PRELIMINARY SUBJECT TO COMPLETION, DATED JUNE 19, 2015

FBC BANCSHARES, INC.

PROPOSED MERGER YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

Dear Shareholder:

You are cordially invited to attend the special meeting of shareholders of FBC Bancshares, Inc., referred to as FBC, to be held on July 23, 2015 at 1:00 p.m. at FBC's office located at 1800 West White Oak Terrace, Conroe, Texas 77304. At this important special meeting, you will be asked to approve the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, dated April 1, 2015 (the "reorganization agreement"), by and between First Financial Bankshares, Inc., referred to as First Financial, and FBC, which provides for the acquisition of FBC by First Financial. The acquisition of FBC by First Financial will be completed by means of a merger of FBC Acquisition Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial, with and into FBC, on the terms and subject to the conditions contained in the reorganization agreement. You may also be asked to adjourn or postpone the meeting to a later date or dates, if the board of directors of FBC determines it is necessary.

If the merger is completed, all outstanding shares of FBC common stock will be converted, pursuant to the reorganization agreement, into the right to receive a total number of shares of First Financial common stock with an expected aggregate value of approximately $59 million, subject to adjustment between a range of $57 million to $61 million of aggregate consideration based on the average price per share of First Financial's common stock during the measurement period set forth in the reorganization agreement. Additionally, the aggregate consideration will be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis in the event that FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity, as calculated under the reorganization agreement, is less than $14,705,000 at closing. At the time of the shareholders meeting, FBC shareholders will not know the exact number of shares or the value of the First Financial common stock that will be issued in connection with the merger. Based on the closing price of First Financial common stock on June 17, 2015, shareholders of FBC would receive an aggregate number of shares of First Financial common stock equal to approximately 2.8% of the issued and outstanding shares of First Financial common stock after completion of the merger. First Financial's common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol "FFIN."

The board of directors of FBC has determined that the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the merger, are fair to and in the best interests of FBC and its shareholders, and approved and declared advisable the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the merger. The FBC board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement.

It is intended that the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement will be treated as reorganization for federal income tax purposes under Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

We cannot complete the merger unless we obtain the necessary governmental approvals and the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of FBC common stock approve the reorganization agreement.

Your vote is very important. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please take the time to vote by completing and mailing the enclosed proxy card to FBC. Submitting a proxy now will not prevent you from being able to vote in person at the special meeting. If you sign, date and mail your proxy card without indicating your vote, your proxy will be counted as a vote FOR the proposal to adopt and approve the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. If you do not return your proxy card, abstain from voting or do not instruct your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee how to vote any shares held for you in street name, the effect will be a vote AGAINST such proposal.

This document contains a more complete description of the special meeting, the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein, including the merger. We urge you to review this entire document carefully. You may also obtain information about First Financial from documents that First Financial has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, referred to as the SEC.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE SPECIAL MEETING

Q: What are FBC Bancshares, Inc.'s shareholders being asked to vote upon?

A: The shareholders of FBC Bancshares, Inc., or FBC, are being asked to consider and vote on the following matters:

1. the approval of the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, dated April 1, 2015, by and between First Financial Bankshares, Inc., or First Financial, and FBC, pursuant to which FBC Acquisition Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial, will merge with and into FBC, with FBC surviving the merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial, all on and subject to the terms and conditions contained therein, which transaction is referred to as the merger; and
2. any proposal to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if the board of directors of FBC determines such an adjournment is necessary to permit further solicitation of additional proxies.

As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, FBC's board of directors is not aware of any matters, other than those stated above, that may be brought before the special meeting.

Q: What will happen in the merger?

A: In the merger, FBC Acquisition Corp., a wholly-owned, transitory subsidiary of First Financial will merge with and into FBC, with FBC surviving the merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial. Following the merger, First Financial will cause (i) FBC to merge with and into First Financial, with First Financial as the surviving entity and FBC ceasing its separate corporate existence and (ii) First Bank, N.A., referred to as First Bank, to merge with and into First Financial Bank, N.A., referred to as First Financial Bank, with First Financial Bank as the surviving bank and First Bank, ceasing its separate corporate existence, which transaction is referred to as the bank merger. As a result of the bank merger, the existing main office and branches of First Bank will become branches of First Financial Bank.

Q: Why am I receiving this proxy statement/prospectus?

A: FBC is sending these materials to its shareholders to help them decide how to vote their shares of FBC common stock with respect to the reorganization agreement and other matters to be considered at the special meeting. The merger cannot be completed unless FBC common shareholders approve the reorganization agreement. FBC is holding a special meeting of its shareholders to vote on the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement as well as other related matters. Information about this special meeting, the merger and the other business to be considered by shareholders at the special meeting is contained in this document.

This document constitutes both a proxy statement of FBC and a prospectus of First Financial. It is a proxy statement because the FBC board of directors is soliciting proxies from FBC common shareholders using this document with respect to the matters to be considered at the special meeting. It is a prospectus because First Financial, in connection with the merger, is offering shares of its common stock in exchange for outstanding shares of FBC common stock in the merger.

Q: What form of consideration will FBC shareholders receive as a result of the merger?

A: If the reorganization agreement is approved by the shareholders of FBC and the merger is subsequently completed, all outstanding shares of FBC common stock will be converted into the right to receive anticipated aggregate merger consideration of approximately $59.0 million payable in shares of First Financial common stock. The number of shares of First Financial common stock deliverable for each share of FBC common stock will be determined based on the average daily closing price of First Financial's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for each of the twenty consecutive trading days ending on the fifth business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger.

Table of Contents

The number of shares to be issued by First Financial will fluctuate based on the average price per share of First Financial's common stock. The aggregate merger consideration will also range from $57.0 million to $61.0 million based on the average price per share of First Financial's common stock. For illustration purposes only and disregarding certain adjustments described in the reorganization agreement, based on First Financial's closing stock price of $32.62 on June 17, 2015 and assuming that 884,600 shares of FBC common stock are outstanding at the effective time of the merger, FBC stockholders would have received 2.1 shares of First Financial common stock for each share of FBC common stock, which would have provided FBC stockholders with aggregate ownership, on a pro forma basis, of approximately 2.8% of the common stock of First Financial following the merger.

In addition, the merger consideration will be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis in the event that FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity as of the close of business on the business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger, after certain adjustments prescribed by the reorganization agreement have been made, is less than $14,705,000. To the extent that FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity exceeds $14,705,000, FBC may dividend the excess amount to its shareholders prior to closing.

The actual merger consideration is subject to adjustment and may be higher or lower than the consideration described in the examples above. Because the per share merger consideration will be determined based upon the twenty-day average price of First Financial's common stock and the adjusted consolidated shareholders equity of FBC, the amount of consideration you will receive will not be known at the time you vote on the reorganization agreement. Accordingly, you should read this proxy statement/prospectus carefully to understand the value of the consideration you will receive in the merger. For an explanation of how the merger consideration will be calculated, please see Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Terms of Merger, beginning on page 23.

Q: What are the expected U.S. federal income tax consequences to a holder of FBC common stock as a result of the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement?

A: First Financial and FBC intend that the merger will qualify for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). If the merger qualifies as a reorganization, then, in general, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, no gain or loss will be recognized by First Financial or FBC as a result of the merger. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to a holder of FBC common stock will depend, generally, on whether the holder exchanges his or her FBC common stock solely for First Financial common stock or for a combination of First Financial common stock and cash. A holder of FBC common stock who exchanges the holder's FBC common stock solely for First Financial common stock should not recognize a gain or loss except with respect to the cash received in lieu of a fractional share of First Financial common stock. A holder who exchanges FBC common stock for a combination of First Financial common stock and cash should recognize gain (but not loss) in the exchange equal to the lesser of the cash received (excluding cash received for a fractional share of First Financial common stock) and the amount, if any, by which the cash plus the fair market value of First Financial common stock received exceeds the holder's adjusted tax basis of the FBC common stock surrendered in exchange therefor.

For further information, please see to Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger. The U.S. federal income tax consequences described above may not apply to all holders of FBC common stock. Your tax consequences will depend on your individual situation. Accordingly, we strongly urge you to consult your tax advisor for a full understanding of the particular tax consequences of the merger to you.

Q: When do you expect the merger to be completed?

A: We are working to complete the merger during July 2015, although delays could occur.

Table of Contents

Q: When and where will the FBC shareholders meeting be held?

A: The FBC shareholders meeting is scheduled to take place at 1:00 p.m., local time, on July 23, 2015 at FBC's office located at 1800 West White Oak Terrace, Conroe, Texas 77304.

Q: What are my choices when voting?

A: With respect to each of the proposals, you may vote for the proposal, against the proposal or abstain from voting on the proposal. An abstention will count as a vote against approval of the reorganization agreement.

Q: What votes are required for approval the reorganization agreement?

A: Approval by FBC shareholders of the reorganization agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the shares of FBC common stock outstanding on June 19, 2015.

Q: What votes are required to adjourn or postpone the special meeting?

A: To adjourn or postpone the special meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of FBC common stock present, in person or by proxy, at the meeting is required.

Q: How does the board of directors of FBC recommend that I vote?

A: The board of directors of FBC unanimously recommends that the shareholders vote their shares as follows:
Proposal 1 FOR the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement; and Proposal 2 FOR any proposal to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if the board of directors of FBC determines such an adjournment is necessary to permit further solicitation of additional proxies.

Q: What happens if I transfer my shares after the record date for the special meeting?

A: The record date for the special meeting is earlier than the expected date of completion of the merger. Therefore, if you transfer your shares of FBC common stock after the applicable record date, but prior to the completion of the merger, you will retain the right to vote at the special meeting, but the right to receive the merger consideration will transfer with your shares of FBC common stock.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: After you have thoroughly read and considered the information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus, indicate on the proxy card applicable to your FBC common stock your vote and sign, date and mail your proxy card(s) in the enclosed pre-addressed postage-paid envelope as soon as possible so that your shares of FBC common stock may be represented at the special meeting.

Q: What happens if I don't return a proxy card for the special meeting?

A: Because approval of the reorganization agreement requires the affirmative approval of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of FBC common stock, the failure to return your proxy card will have the same effect as a vote against the reorganization agreement, unless you attend the special meeting in person and vote for approval of the reorganization agreement.

Q: May I vote in person?

A: Yes. Even if you have previously completed and returned your proxy card, you may vote your shares in person by attending the special meeting, revoking your previously submitted proxy prior to the start of the special meeting and voting your shares in person.

Q: May I change my vote after I have submitted my proxy card?

A: Yes. You may change your vote at any time before the special meeting is called to order by attending the special meeting, revoking your proxy and voting your shares in person or by submitting a new proxy card. If you choose to revoke your proxy and submit a new proxy card, FBC must have received the subsequent proxy card no later than July 22, 2015, at 5:00 p.m. local time, which is the business day immediately prior to the special meeting.

Q: If my shares are held in street name by my brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee, will my brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee vote my shares for me?

A: Your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee will vote your shares only if you provide instructions on how to vote. You should instruct your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee how to vote your shares, following the directions your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee provides. If you do not provide instructions to your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee, your shares will not be voted, which will have the same effect as a vote against the reorganization agreement.

Q: Do I have any rights to dissent from the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement?

A: You have the right to vote against approval of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement, dissent from the merger and seek payment of the appraised fair value of your shares in cash as described in Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Dissenters Rights of FBC Shareholders beginning on page 50. The appraised fair value of your shares of FBC common stock may be more or less than the value of the First Financial common stock and cash, if any, to be paid pursuant to the terms of the reorganization agreement.

Q: Should I send in my stock certificates now?

A: No. After the merger is completed, the exchange agent, Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company, will send you written instructions for exchanging your stock certificates. You should not send your FBC stock certificates with your proxy card.

Q: Who can help answer my questions?

A: If you have additional questions about the merger, you should contact H. J. Shands, III, FBC Bancshares, Inc., 1800 West White Oak Terrace, Conroe, Texas 77304, telephone (936) 760-1888.

Q: Are there any risks I should consider in deciding whether I vote for the reorganization agreement?

A: Yes. A number of risk factors that you should consider carefully are set forth under the heading of Risk Factors, beginning on page 16.

Proposed Merger

The reorganization agreement is the legal document that governs the merger. We have attached the reorganization agreement to this document as Appendix A. Please read the entire reorganization agreement.

Table of Contents

Pursuant to the reorganization agreement, First Financial will acquire FBC and its wholly-owned subsidiary, First Bank, through the merger of FBC Acquisition Corp., a wholly-owned, transitory subsidiary of First Financial, with and into FBC, with FBC surviving the merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial. We expect to complete the merger during July 2015, although delays could occur.

Terms of the Merger (page 23)

The reorganization agreement provides for the acquisition of FBC and its wholly-owned subsidiary, First Bank, by First Financial. Subject to the receipt of various governmental and third party approvals and the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the reorganization agreement, we anticipate that the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement will be completed in the July 2015, although delays could occur.

If the merger is completed, all outstanding shares of FBC common stock will be converted into the right to receive anticipated aggregate merger consideration of approximately $59.0 million payable in shares of First Financial common stock. The number of shares of First Financial common stock deliverable for each share of FBC common stock will be determined based on the average daily closing price of First Financial's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for each of the twenty consecutive trading days ending on the fifth business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger.

The number of shares to be issued by First Financial will fluctuate based on the average price per share of First Financial's common stock. The aggregate merger consideration will also range from $57.0 million to $61.0 million based on the average price per share of First Financial's common stock. For illustration purposes only and disregarding certain adjustments described in the reorganization agreement, based on First Financial's closing stock price of $32.62 on June 17, 2015 and assuming that 884,600 shares of FBC common stock are outstanding at the effective time of the merger, FBC stockholders would have received 2.1 shares of First Financial common stock for each share of FBC common stock, which would have provided FBC stockholders with aggregate ownership, on a pro forma basis, of approximately 2.8% of the common stock of First Financial following the merger.

In addition, the merger consideration will be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis in the event that FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity as of the close of business on the business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger, after certain adjustments prescribed by the reorganization agreement have been made, is less than $14,705,000. To the extent that FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity exceeds $14,705,000, FBC may dividend the excess amount to its shareholders prior to closing.

First Financial has also agreed to redeem all of FBC's Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 within three business days of the closing date of the merger. FBC's Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 had an aggregate outstanding principal balance of $13,125,000 as of April 1, 2015.

The actual merger consideration is subject to adjustment and may be higher or lower than the consideration described in the examples above. Because the per share merger consideration will be determined based upon the twenty-day average price of First Financial's common stock and the adjusted consolidated shareholders equity of FBC, the amount of consideration you will receive will not be known at the time you vote on the reorganization agreement. Accordingly, you should read this proxy statement/prospectus carefully to understand the value of the consideration you will receive in the merger. For an explanation of how the merger consideration will be calculated, please see Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Terms of the Merger, beginning on page 23.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger (page 45)

First Financial and FBC intend that the merger will qualify for U. S. federal income tax purposes as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. In connection with the filing with the SEC of this registration statement on Form S-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part, Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP, counsel to First Financial, has rendered its tax opinion to First Financial: (a) that the merger is a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code and that (b) that the discussion under the heading Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger, insofar as it relates to U.S. federal income tax law, is accurate in all material respects. A copy of this opinion has been filed as an exhibit to First Financial's registration statement on Form S-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part. In rendering its opinion, counsel has relied upon certain assumptions and representation and covenants, including those contained in certificates of officers of First Financial and FBC, reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to counsel. If any of the assumptions, representations or covenants upon which counsel's opinion is based are inaccurate, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger could be adversely affected. The opinion represents counsel's best legal judgment. Additionally, the Internal Revenue Service (the IRS) has not issued (and is not expected to issue) any ruling as to the qualification of the merger as reorganization under Section 368(a) of the Code and counsel's opinion is not binding on the IRS.

Assuming that the merger will be consummated as described in the reorganization agreement and this proxy statement/prospectus, in general, no gain or loss should be recognized by First Financial or FBC as a result of the merger. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to a holder of FBC common stock will depend, generally, on whether the holder exchanges his or her FBC common stock solely for First Financial common stock or for a combination of First Financial common stock and cash. A holder of FBC common stock who exchanges the holder's FBC common stock solely for First Financial common stock should not recognize a gain or loss, except with respect to the cash received in lieu of a fractional share of First Financial common stock. A holder who exchanges FBC common stock for a combination of First Financial common stock and cash should recognize gain (but not loss) in the exchange equal to the lesser of the cash received by the holder (excluding cash received in lieu of a fractional share of First Financial common stock) and the amount, if any, by which the cash plus the fair market value of First Financial common stock received by the holder exceeds his or her adjusted tax basis of the FBC common stock surrendered in exchange therefor.

