating an offer to acquire the Company, consider all relevant factors, including the social, legal, environmental and economic effects, and give due regard to the consideration offered in relation to the current market price of the stock, the value of the Company in a freely negotiated transaction and the Board's estimate of the future value of the Company;

the limitation that special stockholder meetings may only be called by the chairman of the Board, a majority of the Board, or stockholders holding a majority of the outstanding voting power of the Company; and

Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law which, with certain exceptions, prohibits a corporation from engaging in any business combination with an interested stockholder for a period of three years after the date on which the stockholder became an interested stockholder.

Vote Required

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

Under Delaware law, the affirmative vote of the majority of the outstanding voting power is required for approval of the proposal. Votes withheld, abstentions or broker non-votes will have the same effect as votes cast against the proposal.

PROPOSAL 3 2005 STOCK INCENTIVE PLAN

We recommend a vote FOR this proposal.

The Board of Directors has unanimously approved and recommends to the shareholders the adoption of the Potlatch Corporation 2005 Stock Incentive Plan (the "2005 Plan"). The 2005 Plan provides for the award of stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units, performance shares and other share-based awards that may be granted from time to time, including stock awards under Potlatch's Management Performance Award Plan and stock awards in lieu of Directors' fees. The purpose of the 2005 Plan is to provide incentive to employees and Directors to use their judgment, initiative and efforts to ensure the successful conduct of Potlatch's business, encourage a proprietary interest in Potlatch, thereby aligning the interests of the employees and Directors with those of the Potlatch shareholders, and encourage employees and Directors to remain in the service of Potlatch.

The full text of the 2005 Plan appears as Appendix E to this proxy statement, to which reference is made for a full statement of its terms and provisions. The following is a summary of the principal features of the 2005 Plan and should be read together with the full 2005 Plan text.

Description of the 2005 Plan

Administration. With respect to awards granted to non-employee Directors, the 2005 Plan is administered by the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee of the Board of Directors; provided, that the full Board of Directors must approve any award granted to the members of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. With respect to awards granted to Potlatch employees, including the Chief Executive Officer and the named executive officers in this proxy statement, the 2005 Plan is administered by the Executive Compensation and Personnel Policies Committee of the Board of Directors. For purposes of this description of the 2005 Plan, the administering Committees shall be referred to as the Administrator. The members of both committees are independent, non-employee Directors. Each administrator has the authority to interpret and construe the 2005 Plan and determine:

who will be granted awards,
the number of shares of common stock or common stock equivalents that are subject to the awards,
the vesting of awards, the designation of stock options as nonqualified stock options or incentive stock options, and other conditions of awards granted to employees and Directors.

Participation. Participation in the 2005 Plan is limited to employees and Directors of Potlatch; however, we intend to limit participation, for the foreseeable future, to approximately 125 senior employees, including the Chief Executive Officer and the named executive officers shown in this proxy statement, and the nine non-employee Directors. Participation in the 2005 Plan does not necessarily limit an employee's participation in any other Potlatch incentive plan. Only employees of Potlatch are eligible to receive incentive stock options.

Types of Awards. Awards under the 2005 Plan may be in the form of incentive stock options, nonqualified stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units, performance shares and other share-based awards that may be granted from time to time, including stock awards under Potlatch's Management Performance Award Plan and stock awards in lieu of Directors' fees.

Shares Available for Awards. No more than 1,600,000 shares of common stock may be issued under the 2005 Plan (subject to capitalization adjustments as described below). In addition, as of January 1, 2005, there were 225,453 performance shares previously granted but not yet vested and 1,305,915 nonqualified stock options outstanding under the Potlatch Corporation 1989, 1995 and 2000 Stock

Table of Contents

Incentive Plans. All shares authorized under the 1989 and 1995 Stock Incentive Plans have been granted and 317,107 shares of common stock remain authorized for future use under the 2000 Stock Incentive Plan.

Limitations on Awards. No Director or employee, including the Chief Executive Officer and the named executive officers in this proxy statement, may receive in any one calendar year awards covering an aggregate of more than 250,000 shares of common stock or common stock equivalents (subject to capitalization adjustments as described below).

Stock Options. The Administrator may grant stock options designated as nonqualified stock options or as incentive stock options; however, we intend, for the foreseeable future, to grant only nonqualified stock options under the 2005 Plan. The key terms of stock options granted under the 2005 Plan are as follows:

Term: Maximum ten year term.