For further information, please see to Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger. The U.S. federal income tax consequences described above may not apply to all holders of FBC common stock. Your tax consequences will depend on your individual situation. Accordingly, we strongly urge you to consult your tax advisor for a full understanding of the particular tax consequences of the merger to you.

Opinion of Financial Advisor of FBC (page 28)

Vining Sparks IBG, LP (Vining Sparks) has delivered a written opinion to the board of directors of FBC that, as of April 1, 2015, based upon and subject to certain matters stated in the opinion, the merger consideration is fair to the holders of FBC common stock from a financial point of view. We have attached this opinion to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix B. The opinion of Vining Sparks is not a recommendation to any FBC shareholder as to how to vote on the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement. You should carefully read this opinion in its entirety to understand the procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the reviews undertaken by Vining Sparks in providing its opinion.

First Financial's Dividend Policy (page 64)

First Financial intends to pay cash dividends to its shareholders of approximately 40% of annual net earnings while maintaining adequate capital to support growth. The cash dividend payout ratios have amounted to 39.34%, 41.62% and 41.99% of net earnings, respectively, in 2014, 2013 and 2012. Following the merger, subject to applicable statutory and regulatory restrictions and the discretion of First Financial's board of directors, First Financial intends to continue its practice of paying quarterly cash dividends. For the second quarter of 2015, First Financial announced a cash dividend of $0.16 per share on April 28, 2015 that is payable to shareholders of record as of June 16, 2015 on July 1, 2015.

Ownership of First Financial After the Merger (page 23)

Pursuant to the reorganization agreement, First Financial will issue shares of its common stock to shareholders of FBC in the merger. For illustration purposes only and disregarding certain adjustments described in the reorganization agreement, based on First Financial's closing stock price of $32.62 on June 17, 2015 and assuming that 884,600 shares of FBC common stock are outstanding at the effective time of the merger, FBC stockholders would have received 2.1 shares of First Financial common stock for each share of FBC common stock, which would have provided FBC stockholders with aggregate ownership, on a pro forma basis, of approximately 2.8% of the common stock of First Financial following the merger.

Market Prices of First Financial Common Stock (page 64)

Shares of First Financial common stock are quoted on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol FFIN. On March 31, 2015, the last trading day before the merger was announced, First Financial common stock closed at $27.64 per share. On June 17, First Financial common stock closed at $32.62 per share. The market price of First Financial common stock will fluctuate prior to the special meeting and the merger. You should obtain the current stock quotation for First Financial common stock. Shares of FBC are not traded on any established public trading market.

The special meeting of shareholders of FBC will be held on July 23, 2015, at 1:00 p.m., local time, at FBC's office located at 1800 West White Oak Terrace, Conroe, Texas 77304. At the special meeting, you will be asked to consider and vote on the following:

1. the approval of the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, dated April 1, 2015, by and between First Financial and FBC, pursuant to which FBC Acquisition Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial, will merge with and into FBC, with FBC surviving the merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial, all on and subject to the terms and conditions contained therein; and
2. any proposal to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if the board of directors of FBC determines such an adjournment is necessary to permit further solicitation of additional proxies.

Record Date Set at June 19, 2015; Approval of at Least Two-Thirds of Outstanding Shares Required to Approve the Reorganization Agreement (page 20)

You may vote at the special meeting of FBC shareholders if you owned FBC common stock at the close of business June 19, 2015, which is the record date for the special meeting. You can cast one vote for each share of FBC common stock you owned at that time. As of June 19, 2015, there were 884,600 shares of FBC common stock outstanding.

Approval of the reorganization agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of FBC common stock entitled to vote. If you fail to vote, it will have the effect of a vote against the reorganization agreement.

You may vote your shares of FBC common stock by attending the special meeting and voting in person or by completing and mailing the enclosed proxy card. If you are the record holder of your shares, you can revoke your proxy at any time before the vote is taken at the special meeting by sending a written notice revoking the proxy or a later-dated proxy to the Secretary of FBC, or by voting in person at the special meeting.

FBC's Reasons for the Merger and Recommendations of FBC's Board (page 27)

Based on the reasons discussed elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, the board of directors of FBC believes that the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement is fair to you and in your best interests, and unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement. For a discussion of the circumstances surrounding the merger and the factors considered by FBC's board of directors in approving the reorganization agreement, see page 27.

Directors and Certain Shareholders of FBC are Subject to a Voting Agreement (page 21)

As of the record date, all of the directors of FBC (5 persons) and executive officers of FBC were entitled to vote 232,051 shares of FBC common stock, or approximately 26.2% of the outstanding shares of the common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting. Each of the directors has executed a Voting Agreement and Irrevocable Proxy, dated as of April 1, 2015, referred to as the voting agreement in this proxy statement/prospectus, pursuant to which each director agreed to vote his shares of FBC common stock in favor of approval of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement. In addition to the directors, certain shareholders of FBC have entered into the voting agreement. As of the record date, 714,098 shares of FBC common stock, or approximately 80.7% of the outstanding shares of FBC common stock entitled to vote at the FBC special meeting, are bound by the voting agreement. Accordingly, approval of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement is assumed.

Effective Time of the Merger (page 33)

The merger will become effective at the date and time specified in the certificate of merger to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Texas regarding the merger. If FBC shareholders approve the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, and if all necessary government approvals are obtained and the other conditions to the parties' obligations to effect the merger are met or waived by the party entitled to do so, we anticipate that the merger will be completed in July 2015, although delays could occur.

We cannot assure you that the necessary shareholder and governmental approvals will be obtained or that the other conditions to completion of the merger can or will be satisfied.

Exchange of FBC Stock Certificates (page 34)

After the effective time of the merger, you will receive a letter of transmittal and instructions from Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company, as exchange and transfer agent, describing the procedures for surrendering your stock certificates representing shares of FBC common stock in exchange for shares of First Financial common stock and, if applicable, cash, in accordance with the terms of the reorganization agreement. The shares of First Financial common stock issuable in exchange for the shares of FBC common stock will be issued solely in uncertificated book-entry form. You must carefully review and complete the transmittal materials from the exchange agent and return them as instructed along with your stock certificates representing shares FBC common stock or other satisfactory evidence of ownership specified by the exchange agent. Please do not send the exchange agent any stock certificates until you receive these instructions. Stock certificates delivered to the exchange agent without a properly completed letter of transmittal will be rejected and returned for corrective action.

Conditions to Completion of the Merger (page 38)

The reorganization agreement contains a number of conditions to the obligations of First Financial and FBC to complete the merger which must be satisfied as of the closing date of the merger, including, but not limited to, the following:

approval of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement by the requisite vote of the outstanding shares of FBC stock;

receipt of all required regulatory approvals of transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement and all required consents, approvals, waivers and other assurances from non-governmental third parties;

the registration statement of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part has become effective and no stop order suspending its effectiveness is in effect and no proceedings for that purpose have been initiated and continuing or threatened by the SEC, and all necessary approvals under state securities laws relating to the issuance or trading of the First Financial common stock to be issued have been received; the accuracy of each party's representations and warranties contained in the reorganization agreement as of the closing date;

the absence of a material adverse change in the business, results of operations, financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities or reserves, of either party; absence of certain litigation regarding either party; and the performance or compliance in all material respects by each party with its respective covenants and obligations required by the reorganization agreement to be performed or complied with before the closing of the merger and receipt of a certificate signed by an appropriate representative of the other party to that effect.

In addition to the conditions listed above, First Financial's obligation to complete the merger is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions, among others:

each of the directors and certain senior officers of FBC and the First Bank must have executed a release agreement, releasing FBC and its successors and assigns from any and all claims of such directors and officers, subject to certain limited exceptions;

certain officers of First Bank must have fully executed an employment agreement with First Financial Bank dated as of the closing date of the merger;

each of the directors of FBC must have fully executed a director support agreement with First Financial;

each of the holders of outstanding FBC stock listed on the schedules to the reorganization agreement must have fully executed a voting agreement and irrevocable proxy;

generally, all of FBC's employee benefit plans must have been terminated in accordance with the terms of such benefit plan and applicable laws;

FBC must have taken all actions required to redeem the Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 or otherwise requested by First Financial in connection with the redemption of the Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028;

holders of not more than 5% of the outstanding shares of FBC common stock have dissented to the merger under the provisions of the Texas Business Organizations Code, referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as the TBOC; and each holder of a stock option to purchase common stock of FBC must have exercised such option or FBC must have cancelled any unexercised options.

Any condition to the completion of the merger, except the required shareholder and regulatory approvals, and the absence of an order or ruling prohibiting the merger, may be waived in writing by the party to the reorganization agreement entitled to the benefit of such condition. We cannot be certain when or if the conditions to the merger will be satisfied or waived, or that the merger will be completed.

Regulatory Approvals Required (page 50)

In addition, the acquisition of FBC by First Financial requires the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the Federal Reserve) and the OCC. On April 10, 2015, First Financial filed an application with the Federal Reserve to obtain approval of First Financial's acquisition of FBC by virtue of the merger which the Federal Reserve approved on May 20, 2015. Additionally, on April 10, 2015, First Financial Bank and First Bank filed an application with the OCC to obtain approval of the merger of First Financial Bank and First Bank, which will immediately follow the merger of FBC Acquisition Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial, with and into FBC and the subsequent merger of FBC with and into First Financial, which the OCC approved on May 22, 2015. The U.S. Department of Justice has between 15 and 30 days following approval by the OCC to challenge the approval of the merger on antitrust grounds. While FBC and First Financial do not know of any reason that the Department of Justice would challenge regulatory approval by the Federal Reserve or the OCC and believe that the likelihood of such action is remote, there can be no assurance that the Department of Justice will not initiate such a proceeding, or if such a proceeding is initiated, as to the result of any such challenge.

Amendments or Waiver (page 44)

We may amend the reorganization agreement and each of us may waive our right to require the other party to adhere to any term or condition of the reorganization agreement other than regulatory and shareholder approvals. Generally, the consideration to be received by the shareholders of FBC pursuant to the reorganization agreement may not be decreased after the approval of the reorganization agreement without the further approval by FBC shareholders, except in accordance with the terms of the reorganization agreement. The reorganization agreement provides for a decrease in the purchase price without shareholder approval if FBC's total consolidated shareholder equity is less than $14,705,000 on the business day immediately preceding the closing date after certain adjustments set forth in the reorganization agreement.

Termination of the Reorganization Agreement (page 44)

First Financial and FBC can mutually agree at any time to terminate the reorganization agreement without completing the merger. In addition, either First Financial or FBC may decide, without the consent of the other, to terminate the reorganization agreement if:

the merger has not been completed by December 31, 2015 or such later date approved by First Financial and FBC, unless the failure to complete the merger by that time is due to a material breach of the reorganization agreement by the party that seeks to terminate the reorganization agreement;

any of the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement are not approved by the appropriate regulatory authorities or if either party reasonably determines, in good faith and after consulting with counsel, there is substantial likelihood that any necessary regulatory approval will not be obtained or will be obtained only upon a condition or conditions could reasonably be expected to be materially burdensome on, or materially impair the anticipated benefits of the merger;

any order, decree or ruling or any other action which seeks to restrain, enjoin or prohibit the merger is issued, and such order, decree, ruling or other action is final and non-appealable;

there has been any material adverse change with respect to the other party;

the other party materially breaches its representations and warranties or any covenant or agreement contained in the reorganization agreement and such breach has not been cured within 30 days after the terminating party gives written notice of such failure to the breaching party;

the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein are not approved by the required vote of the shareholders of FBC at the special meeting; provided, that FBC may only

terminate the reorganization agreement if the board of directors of FBC recommended that the shareholders of FBC vote in favor of the approval and adoption of the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein; or the market price of First Financial's common stock is less than $19.58 per share; provided, that should First Financial exercise its right, in its sole discretion, to make a counter offer so that the aggregate merger consideration (consisting of any combination of stock and cash, subject to certain tax limitations) is no less than $57.0 million, then FBC may not terminate the reorganization agreement in these circumstances.

In addition, First Financial may terminate the reorganization agreement, without the consent of FBC, if on or prior to July 15, 2015, certain environmental issues become apparent or the results of any environmental inspections or surveys of FBC properties identify certain potential or current violations of environmental laws or environmental law requires certain remedial or clean up action; FBC or First Bank enter into any formal or informal administrative actions with a governmental entity or any such action is threatened by a governmental entity; FBC has mailed this proxy statement/prospectus to its shareholders and FBC does not hold its special shareholders' meeting within 60 days thereafter; the reorganization agreement is not approved by the required vote of shareholders of FBC; the board of directors of FBC fails to recommend that the shareholders vote in favor of approval of the reorganization agreement; or the individuals that executed a director support agreement or a voting agreement and irrevocable proxy have violated the terms thereof.

Some of the Directors and Officers of FBC Have Financial Interests in the Merger that Differ from Your Interests (page 43)

Some of the directors and officers of FBC have interests in the merger that differ from, or are in addition to, their interests as shareholders of FBC. The board of directors of FBC was aware of those interests and considered them in approving the reorganization agreement. Those interests include:

certain officers of First Bank, including its President and Chief Executive Officer, Sam W. Baker, have agreed to employment and non-competition agreements with First Financial Bank, which will become effective the first day following the closing date of the merger, whereby each individual is entitled to receive salary payments and to participate in all benefit plans available to employees of First Financial Bank;

the directors and officers of FBC and First Bank will receive continued indemnification and director and officer liability insurance coverage for a period of three (3) years after completion of the merger;

FBC has agreed to pay Sam W. Baker, First Bank's President and Chief Executive Officer, a bonus of $200,000 for completing the merger;

each of FBC's directors has entered into separate director support agreements with First Financial, effective as of April 1, 2015, which provide, among other things, that each director will support and not harm the goodwill of FBC, First Financial or any subsidiary of either FBC or First Financial or its customers and clients and will comply with the noncompetition and nonsolicitation obligations contained therein; and certain directors and officers of FBC hold Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 of FBC, which will be redeemed in connection with the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement.

Comparison of Rights of Shareholders of First Financial and FBC (page 54)

FBC is a Texas corporation and the rights of shareholders of FBC are governed by Texas law and FBC's certificate of formation and bylaws. First Financial is a Texas corporation and the rights of First Financial shareholders are governed by Texas law and First Financial's certificate of formation and bylaws. Upon completion of the merger, the shareholders of FBC will become shareholders of First Financial and their rights will be governed by First Financial's certificate of formation and bylaws, in addition to Texas law. First Financial's certificate of formation and bylaws will remain the same unless later altered, amended or repealed.

Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal in the Merger (page 50)

As a shareholder of FBC, under Texas law you have the right to dissent from the merger and have the appraised fair value of your shares of FBC common stock paid to you in cash. The appraised fair value may be more or less than the value of First Financial common stock and cash, if any, FBC shareholders will receive for their shares of FBC common stock in the merger.

Persons having beneficial interests in FBC common stock held of record in the name of another person, such as a broker or bank, must act promptly to cause the record holder to take the actions required under Texas law to exercise your dissenter's rights.

In order to dissent, you must carefully follow the requirements of the TBOC including giving the required written notice prior to the special meeting at which the vote on the reorganization agreement is taken. These steps are summarized under the caption Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Dissenters' Rights of FBC Shareholders on page 50.

If you intend to exercise dissenters' rights, you should carefully read the statutes and consult with your own legal counsel. You should also remember that if you return a signed proxy card, but fail to provide instructions as to how your shares of FBC common stock are to be voted, you will be considered to have voted in favor of the merger and the reorganization agreement and you will not be able to assert dissenters' rights.

Also, if you exercise dissenters' rights, you may have taxable income as a result, so you should consult with your own tax advisor if you intend to dissent. See Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger Dissenters. If the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement is approved by the shareholders of FBC, holders of FBC common stock who make a written objection to the merger prior to the FBC special meeting, vote against the approval of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement and properly make a written demand for payment following notice of the consummation of the merger will be entitled to receive the appraised fair value of their shares in cash under the TBOC.

The text of the provisions of the TBOC pertaining to dissenters' rights is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix C.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to general investment risks and the other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, including the matters addressed under the section A Warning About Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 19 and the matters discussed under the caption Risk Factors in Annual Report on Forms 10-K filed with the SEC by First Financial, for the year ended December 31, 2014, as updated by other reports filed with the SEC, you should carefully consider the following risk factors in deciding how to vote on the proposals presented in this proxy statement/prospectus. See Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 68.

The merger may not be completed.

Completion of the merger is subject to regulatory approval. First Financial cannot assure you that it will be successful in obtaining required regulatory approvals. If First Financial is not successful in obtaining required regulatory approvals, the merger will not be completed. If such regulatory approvals are received, there can be no assurance to the timing of those approvals or whether any conditions will be imposed that would result in certain closing conditions of the merger not being satisfied.

The consummation of the merger is also subject to other conditions precedent described in the reorganization agreement. If a condition of either party is not satisfied, the other party may be able to terminate the reorganization agreement and, in such case, the transaction would not be consummated. The parties cannot assure you that all of the conditions precedent in the reorganization agreement will be satisfied or that the merger will be completed.

The number of shares of First Financial common stock received as merger consideration will fluctuate, and shareholders of FBC may receive more or less value, depending upon increases and decreases in market price of First Financial's common stock and the consolidated shareholders' equity of FBC prior to closing.

The aggregate number of shares of First Financial stock issued to FBC shareholders in exchange for each share of FBC will fluctuate based upon changes in the market price of First Financial's common stock and the consolidated shareholders' equity of FBC prior to the closing of the merger. The consolidated shareholders' equity of FBC at the time the merger is completed may vary from the consolidated shareholders' equity at the date the reorganization agreement was executed, the date of this document and at the date of the shareholders' meeting of FBC.

Changes in the value of the merger consideration may be the result of various factors, many of which are beyond the control of First Financial and FBC, including:

changes in the business, operations or prospects of First Financial, FBC or the combined company;

governmental and/or litigation developments and/or regulatory considerations; governmental action affecting the banking and financial industry generally; fluctuation in the market price of First Financial's common stock; and general market and economic conditions.

The merger may not be completed until a significant period of time has passed after the FBC's shareholders' meeting. At the time of the shareholder meeting, FBC shareholders will not know the exact number of shares or the value of the First Financial common stock that will be issued in connection with the merger.

The market price of First Financial common stock after the merger may be affected by factors different from those affecting FBC common stock or First Financial common stock currently.

The businesses of First Financial and FBC differ in some respects and, accordingly, the results of operations of the combined company and the market price of First Financial's shares of common stock after the merger may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the independent results of operations of each of First Financial and FBC. For a discussion of the business of First Financial and of certain factors to consider in connection with that business, see the documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus and referred to under Where You Can Find More Information.

Regulatory approvals may not be received, may take longer than expected or impose conditions that are not presently anticipated.

The Federal Reserve must approve First Financial's acquisition of FBC and the OCC must approve the merger of First Bank with and into First Financial Bank. On April 10, 2015, First Financial filed an application with the Federal Reserve to obtain approval of the merger under the BHC Act and First Financial Bank and First Bank filed an application with the OCC to obtain approval of bank merger. First Financial received such approvals from the Federal Reserve and the OCC on May 20, 2015 and May 22, 2015, respectively. The Federal Reserve and the OCC considers, among other factors, the competitive impact of the merger, the financial and managerial resources of our companies and our subsidiary banks and the convenience and needs of the communities to be served. As part of that consideration, we expect that the Federal Reserve and OCC reviewed issues related to capital position, safety and soundness, and legal and regulatory compliance, including compliance with anti-money laundering laws.

Shareholders should bear in mind that regulatory approval reflects only the view that the merger does not contravene applicable competitive standards imposed by law, and that the merger is consistent with regulatory policies relating to safety and soundness. Further, regulatory approval is not an opinion that the proposed merger is favorable to the shareholders of either party to the merger from a financial point of view or that the regulatory authority has considered the adequacy of the terms of the merger. Regulatory approval is not an endorsement or recommendation of the merger.

FBC will be subject to business uncertainties while the merger is pending.

Uncertainty about the effect of the merger on employees and customers of FBC may have an adverse effect on FBC and its wholly-owned subsidiary, First Bank, and consequently on First Financial following completion of the merger. These uncertainties may impair FBC's ability to attract, retain and motivate key personnel until the merger is completed, and could cause customers and others that deal with FBC to seek to change existing business relationships with FBC. Retention of certain employees of FBC and First Bank may be challenging while the merger is pending, as certain employees may experience uncertainty about their future roles with First Financial. If key employees depart, First Financial's business following the merger could be harmed. See the section entitled Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Conduct of Business Pending Effective Time beginning on page 35 of this proxy statement/prospectus for a description of the restrictive covenants to which FBC is subject.

Combining our two banks may be more difficult, costly or time-consuming than we expect.

First Financial Bank and First Bank have historically operated and, until the bank merger is completed, will continue to operate, independently. It is possible that the integration process could result in the loss of key employees or disruption of each bank's ongoing business or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies that adversely affect our ability to maintain relationships with customers and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits of the merger. As with any combination of banking institutions, there also may be business disruptions that cause us to lose customers or cause customers to take their deposits out of our banks. The success of the combined bank following the merger may depend in large part on the ability to integrate the two businesses, business models and cultures. If we are not able to integrate our operations successfully and timely, the expected benefits of the merger may not be realized.

Some of the directors and officers of FBC may have interests and arrangements that may have influenced their decisions to support or recommend that you approve the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein.

The interests of some of the directors and officers of FBC may be different from those of FBC shareholders, and such directors and officers may be participants in arrangements that are different from, or in addition to, those of FBC shareholders. These interests are described in more detail in the section of this proxy statement/prospectus entitled Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Financial Interests of Directors and Officers of FBC in the Merger beginning on page 43.

First Financial may fail to realize the cost savings estimated for the merger.

Although First Financial estimates that it will realize cost savings from the merger when integrated, it is possible that the estimates of the potential cost savings could turn out to be incorrect. For example, the combined purchasing power may not be as strong as expected, and therefore the cost savings could be reduced. In addition, unanticipated growth in First Financial's business may require First Financial to continue to operate or maintain some facilities or support functions that are currently expected to be combined or reduced. The cost savings estimates also depend on our ability to combine the businesses of First Financial Bank and First Bank in a manner that permits those costs savings to be realized. If the estimates turn out to be incorrect or First Financial is not able to combine successfully the two banks, the anticipated cost savings may not be fully realized or realized at all, or may take longer to realize than expected.

FBC shareholders will have a reduced ownership and voting interest after the merger and will exercise less influence over management.

The merger will transfer control of FBC to First Financial and to the shareholders of First Financial. When the merger is completed, each FBC shareholder (other than dissenting shareholders) will become a shareholder of First Financial with a percentage ownership of First Financial much smaller than such shareholder's percentage ownership of FBC. Because of this, FBC shareholders will have less influence on the management and policies of First Financial, and thus First Financial Bank, than they now have on the management and policies of FBC.

A WARNING ABOUT FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements contained in this proxy statement/prospectus, including statements included or incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus, that are not statements of historical fact constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 that are subject to risks and uncertainties. These forward-looking statements include information about possible or assumed future results of operations of First Financial after the merger is completed as well as information about the merger. Words such as believes, expects, anticipates, estimates, intends, continue, should, may, or similar expressions, or the use thereof, are intended to identify forward-looking statements, but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. Many possible events or factors could affect the future financial results and performance of each of our companies before the merger or First Financial after the merger, and could cause those results or performance to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements. These possible events or factors include, but are not limited to:

First Financial's actual cost savings resulting from the merger are less than expected, First Financial is unable to realize those cost savings as soon as expected or First Financial incurs additional or unexpected costs;

First Financial's revenues after the merger are less than expected; deposit attrition, operating costs, customer loss and business disruption before and after the merger, including, without limitation, difficulties in maintaining relationships with employees, may be greater than First Financial expected;

competition among financial services companies may increase; the risk that the businesses of First Financial Bank and First Bank will not be integrated successfully, or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected;

the failure of FBC's shareholders to approve the reorganization agreement;

the ability to obtain the governmental approvals of the merger on the proposed terms and schedule;

changes in the level of nonperforming assets and charge-offs; changes in the interest rate environment reduce First Financial's or FBC's interest margins;

general business and economic conditions in the markets First Financial or FBC serves change or are less favorable than expected;

legislative or regulatory changes adversely affect First Financial's or FBC's businesses; changes occur in business conditions and inflation;

changes in commodity prices (i.e., oil and gas, cattle and wind energy); personal or commercial customers' bankruptcies increase;

changes occur in the securities markets; and technology-related changes are harder to make or more expensive than expected.

For other factors, risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from estimates and projections contained in forward-looking statements, please read the Risk Factors section of this proxy statement/prospectus.

A forward-looking statement may include a statement of the assumptions or bases underlying the forward-looking statement. We believe we have chosen these assumptions or bases in good faith and that they are reasonable. However, we caution you that assumptions or bases almost always vary from actual results, and the differences between assumptions or bases and actual results can be material. Therefore, we caution you not to place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements. Table of Contents

Shares Held by Directors and Executive Officers

As of the record date, all of the directors of FBC (5 persons) and executive officers of FBC were entitled to vote 232,051 shares of FBC common stock, or approximately 26.2% of the outstanding shares of the common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting. Each of the directors has executed a Voting Agreement and Irrevocable Proxy, dated as of April 1, 2015, referred to as the voting agreement in this proxy statement/prospectus, pursuant to which each director agreed to vote his shares of FBC common stock in favor of approval of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement. In addition to the directors, certain shareholders of FBC have entered into the voting agreement. As of the record date, 714,098 shares of FBC common stock, or approximately 80.7% of the outstanding shares of FBC common stock entitled to vote at the FBC special meeting, are bound by the voting agreement. Accordingly, approval of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement by the FBC shareholders is assumed.

Voting and Revocation of Proxies

Any holder of record of shares of FBC common stock entitled to vote may submit a proxy by returning a signed proxy card by mail, or may vote in person by appearing at the special meeting. Proxies, in the form enclosed, which are properly executed and returned to FBC and not subsequently revoked, will be voted in accordance with the instructions indicated on the proxies. Any properly executed proxy on which voting instructions are not specified will be voted FOR the proposal to approve the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement. The proxy also grants authority to the persons designated in such proxy to vote in accordance with their own judgment if an unscheduled matter is properly brought before the special meeting.

If you are a beneficial owner and hold your shares of FBC common stock in street name through a brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee, you should instruct your nominee on how you wish to vote your shares of FBC common stock using the instructions provided by your nominee. Under applicable rules, brokerage firms, banks, trusts and other nominees have the discretion to vote on routine matters. The merger proposal is a non-routine matter, and brokerage firms, banks, trusts and other nominees cannot vote on these proposals without your instructions. Therefore, it is important that you cast your vote or instruct your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee on how you wish to vote your shares of FBC common stock.

If you do not return your proxy card or attend the special meeting, your shares of FBC common stock will not be voted, which will have the same effect as a vote against the merger. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, if you hold your shares of FBC common stock in your own name as the shareholder of record, please vote your shares of FBC common stock by completing, signing, dating and returning the enclosed proxy card.

If you are the record holder of your shares, you may revoke any proxy given pursuant to this solicitation by the board of directors of FBC at any time before it is voted at the special meeting by:

giving written notice to the Secretary of FBC;

executing a proxy bearing a later date and filing that proxy with the Secretary of FBC at or before the special meeting; or attending and voting in person at the special meeting.

All written notices of revocation and other communications with respect to revocation or proxies must be received by FBC no later than July 22, 2015, at 5:00 p.m. local time, which is the business day immediately prior to the special meeting and should be sent to: FBC Bancshares, Inc., 1800 West White Oak Terrace, Conroe, Texas 77304, Attention: Secretary. If you hold your shares in street name with a brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee, you must contact such brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee if you wish to revoke your proxy.

Your presence without voting at the special meeting will not automatically revoke your proxy, and any revocation during the special meeting will not affect votes previously taken.

Table of Contents

The secretary of FBC will determine all questions as to validity, form, eligibility (including time of receipt) and acceptance of proxies. Its determination will be final and binding. The board of directors has the right to waive any irregularities or conditions as to the manner of voting. FBC may accept your proxy by any form of communication permitted by the TBOC so long as FBC is reasonably assured that the communication is authorized by you.

Shares Held in Street Name

Your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee cannot vote your shares of FBC common stock for or against approval and adoption of the merger proposal unless you tell the brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee how you wish to vote. To tell your nominee how to vote, you should follow the directions that your nominee provides to you. Please note that you may not vote your shares of FBC common stock held in street name by returning a proxy card directly to FBC or by voting in person at the special meeting unless you provide a legal proxy, which you must obtain from your nominee. If you do not instruct your broker or other nominee on how to vote your shares of FBC common stock, your broker or other nominee may not vote your FBC common shares, which will have the same effect as a vote against the merger proposal for purposes of the required vote. You should therefore provide your brokerage firm, bank, trust or other nominee with instructions as to how to vote your shares of FBC common stock.

Solicitation of Proxies; Expenses

This proxy solicitation is made by the board of directors of FBC. FBC is responsible for its expenses incurred in preparing, assembling, printing and mailing this proxy statement/prospectus. Proxies will be solicited through the mail. Additionally, directors of FBC intend to solicit proxies personally or by telephone or other means of communication. The directors will not be additionally compensated. FBC will reimburse banks, brokers and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable expenses in forwarding the proxy materials to beneficial owners.

Recommendation of FBC's Board of Directors

After considering various factors described in the section entitled Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Recommendation of FBC's Board of Directors and its Reasons for the Merger, the board of directors of FBC has unanimously determined that the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement, including the merger, are advisable and in the best interests of FBC's shareholders and has adopted and approved the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement, including the merger. The board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the proposal to adopt and approve the reorganization agreement.

Dissenters' Rights

Holders of shares of FBC common stock are entitled to dissenters' rights under Subchapter H of Chapter 10 of the TBOC, provided they satisfy the conditions set forth therein. For a more detailed discussion of your dissenters' rights and the requirements for perfecting your dissenters' rights, see Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Dissenters' Rights of FBC Shareholders on page 50. In addition, a copy of Subchapter H of Chapter 10 of the TBOC is attached as Annex C to this proxy statement/prospectus.

PROPOSAL 1: APPROVAL OF THE REORGANIZATION AGREEMENT

The following information describes material aspects of the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement. It is not intended to be a complete description of all information relating to the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement and is qualified in its entirety by reference to more detailed information contained in the appendices to this document, including the reorganization agreement. A copy of the reorganization agreement is included as Appendix A and is incorporated herein by reference. You are urged to read the appendices in their entirety.

Terms of the Merger

Structure of Merger. The reorganization agreement provides for the acquisition of FBC and its wholly-owned subsidiary, First Bank, by First Financial. If (i) the shareholders of FBC approve the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, (ii) the required regulatory approvals are obtained and (iii) the other conditions to the parties' obligations to effect the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement are met or waived by the party entitled to do so, we anticipate that the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement will be completed in July 2015, although delays could occur.

The first transaction contemplated by the reorganization agreements is the merger of FBC Acquisition Corp., a wholly-owned, transitory subsidiary of First Financial, with and into FBC, with FBC surviving the merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of First Financial. As a result of the merger, holders of FBC common stock as of the effective time of the merger will be entitled to receive whole shares of First Financial common stock and, in some instances, cash, with additional cash payable in lieu of any fractional share. Following the merger, certificates for FBC common stock will only represent the right to receive the merger consideration pursuant to the reorganization agreement, and otherwise will be null and void.

Following immediately after the merger, First Financial will cause (i) FBC to merge with and into First Financial, with First Financial as the surviving entity and FBC ceasing its separate corporate existence and (ii) First Bank to merge with and into First Financial Bank, with First Financial Bank as the surviving bank and First Bank ceasing its separate corporate existence. As a result of the bank merger, the existing branches and main office of First Bank will become branches of First Financial Bank.