Exercise price: At least equal to 100% of the fair market value of the shares underlying the option on the date of grant.

Vesting: Administrator establishes the times at which, or the installments in which, the option will vest and become exercisable.

Consideration: Cash or the surrender of shares of common stock.

Employee's termination of employment due to retirement, disability, or death: The vested portion of the option will be exercisable until the end of its ten year term.

Employee's termination of employment due to misconduct: The option (vested and unvested) will terminate and cease to be exercisable immediately at the time of termination of employment.

Employee's termination for any other reason: The vested portion of the option will be exercisable for three months after termination of employment.

Director's termination of service after five years of service or due to death: The vested portion of the option will be exercisable until the end of its ten year term.

Director's termination of service for any other reason: The vested portion of the option will be exercisable for three months after termination of service.

Stock appreciation rights: Options granted under the 2005 Plan may include a stock appreciation right that may be exercised only following a change in control of Potlatch. Following a change in control, the employee or Director may surrender all or part of the option and exercise the stock appreciation right. If a stock appreciation right is exercised after a change in control, the participant will be entitled to receive an amount equal to the difference between the exercise price of the shares and the fair market value of the shares. The Administrator may determine whether the stock appreciation amount shall be paid in cash, stock or a combination thereof.

Restricted Stock, Restricted Stock Units and Performance Shares. The Administrator is authorized to make awards of restricted stock, restricted stock units, and performance shares on such terms and conditions and subject to such repurchase and forfeiture restrictions as the Administrator determines in its discretion, including the price (if any) to be paid for the shares or units and the performance objectives (if any) pursuant to which the awards will vest. Upon satisfaction of the terms and conditions of restricted stock units, the units will be paid in shares of common stock. Recipients of restricted stock units may elect to defer receipt of the shares beyond the vesting date by giving notice to Potlatch in a manner and within the time prescribed by the Administrator.

Other Share- Based Awards. The Administrator is authorized to grant other incentives payable in cash or in shares as it determines to be in the best interests of Potlatch, including stock appreciation rights and the issuance of shares to satisfy the payment of all or part of an award pursuant to the Potlatch's Management Performance Award Plan and shares in lieu of Directors fees.

Table of Contents

Performance Criteria. Awards made pursuant to the 2005 Plan may be made subject to the attainment of performance objectives, which may be specifically defined by the Administrator. The performance objectives may be expressed in terms of one or more of the following:

Total shareholder return	Earnings per share
Stock price	Return on equity
Net earnings	Related return ratios
Cash flow	Net earnings growth
Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA)	Return on assets
Increase in revenues	Increase in FFO per share
Increase in funds from operations (FFO)	Decrease in expenses

To the extent that the vesting or receipt of awards are subject to the attainment of the performance objectives listed above, it is intended that such awards may qualify as performance-based compensation under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). Code Section 162(m) limits at $1,000,000 the tax deduction that a public company can take with respect to compensation paid to the Chief Executive Officer and the other four highest paid officers. However, compensation that is performance-based compensation as defined in Code Section 162(m) will not count toward the $1,000,000 limit. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Administrator may use other performance objectives not listed above in determining the vesting schedule of any award and such awards are not intended to be performance-based compensation as defined in Code Section 162(m).

Capitalization Adjustments. In the event of any increase or decrease in the number of Potlatch's issued shares of common stock, a cash dividend that has a material effect on the price of Potlatch's common stock, a recapitalization, merger, consolidation or other change in the capitalization of Potlatch or similar corporate transaction or event affecting Potlatch's shares, the Administrator will, in such manner as it deems equitable, adjust the limitation of 1,600,000 shares that may be issued under the 2005 Plan and 250,000 share or share equivalent limitation on awards made to any individual in a calendar year.

Change in Control. In the event that a 2005 Plan participant's employment or service is involuntarily terminated without cause or voluntarily terminated with good reason within one month prior to or 24 months following a change in control (as defined in the 2005 Plan), all stock options granted at least six months prior to the change in control event will become fully vested and immediately exercisable. The Administrator also may accelerate the vesting of any restricted stock, restricted stock units, performance shares or other share-based awards in the event of a change in control. In addition, if any payments to a 2005 Plan participant are deemed excess parachute payments under Code Section 280G and such participant is subject to the excise tax imposed under Code Section 4999, Potlatch will pay to the participant an additional amount so that the total amount paid to the participant is equal to the payment to which the participant would have been entitled net of all applicable taxes except the excise tax.