Consideration. The number of shares of First Financial common stock deliverable for each share of FBC common stock will be determined based on the average daily closing price of First Financial's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for each of the twenty consecutive trading days ending on the fifth business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger, referred to as the FFIN Market Price in this proxy statement/prospectus. Subject to the terms of the reorganization agreement, the general method for calculating the number of shares to be issued for each share of FBC common stock is to divide the aggregate merger consideration by (i) the number of shares of FBC common stock outstanding, less certain adjustments and (ii) the FFIN Market Price. Subject to the adjustments set forth in the reorganization agreement, the aggregate merger consideration will be determined as follows:

If the FFIN Market Price is equal to or exceeds $32.97, the aggregate merger consideration is fixed at $61.0 million;

Edgar Filing: FIRST FINANCIAL BANKSHARES INC - Form S-4/A

If the FFIN Market Price exceeds $30.97, but is less than $32.97, then the aggregate merger consideration would fluctuate between $59.0 million and $61.0 million;

If the FFIN Market price is between $24.97 and $30.97, then the aggregate merger consideration is fixed at $59.0 million. For illustration purposes only and disregarding certain adjustments described in the reorganization agreement, based on First Financial's closing stock price of $32.62 on June 17, 2015 and assuming that 884,600 shares of FBC common stock are outstanding at the effective time of the merger, FBC stockholders would have received 2.1 shares of First Financial common stock for each share of FBC common stock, which would have provided FBC stockholders with aggregate ownership, on a pro forma basis, of approximately 2.8% of the common stock of First Financial following the merger.;

If the FFIN Market Price is less than $24.97, but exceeds $22.97, then the aggregate merger consideration would fluctuate between $57.0 million and $59.0 million; and

If the FFIN Market Price is equal to or less than $22.97, the aggregate merger consideration is fixed at $57.0 million.

Regardless of the FFIN Market Price, the maximum number of shares of First Financial common stock that First Financial is required to issue under the reorganization agreement is 2,231,941 shares of First Financial common stock (the FFIN Share Cap). To the extent that the aggregate merger consideration due to the holders of FBC common stock pursuant to the reorganization agreement exceeds the value of shares of First Financial common stock equal to the FFIN Share Cap, First Financial may, in its sole discretion, (i) increase the number of shares of First Financial common stock issued in excess of the FFIN Share Cap, (ii) increase the number of shares of First Financial common stock issued in excess of the FFIN Share Cap and pay an additional cash amount, or (iii) pay an additional cash amount.

Consideration Examples. The following table, which is for illustration purposes only, provides examples of the consideration that would be payable to holders of FBC common stock based upon the FFIN Market Prices listed in the table. The table does not reflect all possible adjustments that may be made to the merger consideration that are set forth in the reorganization agreement including, without limitation, possible adjustments for the consolidated shareholders' equity or that cash will be paid instead of fractional shares. The following table assumes that 884,600 shares of FBC common stock will be outstanding as of the effective time of the merger. The actual prices at which First Financial common stock trades will establish the actual FFIN Market Price. The actual trading price of First Financial common stock is subject to market fluctuations.

Downward Adjustment of Consideration. The aggregate merger consideration to be paid pursuant to the reorganization agreement will be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis in the event that FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity as of the close of business on the business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger, after certain adjustments prescribed by the reorganization agreement have been made, is less than $14,705,000.

Dividend of Excess Shareholders' Equity. To the extent that FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity as of the close of business on the business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger, after certain adjustments prescribed by the reorganization agreement have been made, exceeds $14,705,000, FBC may dividend the excess amount to its shareholders prior to closing.

Debt Repayment. First Financial has also agreed to redeem all of FBC's Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 within three business days of the closing date of the merger. The Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 had an aggregate outstanding principal balance of $13,125,000 as of April 1, 2015.

The actual merger consideration is subject to adjustment and may be higher or lower than the consideration described in the examples above. Because the per share merger consideration will be determined based upon the price of First Financial's common stock and the adjusted consolidated shareholders' equity of FBC, the amount of consideration you will receive will not be known at the time you vote on the reorganization agreement. Accordingly, you should read this proxy statement/prospectus carefully to understand the value of the consideration you will receive in the merger.

Background of the Merger

The FBC board of directors periodically has reviewed FBC's performance, compared its performance with that of certain comparable institutions, reviewed the limited market activity in FBC's common stock, considered various business opportunities and strategies available to FBC and discussed the general economic, regulatory, competitive and business pressures affecting FBC and First Bank. In addition, the FBC board of directors, on an informal basis and during strategic planning sessions, would periodically review merger and acquisition activity in the banking industry.

In November 2012, F. Scott Dueser, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of First Financial, contacted Sam W. Baker, President of FBC and President and Chief Executive Officer of the First Bank, by telephone to preliminarily discuss a possible business combination between First Financial and First Bank (FBC had not been formed at that time). Messrs. Dueser and Baker spoke again by telephone in June 2013 for further discussions regarding a possible business combination. At each of these meetings, Mr. Baker, indicated that FBC was not ready to sell, but that FBC may be interested in a transaction in the future. Mr. Baker reported each of those conversations to H. J. Shands, III, Chairman of the Board of FBC and First Bank, who in turn disclosed them to FBC's board of directors.

In September 2013, Mr. Baker introduced Mr. Dueser to Mr. Shands by telephone and the parties briefly discussed a proposed business combination and the possibility of FBC and First Bank moving forward with a transaction. In March 2014, Messrs. Shands and Baker visited Mr. Dueser in Abilene, Texas. At this initial visit, the parties discussed the opportunities presented by a business combination between their institutions, the overall banking marketplace in southeast Texas and contiguous markets, the communities in which FBC and First Bank does business, the structure and nature of First Bank, and various potential transaction structures. Messrs. Dueser and Shands met in person again on May 9, 2014 in Colorado Springs, Colorado in furtherance of discussions regarding a proposed transaction.

Following the March and May 2014 meetings, the parties continued discussions regarding the terms and structure of a proposed transaction. As these discussions progressed, on September 24, 2014, First Financial and FBC entered into a confidentiality agreement to facilitate the exchange of information. In October 2014, Mr. Shands along with Messrs. Joe C. Denman, III and M. Richard Warner, each a director of FBC and First Bank, approached Vining Sparks regarding providing financial advice to FBC in connection with a potential corporate transaction involving FBC.

The discussions between the parties and Vining Sparks then turned toward structuring a formal offer from First Financial to FBC regarding a proposed merger transaction, including a preliminary price range. On October 15, 2015, representatives of Vining Sparks provided FBC with its initial analysis regarding the preliminary pricing range and structure offered by First Financial, which analysis discussed the attractiveness of the proposal from a financial point of view. On October 22, 2014, First Financial submitted a formal offer to FBC in the form of a Letter of Intent. In the Letter of Intent, First Financial offered to purchase FBC for an aggregate purchase price of $59.0 million in the form of First Financial common stock, based on the market value of First Financial's common stock at that time, and to pay FBC an additional $13.1 million to pay off its outstanding Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028.

After input and recommendations of revisions to the Letter of Intent from the parties' legal and financial advisors, FBC signed the revised Letter of Intent on October 22, 2014 and thereafter engaged Vining Sparks as its exclusive financial adviser in connection with the proposed transaction. This Letter of Intent had an expiration date of January 31, 2015 and a no-shop provision that prohibited FBC from pursuing and negotiating a transaction with another party during the term of the Letter of Intent.

Following the signing of the Letter of Intent, the executive management teams of First Financial and FBC met for dinner in The Woodlands, Texas on November 17, 2014 and discussed the proposed transaction.

During November and December 2014, the parties proceeded on an exclusive basis to perform regular and reverse due diligence investigations of each company and their respective subsidiaries. The two companies' legal teams also began preparing and negotiating the terms of the reorganization agreement. During the due diligence period, First Financial conducted a thorough due diligence investigation of FBC. This due diligence investigation included on-site review of documents, files and other pertinent materials, including in-person meetings and discussions with key FBC personnel. FBC, together with its financial advisor, Vining Sparks and legal counsel, conducted a thorough reverse due diligence investigation of First Financial. This due diligence investigation included a review of current and historical public filings of First Financial and on-site review of material information and records of First Financial, as well as interviews with senior management.

In November 2014, the parties agreed that First Financial would directly repay FBC's Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 rather than pay FBC cash for satisfying such debt obligations, as originally agreed.

From December 2014 through March 2015, management of First Financial and FBC negotiated the terms and conditions of the reorganization agreement, including, among other terms, the mix of consideration between stock and cash and price protection measures in the form of caps and collars applicable to the merger consideration. During this period, the term of the Letter of Intent was set to expire and First Financial and FBC agreed on January 14, 2015 to extend the deadline under the Letter of Intent until March 31, 2015 to allow the parties additional time to perform due diligence and negotiate the terms of the reorganization agreement.

The parties prepared several memoranda providing specific proposals of methodology for calculating the aggregate merger consideration and allocating risk related to any potential changes in First Financial's market price, specifically in light of the recent volatility with the oil and gas industry and significant decreases in energy prices. After further negotiation, the parties agreed on a merger consideration calculation methodology based on a variable aggregate merger consideration with high and low collars of $61.0 million and $57.0 million, respectively, and a stock and cash mix based on any changes in First Financial's average market value for a specified period prior to the closing date of the merger.

On March 16, 2015, FBC's board of directors held a meeting to discuss the proposed transaction and the then current draft of the reorganization agreement. At that meeting, the FBC board of directors was briefed on the terms of reorganization agreement and the related agreements and had the opportunity to ask questions to FBC's legal and financial advisors regarding terms and conditions of the transaction as set forth in the reorganization agreement.

Vining Sparks also presented an analysis of the financial terms set forth in the reorganization agreement. Vining Sparks provided FBC's board of directors with its opinion that consummation of the proposed transaction on those terms was fair to the shareholders of FBC from a financial point of view.

Following this discussion, and after due consideration and deliberation, the board of directors of FBC unanimously approved the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement, authorized the execution of the reorganization agreement and recommended the approval of the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein to the shareholders of FBC.

On April 1, 2015, First Financial and FBC entered into the definitive version of the reorganization agreement, the voting agreements and the director support agreements. FBC and First Financial also issued a press release announcing the transaction.

Recommendation of FBC's Board and its Reasons for the Merger

FBC's board of directors believes that the merger is in the best interest of FBC and its shareholders. Accordingly, FBC's board of directors has unanimously approved the merger and the reorganization agreement and unanimously recommends that FBC's shareholders vote FOR approval of the reorganization agreement.

In approving the reorganization agreement, FBC's board of directors consulted with Vining Sparks with respect to the financial aspects and fairness of the merger consideration, from a financial point of view, to the holders of shares of FBC common stock and with its outside legal counsel as to its legal duties and the terms of the reorganization agreement. The board believes that combining with First Financial will create a stronger and more diversified organization that will provide significant benefits to FBC's shareholders and customers alike.

The terms of the reorganization agreement, including the consideration to be paid to FBC's shareholders, were the result of arm's length negotiations between representatives of FBC and representatives of First Financial. In arriving at its determination to approve the reorganization agreement, FBC's board of directors considered a number of factors, including the following:

FBC's board of directors' familiarity with and review of information concerning the business, results of operations, financial condition, competitive position and future prospects of FBC;

the current and prospective environment in which FBC operates, including national, regional and local economic conditions, the competitive environment for banks, thrifts and other financial institutions; institutions generally and the increased regulatory burdens on financial institutions generally and the trend toward consolidation in the banking industry and in the financial services industry;

the financial presentation of Vining Sparks and the opinion of Vining Sparks, dated as of April 1, 2015, that, as of April 1, 2015, and subject to the assumptions, limitations and qualifications set forth in the opinion, the total aggregate merger consideration to be received from First Financial, consisting of First Financial common stock, valued between $57.0 and $61.0 million based on First Financial's market price, with the possibility of cash consideration in the case of certain adjustments, is fair, from a financial point of view, to the shareholders of FBC (see Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Opinion of FBC's Financial Advisor, beginning on page 28);

that shareholders of FBC will receive the merger consideration in shares of First Financial common stock, which are publicly traded on NASDAQ Global Select Market, contrasted with the absence of a public market for FBC's common stock;

the treatment of the merger as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code with respect to the FBC common stock exchanged for First Financial common stock;

the results that FBC could expect to obtain if it continued to operate independently, and the likely benefits to shareholders of that course of action, as compared with the value of the merger consideration offered by First Financial;

the ability of First Financial to pay the aggregate merger consideration without a financing contingency and without the need to obtain financing to close the transaction;

the ability of First Financial to receive the requisite regulatory approvals in a timely manner;

the terms and conditions of the reorganization agreement, including the parties' respective representations, warranties, covenants and other agreements, and the conditions to closing;

the likelihood that a merger with a larger holding company would provide the opportunity to realize economies of scale, increase efficiencies of operations and enhance the development of new products and services; that some of FBC's directors and executive officers have other financial interests in the merger in addition to their interests as FBC shareholders, including financial interests that are the result of compensation arrangements with FBC, the manner in which such interests would be affected by the merger, as well as the new employment agreements that certain of these persons entered into with First Financial in connection with the merger;

that any cash portion of the merger consideration will be taxable to FBC's shareholders upon completion of the merger;

the requirement that FBC conduct its business in the ordinary course and the other restrictions on the conduct of the FBC's business before completion of the merger, which may delay or prevent FBC from undertaking business opportunities that may arise before completion of the merger; and that under the reorganization agreement FBC could not solicit competing proposals for the acquisition of FBC.

The reasons set out above for the merger are not intended to be exhaustive but include the material factors considered by the board of directors of FBC in approving the merger and the reorganization agreement. In reaching its determination, the board of directors of FBC did not assign any relative or specific weight to different factors and individual directors may have given weight to different factors. Based on the reasons stated above, the board of directors of FBC believes that the merger is in the best interest of FBC and its shareholders and therefore the board of directors of FBC unanimously approved the reorganization agreement and the merger. Each member of FBC's board of directors has agreed to vote the stock of FBC which he or she has voting authority in favor of the reorganization agreement and the merger.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF FBC UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE (I) FOR THE PROPOSAL TO APPROVE THE REORGANIZATION AGREEMENT AND (II) FOR THE PROPOSAL TO ADJOURN THE SPECIAL MEETING, IF NECESSARY OR ADVISABLE, TO PERMIT FURTHER SOLICITATION OF PROXIES.

Opinion of FBC's Financial Advisor

In October 2014, FBC engaged Vining Sparks IBG, LP. (Vining Sparks) to render financial advisory and investment banking services to FBC. Vining Sparks agreed to assist FBC in assessing the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration in the proposed merger to the shareholders of FBC. FBC selected Vining Sparks because Vining Sparks is a nationally recognized investment banking firm with substantial experience in transactions similar to the merger and is familiar with FBC and its business. As part of its investment banking business, Vining Sparks is continually engaged in the valuation of financial institutions and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions.

As part of its engagement, representatives of Vining Sparks participated in meetings of the FBC board of directors, at which the FBC board of directors evaluated the proposed merger. At these meetings, a Vining Sparks representative reviewed the financial aspects of the proposed merger and rendered an opinion that, as of April 1, 2015, the merger consideration offered to FBC's shareholders in the merger was fair to the holders of FBC's common stock from a financial point of view. The full text of Vining Sparks' written opinion is attached as Appendix B to this proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated herein by reference. FBC's shareholders are urged to carefully read the opinion in its entirety for a description of the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered, and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Vining Sparks. The description of the opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such opinion.

For purposes of Vining Sparks' opinion and in connection with its review of the proposed transaction, Vining Sparks has, among other things:

reviewed the terms of the reorganization agreement;

reviewed certain publicly available financial statements, both audited (where available) and unaudited, and related financial information of FBC and First Financial, including those included in their respective annual reports for the past two years and their respective quarterly reports for the past two years;

reviewed certain internal financial information and financial forecasts relating to the business, earnings, cash flows, assets and prospects of FBC furnished to Vining Sparks by FBC management;

held discussions with members of executive and senior management of FBC and First Financial concerning the past and current results of operations of FBC and First Financial, their respective current financial condition and managements' opinion of their respective future prospects;

reviewed available analysts' reports concerning First Financial; compared First Financial's recent operating results and pricing multiples with those of certain other publicly traded banks in Texas;

reviewed reported market prices, historical trading activity and trading volume of First Financial common stock;

reviewed the financial terms of merger and acquisition transactions, to the extent publicly available, involving financial institutions and financial institution holding companies that Vining Sparks deemed to be relevant; and reviewed such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations, as Vining Sparks considered appropriate under the circumstances.

In performing its review, Vining Sparks has assumed and relied, without independent verification, upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that has been provided to it by FBC and First Financial and their respective representatives, and of the publicly available information that was reviewed by it. Vining Sparks did not make an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets, or the liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of FBC or

First Financial, nor was Vining Sparks furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal. Vining Sparks is not an expert in the evaluation of allowances for loan losses and did not review any individual credit files and did not make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses, and has relied on and assumed that the allowance for loan losses set forth in the balance sheets of FBC and First Financial is adequate to cover such losses and complied fully with applicable law, regulatory policy and sound banking practice as of the date of such financial statements.