Transferability. Awards granted under the 2005 Plan are nontransferable, except in the event of the participant's death.

Forfeiture. In the event that a 2005 Plan participant engages in misconduct (as defined in the 2005 Plan) prior to or during the twelve months following the exercise of any option or the vesting of any award, the Administrator may rescind the exercise of any option that was exercised twelve months prior to or within 24 months following the participant's termination of employment or service and cancel all of the participant's outstanding awards within 24 months after the participant's termination of employment or service and demand that the participant pay over to Potlatch the proceeds (less the purchase price) received by the participant upon the sale of the shares of common stock acquired upon the exercise of any option exercised within twelve months prior to 24 months following the participant's termination of employment or service or upon the vesting of any award within 24 months following the participant's termination of employment or service.

Repricing. Without the consent of the shareholders, except as provided in the 2005 Plan, the Administrator has no authority to reprice any options granted thereunder.

Amendment. The Administrator has the authority to amend outstanding awards, including the authority to accelerate the vesting of an award. The Board of Directors may amend, suspend or discontinue the 2005 Plan or any portion of the 2005 Plan at any time and in such respects as it shall deem advisable; however, without shareholder consent, the Board of Directors may not increase the number of shares available for issuance under the 2005 Plan, change the class of employees eligible to receive awards, decrease the exercise price of incentive stock options below 100% of fair market value, or amend the 2005 Plan to increase the Board of Director's authority to amend the 2005 Plan.

Term. The 2005 Plan will become effective on the date it is approved by the shareholders of the Company. The 2005 Plan terminates on December 1, 2014 unless sooner terminated by the Board of Directors.

Federal Income Tax Consequences

The following is only a brief summary of the effect of U.S. federal income taxation on the award recipients and Potlatch. This summary does not discuss the income tax laws of any other jurisdiction (such as municipality or state) in which the recipient of the award may reside.

Incentive Stock Options. No tax will be payable by the participant or Potlatch at the time of grant or exercise of an incentive stock option that satisfies the requirements of Code Section 422. The participant will recognize long term capital gain or loss on the sale or exchange of the shares acquired upon the exercise of the incentive stock option if the participant sells or exchanges the shares at least two years after the date grant and more than one year after the date of exercise. If the participant sells or exchanges the shares earlier than the expiration of these two holding periods, then the participant will recognize ordinary income equal to the lesser of the difference between the exercise price of the option and the fair market value of the shares on the date of exercise or the difference between the sales price and the exercise price. Any additional gain on the sale of the shares will be capital gain. Potlatch will be entitled to deduct the amount, if any, that the participant recognizes as ordinary income, subject to certain reporting requirements.

Nonqualified Stock Options and Stock Appreciation Rights. No tax will be payable by the participant or Potlatch at the time of grant of a nonqualified stock option or stock appreciation right settled in stock. Upon exercise of a nonqualified stock option or stock appreciation right, the excess, if any, of the fair market value of the shares with respect to which the award is exercised over the exercise price of the award will be treated for Federal tax purposes as ordinary income. Any profit or loss realized on the sale or exchange of the shares will be treated as a capital gain or loss. Potlatch will be entitled to deduct the amount, if any, by which the fair market value of the shares on the date of exercise exceeds the exercise price.

Restricted Stock. Generally, no taxes are due when the restricted stock award is initially granted and no deduction will be taken by Potlatch at that time. The fair market value of the shares subject to the award is taxable as ordinary income when it is no longer subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture (i.e., becomes vested or transferable). Income tax is paid by the participant on the value of the shares at ordinary rates when the restrictions lapse and Potlatch will be entitled to a corresponding deduction. Any profit or loss realized on the sale or exchange of the shares will be treated as a capital gain or loss.

Restricted Stock Units and Performance Shares. Generally, no taxes are due when the restricted stock units or performance shares are initially granted and no deduction is taken by Potlatch at that time. The fair market value of the shares subject to the award is taxable to the participant when the shares are paid to the participant subject to the design limitations and requirements of Code Section 409A. Potlatch will be entitled to deduct the amount, if any, that the participant recognizes as ordinary income.

Deferred Compensation. Subject to further guidance from the Internal Revenue Service, stock appreciation rights that are settled in cash and restricted stock units that may be deferred beyond the vesting date are deferred compensation and subject to design limitations and requirements of Code Section 409A. If the limitations and requirements of Code Section 409A are violated, deferred amounts will be subject to tax at ordinary income rates immediately upon such violation and will be subject to penalties equal to (i) 20% of the amount deferred and (ii) interest at a specified rate on the under-payment of tax that would have occurred had the deferred compensation been included in gross income in the taxable year in which it was first deferred.

New Plan Benefits

Because future awards and payments under the 2005 Plan are discretionary, it is not possible to determine the payments that will be received under the 2005 Plan by executive officers and other employees until completion of the year. The table below shows the benefits that were awarded in the 2004 fiscal year under our current 2000 Stock Incentive Plan for: all of the executive officers as a group; non-executive directors as a group; and all other employees of Potlatch. The benefits that were awarded in 2004 to each of the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table of this proxy statement, including nonqualified stock options and performance shares, are outlined in the tables titled, Option/SAR Grants in Last Fiscal Year, and Long-Term Incentive Plans Awards in Last Fiscal Year, respectively, and the footnotes thereto.

Name	Dollar Value	Number of Units
Executive Officer Group	$ 281,173	40,225
Non-Executive Director Group
Non-Executive Officer Employee Group	577,094	82,560

The affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power present or represented by proxy and entitled to vote is required for approval of the 2005 Stock Incentive Plan.

PROPOSAL 4 RATIFICATION OF THE APPOINTMENT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITOR

We recommend a vote FOR this proposal.

KPMG LLP, a registered public accounting firm, presently serves as Potlatch's independent auditor and conducted the audit of Potlatch's consolidated financial statements and internal controls over financial reporting for fiscal year 2004. A summary of the fees paid by Potlatch to KPMG LLP in connection with its audits for fiscal years 2004 and 2003 can be found in the section titled, "Fees Paid to Independent Auditor in 2004 and 2003" in this proxy statement.

Based upon its review of KPMG LLP's qualifications, independence and performance, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors has appointed KPMG LLP to serve as Potlatch's independent auditor for fiscal year 2005.

The appointment of Potlatch's independent auditor is not required to be submitted for ratification by the stockholders. The listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange provide that the Audit Committee is solely responsible for the appointment, compensation, evaluation and oversight of the independent auditor. However, as a matter of good corporate governance, the Audit Committee is submitting its appointment of KPMG LLP as independent auditor for fiscal year 2005 for ratification by the stockholders.

If the stockholders fail to ratify the appointment of KPMG LLP, the Audit Committee may reconsider whether to retain KPMG LLP, and may continue to retain that firm or appoint another firm without resubmitting the matter to the stockholders. Even if the stockholders ratify the appointment of KPMG LLP, the Audit Committee may, in its discretion, appoint a different independent auditor for Potlatch if it determines that such a change would be in the best interests of Potlatch and its stockholders.

The affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power present or represented by proxy and entitled to vote is required to ratify the appointment of the independent auditor.

PROPOSAL 5 STOCKHOLDER PROPOSAL

We recommend a vote AGAINST this proposal.

We have been notified that John Osborn, 2421 W. Mission Avenue, Spokane, WA 99201, who is the owner of 100 shares of common stock, intends to present the following proposal at the Annual Meeting:

Resolved: That Shareholders urge the board to prepare a report that explains past and current dividend policy, and alternative plans for future dividends. This report should address the substantial ownership of Potlatch shares by members of the extended Weyerhaeuser family.

Stockholder s Supporting Statement

The proud history of many important companies begins with a small enterprise sustained when parent hands the reigns to a second generation. Such enterprises may grow with financing from creditors who will insist on repayment while not necessarily restricting a family company s family interests. But it is convention that when companies tap the public market and sell equity securities, the company management demonstrates that the public investors will be served exclusive of family concerns.

Potlatch descends from the efforts of 19th century legend Frederick Weyerhaeuser. Potlatch remains readily identified with the Weyerhaeuser family. Descendants of the Weyerhaeuser family control a significant share of the equity, serve on its board, and have worked in staff positions in the past decades.

Potlatch s dividend policy deserves attention. Despite losses, it has continued to pay a dividend. Even when it has earned money, its dividend has occasionally exceeded earnings.