Vining Sparks' opinion is necessarily based on economic, regulatory, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Vining Sparks as of, the date of its opinion. Events occurring after the date thereof, including but not limited to, changes affecting the securities markets, the results of operations or material changes in the assets or liabilities of FBC or First Financial could materially affect the assumptions used in preparing the opinion. Vining Sparks assumed that all of the representations and warranties contained in the reorganization agreement and all related agreements are true and correct, that each party to such agreements will perform all of the covenants required to be performed by such party under such agreements and that the conditions precedent in the reorganization agreement are not waived.

No limitations were imposed by FBC's board of directors upon Vining Sparks with respect to the investigations made or procedures followed in rendering its opinion. Vining Sparks' opinion as expressed herein is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to be received by the holders of FBC common stock in the merger and does not address FBC's underlying business decision to proceed with the merger. Vining Sparks has been retained on behalf of the board of directors of FBC, and its opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder of FBC as to how such shareholder should vote at the special meeting with respect to the merger.

Vining Sparks relied upon the management of FBC as to the reasonableness of the financial and operating forecasts, and projections (and the assumptions and bases therefore) provided to or reviewed by Vining Sparks, and Vining Sparks assumed that such forecasts and projections reflect the best currently available estimates and judgments of FBC management. FBC does not publicly disclose internal management forecasts, projections or estimates of the type furnished to or reviewed by Vining Sparks in connection with its analysis of the financial terms of the proposed transaction, and such forecasts and estimates were not prepared with a view towards public disclosure. These forecasts and estimates were based on numerous variables and assumptions which are inherently uncertain and which may not be within the control of the management of FBC, including without limitation to, the general economic, regulatory and competitive conditions. Accordingly, actual results could vary materially from those set forth in such forecasts and estimates.

In rendering its opinion, Vining Sparks performed a variety of financial analyses. The following is a summary of the material financial analyses performed by Vining Sparks in connection with the preparation of its opinion and does not purport to be a complete description of all the analyses performed by Vining Sparks. The summary includes information presented in tabular format, which should be read together with the text that accompanies those tables. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. Therefore, an opinion is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. Vining Sparks believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of such analyses and the factors considered therein, without considering all factors and analyses, or attempting to ascribe relative weights to some or all such factors and analyses, could create an incomplete view of the evaluation process underlying its opinion. In its analyses, Vining Sparks made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, business and economic conditions, and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of FBC, First Financial and Vining Sparks. Any estimates contained in Vining Sparks' analyses are not necessarily indicative of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than such estimates. Estimates of values of companies do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which companies or their securities may actually be sold.

Summary of Proposal. Vining Sparks reviewed the financial terms of the proposed transaction. As discussed elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, the FBC common stock will be converted into the right to receive the merger consideration pursuant to the terms of the reorganization agreement. If the FBC's consolidated shareholders equity as of the close of business on the business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger, after certain adjustments prescribed by the reorganization agreement have been made, is less than $14,705,000, then the merger consideration will be reduced on a dollar-for-dollar basis by the amount of such difference. As indicated in the reorganization agreement, FBC may dividend the excess amount if FBC's consolidated shareholders' equity exceeds $14,705,000. Additionally, First Financial has also agreed to redeem all of FBC's Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 within three business days of the closing date of the merger. FBC's Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 had an aggregate outstanding principal balance of $13,125,000 as of April 1, 2015. The total value of the merger consideration would have a minimum price of $57.0 million and a maximum price of $61.0 million. The number of shares of First Financial common stock deliverable for each share of FBC common stock will be determined based on the average daily closing price of First Financial's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for each of the twenty consecutive trading days ending on the fifth business day immediately preceding the closing date of the merger.

Edgar Filing: FIRST FINANCIAL BANKSHARES INC - Form S-4/A

Based on merger consideration of $59.0 million and a closing price of $26.80 at March 9, 2015, First Financial would issue 2,201,493 shares of First Financial common stock to the holders of shares of common stock of FBC. Based on 884,600 shares of FBC common stock outstanding (which includes the exercise of all options), each share of FBC common stock would be converted into 2.4887 shares of First Financial common stock. Merger consideration of $59.0 million represents a price to required equity of $14,705,000 of 4.01x, a price to required tangible equity of 4.06x, a price to 2014 earnings of 16.23x, a price to assets of 15.87% and a tangible premium on core deposits of 14.92%.

Analysis of Selected Public Companies. Vining Sparks used publicly available information to compare selected financial and market trading information for First Financial with those of a group of comparable publicly traded Texas banking organizations with total assets between $3 and $30 billion and a return on assets greater than 0.00%. The companies in First Financial's peer group were as follows:

Vining Sparks reviewed the multiples of transaction value to stated book value, transaction value to tangible book value, transaction value to last twelve months earnings and tangible book premium to core deposits and calculated high, low, mean and median multiples for the Comparable Transactions. The median multiples were then applied to FBC's required equity, earnings for 2014 and FBC's assets and core deposits as of December 31, 2014 to derive an implied range of values of FBC. The following table sets forth the median multiples as well as the implied values based upon those median multiples.

	Comparable Transaction Median Multiple	Implied Value (in Thousands)
Transaction Value/Required Book Value	1.54x	$ 22,646
Transaction Value/Required Tangible Book Value	1.67x	$ 24,282
Transaction Value/2014 Earnings	17.53x	$ 63,739
Transaction Value/Assets	16.56%	$ 61,580
Tangible Premium/Core Deposits	11.94%	$ 49,551

The transaction value of $59.0 million is within the range of implied values computed in using the Comparable Transactions, which supports the fairness of the transaction. No company or transaction used as a comparison in the above analysis is identical to FBC or the merger. Accordingly, an analysis of these results is not strictly mathematical.

An analysis of the results of the foregoing involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of FBC and the companies included in the Comparable Transactions.

Present Value Analysis. Vining Sparks calculated the present value of theoretical future earnings of FBC and compared the transaction value to the calculated present value of FBC's common stock on a stand-alone basis. Based on projected earnings for FBC for 2015 through 2019, and a discount rate of 12%, and including a residual value, the stand-alone present value of FBC equaled $51.8 million. The transaction value of $59.0 million is above this value, which supports the fairness of the transaction.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. Using a discounted cash flow analysis, Vining Sparks estimated the net present value of the future streams of after-tax cash flow that FBC could produce to benefit a potential acquiror, referred to as dividendable net income, and added a terminal value. Based on projected earnings for FBC for 2015 through 2019, Vining Sparks assumed after-tax distributions to a potential acquiror such that its tier 1 leverage ratio would be maintained at 7.00%. The terminal values for FBC were calculated based on FBC's projected 2019 equity and earnings, the median price to book and median price to earnings multiples paid in the Comparable Transactions and utilized discount rate of 12%. This discounted cash flow analysis indicated implied values of $36.5 million and $56.0 million. The transaction value of $59.0 million is above these values, which supports the fairness of the transaction.

In the two years prior to the issuance of this opinion, Vining Sparks has not had a material relationship with FBC or First Financial where compensation was received or that it contemplates will be received after closing of the transaction. Pursuant to the terms of an engagement letter with FBC, Vining Sparks received a fee of $50,000 upon delivery of its opinion. Vining Sparks' fee was not contingent upon consummation of the merger. In addition, FBC agreed to indemnify Vining Sparks against certain liabilities and expenses arising out of or incurred in connection with its engagement, including liabilities and expenses which may arise under the federal securities laws.

First Financial's Reasons for the Merger

As a part of First Financial's growth strategy, First Financial routinely evaluates opportunities to acquire financial institutions. The acquisition of FBC and its wholly-owned subsidiary First Bank is consistent with First Financial's expansion strategy. First Financial's board of directors, senior management and certain lenders reviewed the business, financial condition, results of operation and prospects for First Bank, the market condition of the market area in which First Bank conducts business, the compatibility of the management and the proposed financial terms of the transaction. In addition, management of First Financial believes that the transaction will expand First Financial's footprint in the Conroe and the southeast Texas area, provide opportunities for future growth and provide the potential to realize cost savings. First Financial's board of directors also considered the financial condition and valuation for both FBC and First Financial as well as the financial and other effects the transaction would have on First Financial's shareholders.

While management of First Financial believes that revenue opportunities will be achieved and costs savings will be obtained following the transaction, First Financial has not quantified the amount of enhancements or projected the areas of operation in which such enhancements will occur.

In view of the variety of factors considered in connection with its evaluation of the transaction, the First Financial board did not find it useful to and did not attempt to quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to factors it considered. Further, individual directors may have given differing weights to different factors. In addition, the First Financial board did not undertake to make any specific determination as to whether any particular factor, or any aspect of any particular factor, was favorable or unfavorable to its ultimate determination. Rather, the board conducted an overall analysis of the factors it considered material, including thorough discussions with, and questioning of, First Financial's management.

Effective Time of the Merger

The merger will become effective at the date and time specified in the certificate of merger to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Texas regarding the merger. If the shareholders of FBC approve the merger pursuant to the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, and if all required regulatory approvals are obtained and the other conditions to the parties' obligations to effect the merger are met or waived by the party entitled to do so, we anticipate that the merger will be completed in July 2015, although delays could occur. We cannot assure you that we can obtain the necessary shareholder and regulatory approvals or that the other conditions to completion of the merger set forth in the reorganization agreement can or will be satisfied.

Exchange of FBC Stock Certificates

Promptly after the effective time of the merger, First Financial will deposit with or make available to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company, as exchange and transfer agent, shares of First Financial common stock and cash to be exchanged for shares of FBC common stock in accordance with the reorganization agreement (the Exchange Fund). With the intent to be within five days of the effective time of the merger, First Financial will cause the exchange agent to mail to each record holder of FBC common stock a letter of transmittal and instructions describing the procedures for surrendering stock certificates representing shares of FBC common stock in exchange for shares of First Financial common stock and, if applicable, cash. The shares of First Financial common stock issuable in exchange for the shares of FBC common stock will be issued solely in uncertificated book-entry form. Please do not send the exchange agent any stock certificates until you receive these instructions. Stock certificates delivered to the exchange agent without a properly completed letter of transmittal will be rejected and returned for corrective action.

Until surrendered in accordance with the instructions of the exchange agent, other than shares of FBC common stock subject to the exercise of dissenters' rights, each stock certificate representing shares of FBC common stock will represent after the effective time of the merger only the right to receive, without interest, the merger consideration and any cash in lieu of a fractional share of First Financial common stock to be issued or paid upon surrender of such stock certificate and any dividends or distributions to which such holder is entitled pursuant to the reorganization agreement. Subject to the terms of the reorganization agreement, each record holder of FBC common stock will generally be entitled to receive without interest, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the effective time of the merger that are payable with respect to whole shares of First Financial common stock.

If any certificate representing shares of FBC common stock is lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of such fact by the person claiming the certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by First Financial or the exchange agent, the posting by such person of a bond in such amount as the exchange agent may determine is reasonably necessary as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such certificate, the exchange agent will issue in exchange for the lost, stolen or destroyed certificate the merger consideration, cash in lieu of fractional shares and any dividends or other distributions that have been payable or become payable in respect of the shares of First Financial common stock represented by that certificate pursuant to the reorganization agreement.

Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains unclaimed by the shareholders of FBC at the expiration of six months after the effective time of the merger will be paid to First Financial. In such event, any former shareholders of FBC who have not previously complied with the exchange procedures set forth in the reorganization agreement and instructions from the exchange agent will look only to First Financial with respect to the merger consideration, any cash in lieu of any fractional shares and any unpaid dividends and distributions on the First Financial common stock as determined pursuant to the reorganization agreement, in each case, without any interest.

First Financial and the exchange agent, as the case may be, will be entitled to deduct and withhold, if necessary, from any consideration payable pursuant to the reorganization agreement to any holder of FBC common stock such amounts as First Financial or the exchange agent is required to deduct or withhold under applicable tax laws, and any such withheld amounts that are paid to the appropriate taxing authorities will be treated for purposes of the reorganization agreement as having been paid to the holder of FBC common stock from whom such amounts were deducted or withheld.

Financial Interests of Directors and Officers of FBC in the Merger

In considering the recommendation of the board of directors of FBC to vote for the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement, you should be aware that certain directors and officers of FBC have interests in the merger that are in addition to, or different from, their interests as shareholders of FBC. The board of FBC was aware of these interests and considered them in approving the reorganization agreement. These interests include:

Indemnification. First Financial agreed to indemnify the directors and officers of FBC or First Bank as of the effective time of the merger for three (3) years thereafter, against costs or expenses, judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages or liabilities incurred in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising out of matters existing or occurring at or before the effective time of the merger, whether asserted or claimed before, at or after the effective time of the merger, arising in whole or in part out of or pertaining to the fact that he or she was acting in his or her capacity as a director or officer of FBC or First Bank to the fullest extent that the indemnified party would be entitled under the certificate of formation of FBC or the articles of association of First Bank, as applicable, as in effect on the date of the reorganization agreement and to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Employment Agreements with First Financial Bank. First Financial's obligation to complete the merger is subject to certain of FBC's officers, including Messrs. Sam W. Baker, Bart Griffith and Lee Warren, entering into employment and non-competition agreements with First Financial Bank before the completion of the merger. The employment agreements provide for an initial term of two (2) years and entitles the named individual to receive annual base salary payments, reimbursement for certain business expenses, and participation in all benefit plans available to employees of First Financial Bank. The agreements with Messrs. Baker, Griffith and Warren provide for initial base salaries of $310,000, $225,000 and $153,000, respectively. The agreements also contain non-competition and non-solicitation obligations that remain in effect during employment. If employment is terminated prior to the second anniversary of the closing date of the merger, non-competition and non-solicitation obligations remain in effect until the later of twelve months after the termination of the employment or the time period during which the employee receives certain severance benefits pursuant to the terms of the employment agreement.

In the event that an employee's employment is terminated without cause or for good reason (as such terms are defined in the employment agreements), the employee will be entitled to receive his accrued benefits and, subject to certain conditions, if such termination occurs less than two years following the closing date of the merger, the employee will be entitled to receive the base salary the employee would have earned from the date of termination through the end of the second year following the closing date of the merger. The employment agreements also contain provisions for certain payment in the event of the employee's death or permanent disability. Each employment agreement has been executed but will not become effective until the effective time of the merger.

Completion Bonus. FBC has agreed to pay Sam W. Baker, First Bank's President and Chief Executive Officer, a bonus of $200,000 for completing the merger.

Director Support Agreements. Each of FBC's directors has entered into separate director support agreements with First Financial, effective as of April 1, 2015, which provide, among other things, that each director will support and not harm the goodwill of FBC, First Financial or any subsidiary of either FBC or First Financial or its customers and clients. The agreement also contains noncompetition and nonsolicitation obligations.

Repayment of FBC's Subordinate Promissory Notes. Certain directors and officers of FBC hold Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 of FBC. Pursuant to the reorganization agreement, First Financial has agreed to redeem all of FBC's Subordinated Promissory Notes due June 30, 2028 within three business days of the closing date of the merger.

First Financial agreed to file with NASDAQ Global Select Market all documents with respect to the listing of the shares of First Financial common stock to be issued in the merger.

Amendment or Waiver of the Reorganization Agreement

No termination, cancellation, modification, amendment, deletion, addition or other change to the reorganization agreement, or any provision thereof, or waiver of any right or remedy therein provided, is effective for any purpose unless specifically set forth in a writing signed by the party or parties to be bound therein. The waiver of any right or remedy in respect to any occurrence or event on one occasion is not deemed a waiver of such right or remedy in respect to such occurrence or event on any other occasion.

The reorganization agreement may be amended at any time prior to or after approval of the reorganization agreement by the shareholders of FBC but, after any submission of the reorganization agreement to such shareholders for approval, no amendment of the reorganization agreement will be made that reduces the consideration payable to FBC or that materially and adversely affects the rights of shareholders of FBC under the reorganization agreement without the requisite approval of such shareholders.