Our company s extravagant dividends bleed our company of capital needed for Potlatch corporate health. Potlatch has failed to significantly invest or plan investment in its production base from capital gained by selling its Minnesota OSB division. Potlatch chose, instead, to distribute $75 million to shareholders.

For example, our company s wastewater from its Lewiston, Idaho, industrial complex flows in a pipe that empties at the Idaho-Washington state line, polluting waters in both Idaho and Washington state. Complying with an EPA wastewater discharge permit to protect the Snake River will be costly. Monies paid out in dividends are not available to our company for its environmental responsibilities and investment opportunities.

Studies show that vigilance is needed. Founding families are in unique positions of power and control that enable them to expropriate wealth from minority shareholders. The prevalence of such ownership among US firms raises the question: who monitors the family, if anyone? (See Who Monitors the Families, by Ronald Anderson and David Reeb, Culverhouse College; <http://www.cba.ua.edu/~dreeb/Who%20Monitors.pdg.pdf>)

I believe that all shareholders, both minority shareholders as well as the extended Weyerhaeuser family, will be well-served by having such a study completed. Indeed, any study of alternatives should take into account the interests of all shareholders.

Board of Directors Statement Opposing Stockholder Proposal

We oppose this proposal, which requests that the Board of Directors prepare a report on Potlatch's dividend policy and simultaneously address the beneficial ownership of Potlatch stock by particular stockholders. We oppose this proposal on the grounds that the information that would be contained in the requested report is regularly disclosed in Potlatch's public filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and as a result implementation of the proposal would not be helpful or meaningful to stockholders.

The Board of Directors annually reviews and approves the dividend policy. As stated in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for 2004, we consider a variety of factors in determining whether to pay a dividend and the dividend rate, including, among other things, conditions in the forest products industry and the economy generally, Potlatch's operating results and cash flows, anticipated capital expenditures and compliance with the terms of the credit facility that limits the payment of dividends on Potlatch's common stock. The quarterly dividend rate is subject to change from time to time based on our business judgment with respect to these and other relevant factors. For example, in August 2001 the Board reduced the dividend in light of the above factors. The Board does not consider the interests of any particular stockholders when determining whether or not or at what rate to set a dividend, rather we make our decisions taking into account the best interests of Potlatch and all stockholders. We believe that our decisions in regard to the dividend have been sound and have equally served the interests of all stockholders.

For these reasons, we therefore recommend voting AGAINST the proposal.

Appendix A

POTLATCH CORPORATION

Stockholder Time-Phased Voting Procedures

Under Potlatch Corporation's Restated Certificate of Incorporation (the Restated Certificate), holders of Potlatch's common stock are entitled to either four (4) votes or one (1) vote per share as follows: (i) a holder of the common stock shall be entitled to four (4) votes on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of stockholders for each share of the common stock held of record by such holder as of the record date for such meeting which share has had the same beneficial owner or owners for at least 48 consecutive calendar months (dating from the first day of the first full month on or after the date the holder acquired beneficial ownership of such share) prior to the record date for such meeting; and (ii) a holder of the common stock shall be entitled to one (1) vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of stockholders for each share of the common stock which does not satisfy the condition in clause (i). These rules are subject to the following exceptions which are set forth in the Restated Certificate:

- n Any share of common stock acquired as a direct result of a stock split, stock dividend, reclassification or other distribution of shares by Potlatch with respect to existing shares will be deemed to have been beneficially acquired on the date that the original shares, with respect to which the new shares were issued, were acquired.
- n Shares acquired pursuant to the terms of certain Potlatch employee benefit plans or Potlatch's dividend reinvestment plan are entitled to four (4) votes per share.
- n No change in beneficial ownership will be deemed to occur as a result of Exempt Transfers (as defined in the Restated Certificate) which generally include transfers by gift, devise, bequest or otherwise through the laws of inheritance or descent; transfers to a trust beneficiary under the terms of a trust; transfers that may occur as a result of certain family events; or certain changes related to shares held in trust or in guardianship or custodial arrangements.

For more details on these exceptions, stockholders should consult Section V of Article Fourth of the Restated Certificate which is available on Potlatch's website at www.potlatchcorp.com.

The Restated Certificate provides the following two presumptions with respect to the period of beneficial ownership:

- a. Any share of the common stock held of record (other than as described in subparagraph b. below) shall be presumed to be owned beneficially by the record holder and for the period shown by the stockholder records of Potlatch (Registered Shares).
- b. Any share of the common stock held of record in street or nominee name or by a broker, clearing agency, voting trustee, bank, trust company or other nominee shall be presumed to have had the same beneficial owner for a period of less than 48 months (Street Name Shares).

Edgar Filing: POTLATCH CORP - Form DEF 14A

Pursuant to Section V.(g) of Article Fourth of the Restated Certificate, the Board of Directors has adopted the following procedures to determine the beneficial ownership and to establish the number of votes that each Potlatch stockholder will be entitled to cast at a meeting of stockholders:

1. Procedures applicable to Registered Shares

- a. The proxy card mailed to each holder of Registered Shares with respect to any meeting of stockholders will set forth the number of votes per share that the holder is entitled to vote applying the presumption applicable to Registered Shares and ask the holder to indicate if the presumption is incorrect. If the presumption that a holder is entitled to one (1) vote is incorrect, the holder shall certify the number of Registered Shares that should be entitled to four (4) votes per share because such Registered Shares have had the same beneficial owner or owners for at least 48 consecutive calendar months prior to the record date for such meeting.

- b. If a holder of Registered Shares provides the certification described in 1.a. with respect to certain shares and Potlatch does not require the holder to provide evidence pursuant to 1.c., then the presumption applicable to those Registered Shares will be deemed to be rebutted and they will be entitled to four (4) votes per share.
 - c. Notwithstanding 1.b., Potlatch may at any time, in order to verify the integrity of the vote on any matter submitted to the stockholders, require that a particular holder provide additional evidence to support the holder's certification that such holder has been the beneficial owner of specified Registered Shares for a period sufficient to entitle such holder to four (4) votes per share, and if the holder fails to produce evidence reasonably satisfactory to Potlatch in its sole discretion then the holder shall be entitled to one (1) vote per share.
2. Procedures applicable to Street Name Shares
- a. The voting instruction form mailed to each beneficial holder of Street Name Shares with respect to any meeting of stockholders will provide the beneficial holder with an opportunity to certify the number of Street Name Shares that should be entitled to four (4) votes per share because such Street Name Shares have had the same beneficial owner or owners for at least 48 consecutive calendar months prior to the record date for such meeting.
 - b. If a beneficial holder of Street Name Shares provides the certification described in 2.a. with respect to certain shares and Potlatch does not require the beneficial holder to provide evidence pursuant to 2.c., then the presumption applicable to Street Name Shares will be deemed to be rebutted with respect to those shares and they will be entitled to four (4) votes per share.
 - c. Notwithstanding 2.b., Potlatch may at any time, in order to verify the integrity of the vote on any matter submitted to the stockholders, require that a particular beneficial holder provide evidence, in addition to the certification contained in the voting instruction form, to support the rebuttal of the presumption applicable to Street Name Shares, and if the beneficial holder fails to produce evidence reasonably satisfactory to Potlatch in its sole discretion, then the presumption will apply.
 - d. A broker, clearing agency, voting trustee, bank, trust company or other nominee will not be entitled to rebut the presumption applicable to Street Name Shares absent a voting instruction form validly executed and certified by the beneficial owner to the effect that the beneficial owner has beneficially owned such Street Name Shares for the period entitling such holder to four (4) votes per share.
3. Generally applicable procedures
- a. If Potlatch requests additional evidence of beneficial ownership, acceptable evidence will in most cases be a written certification of the facts, together with any appropriate corroborating documentation, which form the basis for the holder's conclusion that the holder is entitled to four (4) votes per share.

- b. Potlatch reserves the right to change what it deems to be acceptable evidence of beneficial ownership at any time if it appears from experience that the present standard is inadequate.

- c. A holder of shares of common stock as of the record date for a stockholder meeting who acquired beneficial ownership of shares on more than one date and who has transferred beneficial ownership of shares prior to such record date, shall be entitled to take the position that the shares so transferred were those most recently acquired, except where the shares for which beneficial ownership was transferred can be traced to a specific acquisition date.

- d. The Board of Directors designates Potlatch's transfer agent to act for it in determining changes in beneficial ownership, or the absence of any such change, in accordance with the foregoing procedures, reserving to itself the power, should it wish to exercise the same, to review any determination made by the transfer agent, the Board's determination as the result of any such review to be conclusive.