Termination of the Reorganization Agreement

First Financial and FBC can mutually agree at any time to terminate the reorganization agreement without completing the merger. In addition, either First Financial or FBC may decide, without the consent of the other, to terminate the reorganization agreement if:

the merger has not been completed by December 31, 2015 or such later date approved by First Financial and FBC, unless the failure to complete the merger by that time is due to a material breach of the reorganization agreement by the party that seeks to terminate the reorganization agreement;

any of the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement are not approved by the appropriate regulatory authorities or if either party reasonably determines, in good faith and after consulting with counsel, there is substantial likelihood that any necessary regulatory approval will not be obtained or will be obtained only upon a condition or conditions could reasonably be expected to be materially burdensome on, or materially impair the anticipated benefits of the merger;

any order, decree or ruling or any other action which seeks to restrain, enjoin or prohibit the merger is issued, and such order, decree, ruling or other action is final and non-appealable;

there has been any material adverse change with respect to the other party;

the other party materially breaches its representations and warranties or any covenant or agreement contained in the reorganization agreement and such breach has not been cured within 30 days after the terminating party gives written notice of such failure to the breaching party;

the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein are not approved by the required vote of the shareholders of FBC at the special meeting; provided, that FBC may only terminate the reorganization agreement if the board of directors of FBC recommended that the shareholders of FBC vote in favor of the approval and adoption of the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated therein; or the market price of First Financial's common stock is less than $19.58 per share; provided, that should First Financial exercise its right, in its sole discretion, to make a counter offer so that the aggregate merger consideration (consisting of any combination of stock and cash, subject to certain tax limitations) is no less than $57.0 million, then FBC may not terminate the reorganization agreement in these circumstances.

Table of Contents

In addition, First Financial may terminate the reorganization agreement, without the consent of FBC, if:

on or prior to July 15, 2015, certain environmental issues become apparent or the results of any environmental inspections or surveys of FBC properties identify certain potential or current violations of environmental laws or environmental law requires certain remedial or clean up action;

FBC or First Bank enter into any formal or informal administrative actions with a governmental entity or any such action is threatened by a governmental entity;

FBC has mailed this proxy statement/prospectus to its shareholders and FBC does not hold its special shareholders meeting within 60 days thereafter;

the reorganization agreement is not approved by the required vote of shareholders of FBC;

the board of directors of FBC fails to recommend that the shareholders vote in favor of approval of the reorganization agreement; or the individuals that executed a director support agreement or a voting agreement and irrevocable proxy have violated the terms thereof.

Expenses

FBC and First Financial will each pay their respective expenses incurred in connection with the preparation and performance of their respective obligations under the reorganization agreement, whether or not the transactions provided for in the reorganization agreement are completed, including, but not limited to, fees and expenses of their own counsel, financial or other consultants, investment bankers and accountants, and filing, registration, application and printing fees. Similarly, each of FBC and First Financial agreed to indemnify the other party against any cost, expense or liability (including reasonable attorneys' fees) in respect of any claim made by any party for a broker's or finder's fee in connection with the merger.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger

The following discussion addresses the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders (as defined below) of FBC common stock. The discussion is based on the Code, Treasury regulations, administrative rulings and judicial decisions, all as currently in effect and all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect) and to differing interpretations. Accordingly, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to holders of FBC common stock could differ from those described below.

This discussion applies only to U.S. holders that hold their FBC common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code. Further, this discussion does not address all aspects of U.S. federal taxation that may be relevant to a particular U.S. holder in light of the holder's personal circumstances or to holders subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax laws, including, without limitation:

financial institutions or mutual funds,

tax-exempt organizations,

insurance companies,

dealers in securities or foreign currency, traders in securities who elect to apply a mark-to-market method of accounting, partnerships and other pass-through entities and investors in such entities, controlled foreign corporations or passive foreign investment companies, regulated investment companies and real estate investment trusts,

broker-dealers,

Table of Contents

holders liable for the alternative minimum tax, holders that have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar, holders who received their FBC common stock through the exercise of employee stock options, through a tax-qualified retirement plan or otherwise as compensation, holders who hold FBC common stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale, conversion transaction or other integrated investment, and U.S. expatriates or certain former citizens or long-term residents of the United States.

In addition, the discussion does not address any alternative minimum tax or any state, local or foreign tax consequences of the merger, or any tax consequences of the merger under any U.S. federal tax laws other than income tax.

For purposes of this discussion, a U.S. holder is a beneficial owner of FBC common stock who is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes: (i) an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States; (ii) a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation created or organized under the laws of the United States or any state thereof or the District of Columbia; (iii) an estate that is subject to U.S. federal income tax on its income regardless of its source; or (iv) a trust (A) if a U.S. court is able to exercise primary supervision over its administration and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (B) that was in existence on August 20, 1996, and has made a valid election to be treated as a United States person for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

If a partnership (or an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) holds shares of FBC common stock, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. We urge such partners and partnerships to consult their own tax advisors regarding the particular tax consequences of the merger to them.

Determining the actual U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to a holder may be complex and will depend, in part, on the holder's particular circumstances. We urge each holder of FBC common stock to consult his or her tax advisor with respect to the particular tax consequences of the merger to such holder.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger Generally

In connection with the filing with the SEC of this registration statement on Form S-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part, Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP, counsel to First Financial, has rendered its tax opinion to First Financial: (a) that the merger is a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code and that (b) that the following discussion under the heading "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger," insofar as it relates to U.S. federal income tax law, is accurate in all material respects. A copy of this opinion has been filed as an exhibit to First Financial's registration statement of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part. In rendering its opinion, counsel has relied upon certain assumptions and representation and covenants, including those contained in certificates of officers of First Financial and FBC, reasonably satisfactory in form and substance to counsel. If any of the assumptions, representations or covenants upon which counsel's opinion is based are inaccurate, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger could be adversely affected. The opinion represents counsel's best legal judgment. No ruling has been requested (or is expected to be requested) from the IRS regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger and counsel's opinion is not binding on the IRS. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the IRS will not assert, and a court will not sustain, a position contrary to any of the tax consequences set forth below. The following discussion regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger assumes that the merger will be consummated as described in the reorganization agreement and this proxy statement/prospectus.

Exchange Solely for First Financial Common Stock. No gain or loss will be recognized by a U.S. holder who receives solely shares of First Financial common stock (except for cash received in lieu of a fractional share) in exchange for all of his or her shares of FBC common stock. The tax basis of the shares of First Financial common stock received by a U.S. holder in such exchange will be equal (except for the basis attributable to any fractional share of First Financial common stock) to the basis of the FBC common stock surrendered in exchange for the First Financial common stock. The holding period of the First Financial common stock received by a U.S. holder will include the holding period of shares of FBC common stock surrendered by the holder in exchange for the First Financial common stock. If a U.S. holder purchased or acquired his or her FBC common stock on different dates or at different prices, the U.S. holder should consult his or her tax advisor regarding the tax basis and holding period of the First Financial common stock received in the merger.

Exchange for First Financial Common Stock and Cash. A U.S. holder who receives both First Financial common stock and cash in the exchange will recognize gain (but not loss) equal to the lesser of (1) the amount of cash received (other than cash received in lieu of a fractional share of First Financial common stock) and (2) the amount of gain realized in the transaction. The amount of gain a U.S. holder realizes will equal the amount by which the cash plus the fair market value of First Financial common stock received exceeds the holder's adjusted tax basis in the FBC common stock to be surrendered in the exchange. Any gain recognized by a U.S. holder could be taxed as a capital gain or a dividend, as described below. Except to the extent any cash received is treated as a dividend as discussed below, any gain recognized generally will be long-term capital gain if, as of the effective date of the merger, the U.S. holder's holding period with respect to the FBC common stock surrendered exceeds one year.

If a U.S. holder acquired his or her FBC common stock at different times or different prices, the holder should consult the holder's tax advisor regarding the manner in which gain or loss should be determined for each identifiable block of FBC common stock surrendered in the exchange.

The aggregate tax basis of the shares of First Financial common stock received (including a fractional share of First Financial common stock deemed issued and redeemed as described below) by a U.S. holder will be the same as the basis of the shares of FBC common stock surrendered in exchange for the shares of First Financial common stock, plus any gain recognized in the merger by such holder (excluding gain as a result of cash received in lieu of a fractional share) regardless of whether such gain is classified as capital gain or dividend income, and minus any cash received (other than cash in lieu of a fractional share) by the holder in the merger. The holding period for shares of First Financial common stock received in the merger (including a fractional share of First Financial common stock deemed received and redeemed as described below) by a U.S. holder will include such holder's holding period for the FBC common stock surrendered in exchange for the First Financial common stock. If a U.S. holder purchased or acquired FBC common stock on different dates or at different prices, the holder should consult his or her tax advisor for purposes of determining the basis and holding period of the First Financial common stock received in the merger.

Cash Received in Lieu of a Fractional Share. A U.S. holder who receives cash instead of a fractional share of First Financial common stock will be treated as having received the fractional share in the merger and then as having exchanged the fractional share for cash in redemption by First Financial. A U.S. holder will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the tax basis allocable to a fractional share. The gain or loss will be capital gain or loss and long-term capital gain or loss if the holder has held the fractional share exchanged (including the holding period for the FBC common stock exchanged therefor) for more than one year at the effective date of the merger. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Potential Characterization of Gain as a Dividend. In general, the determination of whether gain recognized by a U.S. holder who exchanges his or her FBC common stock for a combination of First Financial common stock and cash will be treated as capital gain or as a dividend will depend on whether, and to what extent, the merger reduces the U.S. holder's deemed percentage ownership of First Financial common stock. For purposes of this determination, a U.S. holder will be treated as if the holder first exchanged his or her FBC common stock solely for First Financial common stock and then First Financial immediately redeemed a portion of the holder's First Financial common stock in the exchange for cash received in the merger by that holder. The gain recognized by the U.S. holder in the exchange followed by a deemed redemption will be capital gain if, with respect to such holder, the deemed redemption is substantially disproportionate or not essentially equivalent to a dividend.

In general, the deemed redemption will be substantially disproportionate with respect to a U.S. holder if the percentage described in clause (2) below is less than 80% of the percentage described in clause (1) below. Whether the deemed redemption is not essentially equivalent to a dividend with respect to a U.S. holder will depend on the holder's particular circumstances. In order for the deemed redemption to be not essentially equivalent to a dividend, the reduction must result in a meaningful reduction in the holder's deemed percentage ownership of First Financial common stock. In general, a determination requires a comparison of (1) the percentage of outstanding voting stock of First Financial that the holder is deemed actually and constructively to have owned immediately before the deemed redemption by First Financial and (2) the percentage of outstanding voting stock of First Financial actually and constructively owned by the U.S. holder immediately after the deemed redemption by First Financial. In applying the foregoing test, a U.S. holder may, under constructive ownership rules, be deemed to own stock in addition to stock actually owned by the U.S. holder, including stock owned by other persons and stock subject to an option held by such holder or by other persons. Because the constructive ownership rules are complex, each U.S. holder should consult his or her own tax advisor as to the applicability of these rules. The IRS has indicated that a minority shareholder in a publicly traded corporation whose relative stock interest is minimal and who exercises no control with respect to corporate affairs is considered to have a meaningful reduction if that shareholder has any reduction in his or her percentage stock ownership under the foregoing analysis.

These rules are complex and dependent upon the specific facts of a particular U.S. holder. Consequently, we urge each U.S. holder that may be subject to these rules to consult his or her own tax advisor as to the application of these rules to the particular facts relevant to the holder.

Dissenters. Upon the proper exercise of dissenters' rights, a U.S. holder will exchange all of the shares of FBC common stock actually owned by that holder solely for cash and will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and his or her adjusted tax basis in the shares of FBC common stock surrendered. The gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. holder's holding period with respect to the FBC common stock surrendered is more than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. In some cases, if the holder owns shares of First Financial common stock actually or constructively after the merger, the cash received could be treated as a dividend, in which case such holder may recognize dividend income up to the amount of cash received.

Medicare Tax. If a U.S. holder that is an individual has modified gross income for the taxable year over a certain threshold (between $125,000 and $250,000 depending upon the individual's U.S. federal income tax filing status), such an individual is subject to a 3.8% tax on the lesser of: (i) his or her net investment income for the relevant taxable year; or (ii) the excess of his or her modified gross income for the taxable year over his or her applicable threshold (between $125,000 and $250,000 depending upon the individual's U.S. federal income tax filing status). Net investment income generally would include any capital gain incurred in connection with the merger (including gain treated as dividend income), as well as other items of interest, dividends, capital gains, and rental or royalty income of the individual.

Backup Withholding

Payments of cash to a U.S. holder pursuant to the merger may under certain circumstances be subject to information reporting and backup withholding. Generally, backup withholding will not apply if a U.S. holder:

furnishes a correct taxpayer identification number to the exchange agent and certifies that such holder is not subject to backup withholding on the substitute Form W-9 or successor form included in the letter of transmittal received and otherwise complies with applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules;
or

is otherwise exempt from backup withholding.

Table of Contents

Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules are not an additional tax and will generally be allowed as a refund or credit against a holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, provided the holder furnishes the required information to the IRS.

Reporting Requirements

A holder who receives shares of First Financial common stock upon completion of the merger and who is considered a significant holder will be required to retain records pertaining to the merger and to file with such holder's U.S. federal income tax return for the year in which the merger takes place a statement setting forth certain facts relating to the merger. For this purpose, a holder is only a significant holder if the person owns at least 1% by vote or value of FBC's outstanding shares or has a tax basis of $1,000,000 or more in his or her FBC common stock and securities. Such statement must include the holder's tax basis in and fair market value of his or her FBC common stock and securities surrendered in the merger.

Tax Treatment of Entities

No gain or loss should be recognized by First Financial or FBC as a result of the merger.

This discussion of certain material U.S. federal income tax consequences is for general information only and is not tax advice. We urge holders of FBC common stock to consult their tax advisors with respect to the application of U.S. federal income tax laws to their particular situations as well as any tax consequences arising under the U.S. federal estate or gift tax rules, or under the laws of any state, local, foreign or other taxing jurisdiction or under any applicable tax treaty.

Accounting Treatment

The merger will be accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Under this method, FBC's assets and liabilities as of the date of the merger will be recorded at their respective fair values. Any difference between the purchase price for FBC and the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired (including core deposit intangibles) will be recorded as goodwill. In accordance with ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations, issued in July 2001, the goodwill resulting from the merger will not be amortized to expense, but instead will be reviewed for impairment at least annually and to the extent goodwill is impaired, its carrying value will be written down to its implied fair value and a charge will be made to earnings. Core deposit and other intangibles with definite useful lives recorded by First Financial in connection with the merger will be amortized to expense in accordance with such rules. The consolidated financial statements of First Financial issued after the merger will reflect the results attributable to the acquired operations of FBC beginning on the date of completion of the merger.

Restrictions on Resales of First Financial Common Stock Received in the Merger

The shares of First Financial common stock issued in the merger will not be subject to any restrictions on transfer arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as the Securities Act, except for shares of First Financial common stock issued to any FBC shareholder who may be deemed to be an affiliate of First Financial after completion of the merger. Affiliates generally are defined as persons or entities who control, are controlled by or are under common control with First Financial at or after the effective time of the merger and generally include executive officers, directors and beneficial owners of 10% or more of the common stock of First Financial. FBC shareholders who are not affiliates of First Financial after the completion of the merger may sell their shares of First Financial common stock at any time.

To the knowledge of FBC, no FBC shareholder who receives First Financial common stock will be deemed to be an affiliate of First Financial upon completion of the merger. In the event a FBC shareholder become an affiliates of First Financial after completion of the merger, any sales of First Financial common stock will be subject to the volume and sale limitations of Rule 144 under the Securities Act, until such former FBC Shareholder is no longer an affiliate of First Financial. This proxy statement/prospectus does not cover resales of First Financial common stock received by any person upon completion of the merger, and no person is authorized to make any use of this proxy statement/prospectus in connection with any resale.

Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger

First Financial's acquisition of FBC must be approved by the Federal Reserve. On April 10, 2015, First Financial filed the required application with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas to request the Federal Reserve's approval under the BHC Act, which the Federal Reserve approved on May 20, 2015.

In addition, the bank merger of First Bank with and into First Financial Bank requires the approval of the OCC. On April 10, 2015, First Financial Bank and First Bank filed an application with the OCC to obtain approval of bank merger, which the OCC approved on May 22, 2015. The U.S. Department of Justice has between 15 and 30 days following approval by the OCC to challenge the approval on antitrust grounds. While FBC and First Financial do not know of any reason that the Department of Justice would challenge regulatory approval by the OCC and believe that the likelihood of such action is remote, there can be no assurance that the Department of Justice will not initiate such a proceeding, or if such a proceeding is initiated, as to the result of any such challenge.

The merger cannot proceed in the absence of these required regulatory approvals. The approval of any notice or application merely implies satisfaction of regulatory criteria for approval, and does not include review of the merger from the standpoint of the adequacy of the consideration to be received by, or fairness to, shareholders. Regulatory approval does not constitute an endorsement or recommendation of the proposed transaction.

First Financial and FBC are not aware of any material governmental approvals or actions that are required prior to the parties' completion of the merger other than those described in this proxy statement/prospectus. If any additional governmental approvals or actions are required, the parties presently intend to seek those approvals or actions. However, the parties cannot assure you that any of these additional approvals or actions will be obtained.

Although the approval of the Texas Department of Banking is not required for the merger of First Bank with and into First Financial Bank, a copy of the application filed with the Federal Reserve was filed with the Texas Department of Banking on April 23, 2015, which the Texas Department of Banking acknowledged complied with the applicable statutes of Texas law on May 19, 2015.

Dissenters' Rights of FBC Shareholders

General. If you hold one or more shares of FBC common stock, you are entitled to dissenters' rights under Texas law and have the right to dissent from the merger and have the appraised fair value of your shares of FBC common stock paid to you in cash. The appraised fair value may be more or less than the value of the shares of First Financial common stock and, if applicable, cash, being paid in the merger in exchange for the common stock of FBC. If you are contemplating exercising your right to dissent, we urge you to read carefully the provisions of Chapter 10, Subchapter H of the TBOC, which are attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix C, and consult with your legal counsel before electing or attempting to exercise these rights. The following discussion describes the steps you must take if you want to exercise your right to dissent. You should read this summary and the full text of the law carefully.

Table of Contents

How to Exercise and Perfect Your Right to Dissent. To be eligible to exercise your right to dissent to the merger:

- (i) you must, prior to the FBC special meeting, provide FBC with a written objection to the merger that states that you intend to exercise your right to dissent if the reorganization agreement is approved and the merger is completed and that provides an address to which FBC may send a notice if the merger is completed;
- (ii) you must vote your shares of FBC common stock against approval of the reorganization agreement at the special meeting in person or by proxy; and
- (iii) you must, not later than the 20th day after First Financial (which will be the successor to FBC) sends you notice that the merger was completed, provide First Financial with (1) a written demand for payment of the fair value of the shares of FBC common stock that you own which states the number and class of shares of FBC capital stock you own, your estimate of the fair value of such stock and an address to which a notice relating to the dissent and appraisal procedures may be sent and (2) your certificates representing FBC common stock.

If you intend to dissent from the merger, you should send the notice to:

FBC Bancshares, Inc.

1800 West White Oak Terrace

Conroe, Texas 77304

Attention: President and Secretary

If you fail to (i) send the written objection to the merger in the proper form prior to the FBC special meeting, (ii) vote your shares of FBC common stock at the special meeting against the approval of the reorganization agreement or (iii) submit your demand for payment in the proper form on a timely basis, you will lose your right to dissent from the merger. If you fail to submit to First Financial on a timely basis the certificates representing the shares of FBC common stock that you hold after you have submitted the demand for payment as described above, First Financial will have the option to terminate your right of dissent as to your shares of FBC common stock. In any instance of a termination or loss of your right of dissent, you will instead receive the consideration authorized by the board of directors of FBC and calculated in accordance with the reorganization agreement following consummation of the merger. If you comply with items (i) and (ii) above and the merger is completed, First Financial will send you a written notice advising you that the merger has been completed. First Financial must deliver this notice to you within ten days after the merger is completed.

Your Demand for Payment. If the merger is completed, you have provided your written objection to the merger to FBC in a timely manner and in proper form and you have voted against the reorganization agreement at the special meeting as described above and you desire to receive the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock in cash, you must, within 20 days of the date on which First Financial sends to you the notice of the effectiveness of the merger, give First Financial a written demand for payment of the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock. The fair value of your shares of FBC common stock will be the value of the shares on the day immediately preceding the merger, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in anticipation of the merger. After the merger is completed, your written demand and any notice sent to First Financial must be addressed to:

First Financial Bankshares, Inc.

400 Pine Street

Abilene, Texas 79601

Attention: President and Secretary

Your written demand must include a demand for payment for your shares for which rights of dissent and appraisal are sought and must state the number of shares and class of FBC common stock you own and your estimate of the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock and an address to which a notice relating to the dissent and appraisal procedures may be sent. This written demand must be delivered to First Financial within 20 days of the date on which First Financial sends to you the notice of the effectiveness of the merger. If your written demand for payment in proper form is not received by First Financial within that 20 day period, you will be bound by the merger and you will not be entitled to receive a cash payment representing the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock. Instead, you will receive shares of First Financial common stock and, if applicable, cash as the merger consideration set forth in the reorganization agreement.

Delivery of Stock Certificates. If you have satisfied the requirements for the exercise of your right to dissent described above, including the delivery of the written demand for payment to First Financial as described above, you must, not later than the 20th day after you make your written demand for payment to First Financial, submit to First Financial your certificate or certificates representing the shares of FBC common stock that you own, as the case may be. You may submit those certificates with your demand for payment if you prefer. In accordance with the provisions of the TBOC, First Financial will note on each such certificate that you have demanded payment of the fair value of the shares of FBC common stock that were represented by such certificate under the provisions of the TBOC relating to the rights of dissenting owners. If you fail to submit all of the certificates representing the shares of FBC common stock for which you have exercised the right of dissent in a timely fashion, First Financial will have the right to terminate your rights of dissent and appraisal with respect to all of your shares of FBC common stock unless a court, for good cause shown, directs First Financial not to terminate those rights.

First Financial's Actions Upon Receipt of Your Demand for Payment. Within 20 days after First Financial receives your demand for payment and your estimate of the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock, First Financial must send you written notice stating whether or not it accepts your estimate of the fair value of your shares.

If First Financial accepts your estimate, First Financial will notify you that it will pay the amount of your estimated fair value within 90 days of the merger being completed. First Financial will make this payment to you only if you have surrendered the share certificates representing your shares of FBC common stock, duly endorsed for transfer, to First Financial.

If First Financial does not accept your estimate, First Financial will notify you of this fact and will make an offer of an alternative estimate of the fair value of your shares that it is willing to pay you within 120 days of the merger being completed, which you may accept within 90 days or decline.

Payment of the Fair Value of Your Shares of FBC Common Stock Upon Agreement of an Estimate. If you and First Financial have reached an agreement on the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock within 90 days after the merger is completed, First Financial must pay you the agreed amount within 120 days after the merger is completed, provided that you have surrendered the share certificates representing your shares of FBC common stock, duly endorsed for transfer, to First Financial.

Commencement of Legal Proceedings if a Demand for Payment Remains Unsettled. If you and First Financial have not reached an agreement as to the fair market value of your shares of FBC common stock within 90 days after the merger is completed, you or First Financial may, within 60 days after the expiration of such 90 day period, commence proceedings in Taylor County, Texas, asking the court to determine the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock. The court will determine if you have complied with provisions of the TBOC regarding their right of dissent and if you have become entitled to a valuation of and payment for your shares of FBC common stock. The court will appoint one or more qualified persons to act as appraisers to determine the fair value of your shares in the manner prescribed by the TBOC. The appraisers will determine the fair value of your shares and will report this value to the court. The court will consider the report, and both you and First Financial may address the court about the report. The court will determine the fair value of your shares and direct First Financial to pay that amount, plus interest, which will begin to accrue 91 days after the merger is completed. The court may require you to share in the court costs relating to the matter to the extent the court deems it fair and equitable that you do so.

Rights as a Shareholder. If you have made a written demand on First Financial for payment of the fair value of your shares of FBC common stock, you will not thereafter be entitled to vote or exercise any other rights as a shareholder except the right to receive payment for your shares as described herein and the right to maintain an appropriate action to obtain relief on the ground that the merger would be or was fraudulent. In the absence of fraud in the transaction, your right under the dissent provisions described herein is the exclusive remedy for the recovery of the value of your shares of FBC common stock or money damages with respect to the merger.

Withdrawal of Demand. If you have made a written demand on First Financial for payment of the fair value of your FBC common stock, you may withdraw such demand at any time before payment for your shares has been made or before a petition has been filed with a court for determination of the fair value of your shares. If you withdraw your demand or are otherwise unsuccessful in asserting your dissenters' rights, you will be bound by the merger and your status as a shareholder will be restored without prejudice to any corporate proceedings, dividends or distributions which may have occurred during the interim.

Income Tax Consequences. See Proposal 1: Approval of the Reorganization Agreement Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger beginning on page 45 for a discussion on how the federal income tax consequences of your action will change if you elect to dissent from the merger.

PROPOSAL 2: ADJOURNMENT OF THE SPECIAL MEETING

The special meeting may be adjourned or postponed to a later date or dates in order to permit further solicitation of proxies. In order to allow proxies that have been received at the time of the meeting to be voted for an adjournment, if necessary, the voting representatives and board of directors of FBC are submitting the question of adjournment/postponement to the FBC shareholders as a separate matter for their consideration. The voting representatives and the board of directors of FBC recommend that its shareholders vote FOR the adjournment/postponement proposal. If it is necessary to adjourn or postpone the special meeting, no notice of such adjourned or postponed meeting is required to be given to FBC's shareholders. To adjourn or postpone the special meeting, the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of FBC common stock present, in person or by proxy, at the meeting is required.

The board of directors of FBC recommends that you vote FOR approval of this proposal.

COMPARISON OF RIGHTS OF SHAREHOLDERS OF FBC AND FIRST FINANCIAL

The rights of shareholders of FBC under the certificate of formation and bylaws of FBC will differ in some respects from the rights that shareholders of FBC will have as shareholders of First Financial under the certificate of formation and bylaws of First Financial. Copies of First Financial's certificate of formation and bylaws have been previously filed by First Financial with the SEC. Copies of FBC's certificate of formation and bylaws are available upon written request from FBC

Certain differences between the provisions contained in the certificate of formation and bylaws of FBC, and the certificate of formation and bylaws of First Financial, as such differences may affect the rights of shareholders, are summarized below. If, for any cause, the entire Board of Directors shall not have been elected at an annual meeting, any vacancies may be filled by an election as soon thereafter as convenient at a special meeting of the shareholders called for that purpose in the manner provided in the bylaws.

TEXAS ANTI-TAKEOVER STATUTES

First Financial is subject to the affiliated business combinations provisions of Chapter 21, Subchapter M of the TBOC (Sections 21.601 through 21.610), which provide that a Texas corporation may not engage in certain business combinations, including mergers, consolidations and asset sales, with a person, or an affiliate or associate of such person, who is an Affiliated Shareholder (generally defined as the holder of 20% or more of the corporation's voting shares) for a period of three years from the date such person became an Affiliated Shareholder unless: (1) the business combination or purchase or acquisition of shares made by the Affiliated Shareholder was approved by the board of directors of the corporation before the Affiliated Shareholder became an Affiliated Shareholder or (2) the business combination was approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation not beneficially owned by the Affiliated Shareholder, at a meeting of shareholders called for that purpose (and not by written consent), not less than six months after the Affiliated Shareholder became an Affiliated Shareholder.

The affiliated business combinations provisions of the TBOC are not applicable to:

the business combination of a corporation:

- (a) where the corporation's original certificate of formation or bylaws contain a provision expressly electing not to be governed by the affiliated business combinations provisions of the TBOC;
- (b) that adopted an amendment to its certificate of formation or bylaws before December 31, 1997, expressly electing not to be governed by the affiliated business combinations provisions of the TBOC; or
- (c) that adopts an amendment to its certificate of formation or bylaws after December 31, 1997, by the affirmative vote of the holders, other than Affiliated Shareholders, of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation, expressly electing not to be governed by the affiliated business combinations provisions of the TBOC;

a business combination of a corporation with an Affiliated Shareholder that became an Affiliated Shareholder inadvertently, if the Affiliated Shareholder:

- (a) as soon as practicable divests itself of enough shares to no longer be an Affiliated Shareholder; and
- (b) would not at any time within the three-year period preceding the announcement of the business combination have been an Affiliated Shareholder but for the inadvertent acquisition;

a business combination with an Affiliated Shareholder that was the beneficial owner of 20% or more of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation on December 31, 1996, and continuously until the announcement date of the business combination;

a business combination with an Affiliated Shareholder who became an Affiliated Shareholder through a transfer of shares of the corporation by will or intestate succession and continuously was such an Affiliated Shareholder until the announcement date of the business combination; or a business combination of a corporation with a wholly owned subsidiary if the subsidiary is not an affiliate or associate of the Affiliated Shareholder other than by reason of the Affiliated Shareholder's beneficial ownership of the voting shares of the corporation.

Neither First Financial's certificate of formation nor its bylaws contain any provision expressly providing that First Financial will not be subject to the affiliated business combinations provisions of the TBOC. The affiliated business combinations provisions of the TBOC may have the effect of inhibiting a non-negotiated merger or other business combination involving First Financial, even if such event(s) would be beneficial to the shareholders of First Financial.

BUSINESS OF FBC BANCSHARES, INC.

General

FBC was incorporated as a Texas corporation in April 2013 to serve as a bank holding company for First Bank. FBC does not, as an entity, engage in separate business activities of a material nature apart from the activities it performs for First Bank. Its primary activities are to provide assistance in the management and coordination of First Bank's financial resources. FBC has no significant assets other than all of the outstanding common stock of First Bank. FBC derives its revenues primarily from the operations of First Bank in the form of dividends received from First Bank.

First Bank was chartered as national banking association in May 1985 as First Bank of Conroe, National Association and changed its name to First Bank, National Association in May 2012. Since its inception, First Bank has generally grown organically without any significant acquisitions.

As a bank holding company, FBC is subject to supervision and regulation by the Federal Reserve in accordance with the requirements set forth in the BHC Act and by the rules and regulations issued by the Federal Reserve.

FBC shareholders are advised to obtain the current stock quotation for First Financial common stock. The market price of First Financial common stock will fluctuate from the date of this proxy statement/prospectus to the date of completion of the merger. Because the number of shares of First Financial common stock to be issued in the merger and the aggregate merger consideration that FBC shareholders will receive will fluctuate based on the market price of the First Financial common stock, FBC shareholders will not know the exact amount of the value of the consideration that FBC shareholders will receive in connection with the merger when FBC shareholders vote on the reorganization agreement and merger.

After the merger, First Financial currently expects to pay (when, as and if declared by First Financial's board of directors out of funds legally available for that purpose) regular quarterly cash dividends. While First Financial currently pays dividends on its common stock, there is no assurance that it will continue to pay dividends in the future. Future dividends on First Financial common stock will depend upon its earnings and financial condition, liquidity and capital requirements, the general economic and regulatory climate, its ability to service any equity or debt obligations senior to the common stock and other factors deemed relevant by the board of directors of First Financial.

As a holding company, First Financial is ultimately dependent upon its subsidiaries to provide funding for its operating expenses, debt service and dividends. Various banking laws applicable to First Financial Bank limit the payment of dividends and other distributions by First Financial Bank to First Financial, and may therefore limit First Financial's ability to pay dividends on its common stock. Regulatory authorities could impose administratively stricter limitations on the ability of First Financial Bank to pay dividends to First Financial if such limits were deemed appropriate to preserve certain capital adequacy requirements.

Table of ContentsFBC

There is no established public trading market for the common stock of FBC, and no market for FBC's common stock is expected to develop if the merger does not occur. No registered broker/dealer makes a market in FBC's common stock, and FBC's common stock is not listed or quoted on any stock exchange or automated quotation system. FBC acts as the transfer agent and registrar for its own shares. As of the record date, there were approximately 49 holders of FBC's common stock.

FBC is not aware of any trades in its common stock since its formation in 2013. The most recent trade of First Bank's common stock, prior to the formation of FBC, occurred on December 20, 2012, when 600 shares were traded at a price of $52.00 per share. There were other limited transfers of First Bank's common stock prior to that time, including transfers between related parties (as gifts or to trusts or estates). Because of limited trading, the price described above may not be representative of the actual or fair value of FBC's common stock. FBC is not obligated to register its common stock or, upon any registration, to create a market for its stock.

FBC's shareholders are entitled to receive dividends out of legally available funds as and when declared by FBC's board of directors, in its sole discretion. As a Texas corporation, FBC is subject to certain restrictions on dividends under the TBOC. Generally, a Texas corporation may pay dividends to its shareholders out of its surplus (the excess of its assets over its liabilities and stated capital) unless the corporation is insolvent or the payment of the dividend would render the corporation insolvent.

FBC has not paid dividends on its common stock since its inception in 2013. However, in connection with the revocation of First Bank's subchapter S election and the formation of FBC as a bank holding company for First Bank in 2013, FBC distributed to its shareholders a portion of the accumulated adjustment account in the amount of approximately $13.1 million in aggregate principal amount of subordinated promissory notes due June 30, 2028, which will be paid in full by First Financial shortly after closing the merger. FBC has used dividends received from First Bank to service the outstanding subordinated promissory notes.

FBC does not engage in separate business activities of a material nature. As a result, FBC's ability to pay dividends depends upon the dividends received from First Bank. As a national banking association, First Bank's ability to pay dividends is restricted by certain laws and regulations. Under 12 U.S.C. § 56, a national bank cannot pay dividends on its stock from its capital stock and surplus accounts. All dividends on its stock must be paid out of net profits after making deductions for expenses, including losses and provisions for loan losses. As of March 31, 2015, First Bank had retained earnings of $11.4 million. The payment of dividends out of net profits is further restricted by 12 U.S.C. § 60(a), which limits a national bank when declaring dividends on its shares of stock until its capital surplus equals the amount of capital stock or if the surplus fund does not equal the amount of capital stock, by requiring a portion of the bank's net income to be transferred to the surplus account each time dividends are declared. For this purpose, "net profits" means the remainder of all earnings from current operations plus actual recoveries on loans and investments and other assets after deducting from the total thereof all current operating expenses, actual losses and all federal and state taxes. In addition, 12 U.S.C. § 60(b) places a recent earnings limitation on the payment of dividends by a national bank by requiring prior approval by the OCC of a dividend if the total of all dividends declared by a national bank in any year exceeds the total of its net income of that year combined with retained net income of the two preceding years, less any required transfer to surplus. The OCC further restricts the ability of national banks to pay any dividends by preventing national banks from including provisions for loan losses in "net profits" and thus reducing the funds available for payment of dividends.

(v) Determination Date shall mean the fifthth Business Day immediately preceding the Closing Date (such fifthth Business Day to be determined by counting the Business Day immediately preceding the Closing Date as the first Business Day);

(vi) FFIN Appreciation Value shall mean the quotient of (A) the difference of (x) the FFIN Market Price, minus (y) the FFIN High Collar, divided by (B) two.

(vii) FFIN Appreciation Amount shall mean the product of (A) $2,000,000, multiplied by (B) FFIN Appreciation Value.

(viii) FFIN Depreciation Amount shall mean the product of (A) $2,000,000, multiplied by (B) FFIN Depreciation Value.

(ix) FFIN Depreciation Value shall mean the quotient of (A) the difference of (x) the FFIN Low Collar, minus (y) the FFIN Market Price, divided by (B) two.

(x) FFIN High Collar shall mean the sum of (A) the FFIN Starting Price, plus (B) three dollars.

Table of Contents

(xvii) Minimum Price means the quotient of (A) $57,000,000 divided by (B) the Outstanding FBC Stock.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall FFIN make an election pursuant to Section 1.05(c) or Section 9.01(i) to set the Cash Consideration at an amount that would jeopardize the ability of the Merger to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code.

(f) No certificates representing a fractional share shall be issued by FFIN. In lieu of any fractional share, each holder of FBC Stock entitled to a fractional share, upon surrender of such shares of FBC Stock, shall be entitled to receive from FFIN an amount in cash (without interest), payable in accordance with Section 1.06, rounded to the nearest cent, determined by multiplying the fractional share by the FFIN Market Price.

(g) All shares of FBC Stock to be converted into Merger Consideration pursuant to this Section 1.05 shall cease to exist, and each holder of a certificate, which immediately prior to the Effective Time represented any such shares of FBC Stock shall thereafter cease to have any rights with respect to such shares of FBC Stock, except the right to receive the proportionate share of the Merger Consideration.

(h) Any shares of FBC Stock that are owned immediately prior to the Effective Time by FBC, FFIN or their respective Subsidiaries (other than (i) shares of FBC Stock held, directly or indirectly, in trust accounts, managed accounts and the like or otherwise held in a fiduciary capacity that are beneficially owned by third parties and (ii) shares of FBC Stock held in respect of a debt previously contracted) shall be canceled and extinguished without any conversion thereof or consideration therefor (the Cancelled Shares).

(i) Each share of common stock of Merger Sub outstanding prior to the Effective Time shall remain outstanding as a share of common stock of the Surviving Corporation.

(j) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, if, between the date hereof and the Effective Time, the outstanding shares of FFIN Stock increase, decrease, change into or are exchanged for a different number or kind of shares or securities as a result of a reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split, or other similar change in capitalization (a Share Adjustment), then the number of shares of FFIN Stock to be exchanged for each share of FBC Stock and the FFIN Share Cap shall be appropriately and proportionately adjusted so that each holder of FBC Stock shall be entitled to receive the Merger Consideration in such proportion as it would have received if the record date for such Share Adjustment had been immediately after the Effective Time.

Section 1.06 Exchange Procedures

(a) Prior to the Effective Time, FFIN shall appoint Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company, pursuant to an agreement (the Exchange Agent Agreement) reasonably acceptable to FBC (the Exchange Agent) to act as the exchange agent hereunder.

(b) Promptly after the Effective Time, FFIN shall deposit with or make available to the Exchange Agent for exchange in accordance with this Section 1.06 the Aggregate Stock Consideration and if applicable, the Cash Consideration (together with, to the extent then determinable, any cash payable in lieu of fractional shares) (collectively, the Exchange Fund).

(c) Within five (5) Business Days after the Effective Time and subject to the receipt by the Exchange Agent of a list of FBC's shareholders in a format that is acceptable to the Exchange Agent, the Exchange Agent shall mail to each holder of record immediately prior to the Effective Time of certificates (other than with respect to Cancelled Shares and Dissenting Shares) representing shares of FBC Stock (each a Certificate), (i) a letter of transmittal (which shall specify

No unwritten amendment exists with respect to any written Employee Plan.

(b) Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 3.28(b) no Employee Plan is a defined benefit plan within the meaning of ERISA §3(35) or is otherwise subject to ERISA Title IV, and neither FBC nor the Bank has ever sponsored or otherwise maintained such a plan.

(c) Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 3.28(c), there have been no prohibited transactions (as defined in Code §4975(c)(1)), breaches of fiduciary duty or any other breaches or violations of any law applicable to the Employee Plans that would directly or indirectly subject the Bank or any Employee Plan to any material taxes, penalties, or other liabilities (any liability arising from any indemnification agreement or policy), except to the extent that the Bank or any Employee Plan sponsored by FBC or the Bank is involved in such transaction or breach. Each Employee Plan that is intended to be qualified under Code §401(a) has a current favorable determination or opinion letter that covers all existing amendments up to and including all changes required by the most recent IRS Cumulative List of Changes applicable to the Employee Plan and has no obligation to adopt any amendments for which the remedial amendment period under Code §401(b) has expired and neither FBC nor the Bank is aware of any circumstances likely to result in revocation of any such favorable determination or opinion letter. To the Knowledge of FBC, each such Employee Plan is so qualified and has been operated in compliance with applicable law and its terms, any related trust is exempt from federal income tax under Code §501(a) and no event has occurred that will or reasonably could result in the loss of such tax exemption or to liability for any tax under Code §511. There are no pending claims, lawsuits or actions relating to any Employee Plan (other than ordinary course claims for benefits) and, to FBC's Knowledge, none are threatened, except to the extent that FBC, the Bank or any Employee Plan sponsored by FBC or the Bank is involved in such transaction. Neither FBC nor the Bank provides benefits to any employee or dependent of such employee of the Bank after the employee terminates employment other than as disclosed in this Agreement or any schedule hereto or as required by law. No written or oral representations have been made by or on behalf of the Bank or FBC to any employee or former employee of the Bank promising or guaranteeing any employer payment or funding for the continuation of medical, dental, life or disability coverage or any other welfare benefit (as defined in ERISA §3(1)) for any period of time beyond the end of the current plan year (except to the extent of coverage required under Code §4980B). Compliance with FAS 106 would not create any material change to the FBC Financial Statements. The completion of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement will not cause a termination or partial termination, or otherwise accelerate the time of payment, exercise, or vesting, or increase the amount of compensation due to any employee, officer, former employee or former officer of FBC or the Bank except (i) as required by the terms of any Employee Plan provided to FFIN or by applicable law in connection with a qualified plan, (ii) as contemplated by this Agreement, or (iii) except as identified on Confidential Schedule 3.28(c). There are no surrender charges, penalties, or other costs or fees that would be imposed by any person against FBC, the Bank, an Employee Plan, or any other person, including an Employee Plan participant or beneficiary, as a result of the hypothetical liquidation as of the Closing Date of any insurance, annuity, or investment contracts or any other similar investment held by any Employee Plan.

(d) All contributions to any Employee Plan (including, without limitation, all employer contributions, employee salary reduction contributions and all premiums or other payments (other than claims)) that are due and payable by FBC or the Bank on or before the Closing Date have been timely paid to or made with respect to each Employee Plan and, to the extent not presently payable, appropriate reserves have been established for the payment and properly accrued in accordance with customary accounting practices.

(e) No participant, beneficiary or non-participating employee has been denied any benefit due or to become due under any Employee Plan. Neither FBC nor the Bank has misled any person as to his or her rights under any Employee Plan. All obligations required to be performed by FBC or the Bank under any Employee Plan have been performed in all material respects and neither FBC nor the Bank is in default under or in violation of any material provision of any Employee Plan. No event has occurred that would constitute grounds for an enforcement action by any party against FBC, the Bank or any fiduciary of any Employee Plan under part 5 of Title I of ERISA under any Employee Plan.

(f) With respect to each employee benefit plan (as defined in ERISA) maintained or contributed to or required to be contributed to, currently or within the last six years, by any corporation or trade or business, the employees of which, together with the employees of the Bank, are required to be treated as employed by a single employer under any of the rules contained in ERISA or Code §414 (the Controlled Group Plans):

(i) All Controlled Group Plans that are group health plans (as defined in Code §5000(b)(1) and ERISA §733(a)) have been operated up to the Closing in a manner so as to not subject FBC or the Bank to any material liability under Code §4980B or §4980D;

(ii) Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 3.28(f), there is no Controlled Group Plan that is a multiple employer plan or multiemployer plan (as either such term is defined in ERISA), nor has there been any such plan under which FBC or the Bank has had any liability in the last 5 years (or would have had liability if notice had been given); and

(iii) Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 3.27 or Confidential Schedule 3.28(f), each Employee Plan that provides (or has provided within the past 5 years) for health, dental, vision, life, disability or similar coverage is covered by one or more third-party insurance policies and FBC and the Bank are not liable for self-insuring any such claims.

Each such Controlled Group Plan is included in the listing of Employee Plans on Confidential Schedule 3.28(a).

(g) Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 3.28(g), all Employee Plan documents, annual reports or returns, audited or unaudited financial statements, actuarial valuations, summary annual reports, and summary plan descriptions issued with respect to the Employee Plans are correct, complete, and current in all material respects, have been timely filed or distributed to the extent required by law.

(h) Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 3.28(h), no Employee Plan holds any stock or other securities of FBC or the Bank or provides the opportunity for the grant, purchase or contribution of any such security.

(i) Except as provided in Confidential Schedule 3.28(i), FBC or the Bank may, at any time amend or terminate any Employee Plan that it sponsors or maintains and may withdraw from any Employee Plan to which it contributes (but does not sponsor or maintain), without obtaining the consent of any third party, other than an insurance company in the case of any benefit underwritten by an insurance company, and without incurring liability except for unpaid premiums or contributions due for the pay period that includes the effective date of such amendment, withdrawal or termination.

(j) Each Employee Plan that is a nonqualified deferred compensation plan within the meaning of Code §409A(d)(1) (a Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan) subject to Code §409A has (i) been maintained and operated since January 1, 2005 (or, if later, from its inception) in good faith compliance with Code §409A of the Code and all applicable IRS regulations promulgated thereunder and, as to any such plan in existence prior to January 1, 2005, has not been materially modified (within the meaning of IRS Notice 2005-1) at any time after October 3, 2004, or has been amended in a manner that conforms with the requirements of Code §409A, and (ii) since January 1, 2011, been materially in documentary and operational compliance with Code §409A and all applicable IRS guidance promulgated thereunder. No additional tax under Code §409A(a)(1)(B) has been or is reasonably expected to be incurred by a participant in any such Employee Plan or other contract, plan, program, agreement, or arrangement. Neither FBC nor the Bank is a party to, or otherwise obligated under, any contract, agreement, plan or arrangement that provides for the gross-up of taxes imposed by Code §409A(a)(1)(B). No currently outstanding stock option or other right to acquire FBC Stock, Bank Stock or other equity security of FBC or the Bank under any Employee Plan, or the payment of cash based on the value thereof, (A) has, as to any employee of the Bank, an exercise price that was less than the fair market value of the underlying equity security as of the date such stock option or right was granted, as determined by FBC in good faith and in compliance with the relevant IRS guidance in effect on the date of grant (including, IRS Notice 2005-1 and § 1.409A-1 (b)(5)(iv) of the Treasury regulations), (B) has any feature for the deferral of compensation other than the deferral of recognition of income until the later of exercise or disposition of such option or right, or (C) has been granted after December 31, 2004, with respect to any class of stock of FBC or the Bank that is not service recipient stock (within the meaning of applicable regulations under Code §409A).

Section 3.29 Obligations to Employees. All accrued obligations and liabilities of FBC, the Bank and all Employee Plans, for payments to trusts (including grantor trusts) or other funds, to any government agency or authority, or to any present or former director, officer, employee or agent (or his or her heirs, legatees or legal representatives) with respect to any of the matters listed below have been timely paid to the extent required by applicable law or the terms of such plan, contract program, policy, or other governing instruments: (a) withholding taxes, unemployment compensation or social security benefits; (b) all pension, profit-sharing, savings, stock purchase, stock bonus, stock ownership, stock option, phantom stock and stock appreciation rights plans and agreements; (c) all employment, deferred compensation (whether funded or unfunded), salary continuation, consulting, retirement, early retirement, severance, reimbursement, bonus or collective bargaining plans and agreements; (d) all executive and other incentive compensation plans, programs, or agreements; (e) all group insurance and health contracts, policies and plans; and (f) all other incentive, welfare (including vacation and sick pay), retirement or employee benefit plans or agreements maintained or sponsored, participated in, or contributed to, by FBC or the Bank for its respective current or former directors, officers, employees and agents. To the extent that payment of any obligation or liability under any of the foregoing is not currently required, adequate actuarial accruals and reserves for such payments have been and are being made by FBC or the Bank according to GAAP and applicable law applied on a consistent basis. All obligations and liabilities of FBC and the Bank for all other forms of compensation that are or may be payable to their current or former directors, officers, employees or agents, or pursuant to any Employee Plan, have been and are being paid to the extent required by applicable law or by the plan or contract, and adequate actuarial accruals and reserves for payment therefor have been and are being made by FBC or the Bank according to GAAP and generally accepted actuarial principles. All accruals and reserves referred to in this Section are correctly and accurately reflected and accounted for in all material respects in the FBC Financial Statements and the books, statements and records of FBC and the Bank.

Section 3.30 Interest Rate Risk Management Instruments. FBC and the Bank have no interest rate swaps, caps, floors and option agreements and other interest rate risk management arrangements, whether entered into for the account of FBC or the Bank or for the account of a customer of FBC or the Bank.

Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 3.31, none of FBC's or the Bank's systems, controls, data or information are recorded, stored, maintained, operated or otherwise wholly or partly dependent on or held by any means (including any electronic, mechanical or photographic process, whether computerized or not) which (including all means of access thereto and therefrom) are not under the exclusive ownership and direct control of FBC, the Bank or their accountants.

The Bank has a rating of not less than "satisfactory" as of its most recent CRA compliance examination and FBC has no Knowledge of any reason why the Bank would not receive a rating of "satisfactory" or better in its next CRA compliance examination or why the OCC or any other governmental entity may seek to restrain, delay or prohibit the transactions contemplated hereby as a result of any act or omission of the Bank under the CRA.

FFB is an eligible bank (as that term is defined in 12 C.F.R. § 5.3(g)). Each Recipient hereby agrees that the Subject Information will be used solely for the purpose of reviewing and evaluating the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the other agreements contemplated hereby, including the Merger Agreement, and that the Subject Information will be kept confidential by the Recipient and the Recipient's Representatives; provided, however, that (a) any of such Subject Information may be disclosed to the Recipient's Representatives (including, but not limited to, the Recipient's accountants and attorneys) who need to know such information for the purpose of evaluating any such possible transaction between the Disclosing Party and the Recipient (it being understood that such Representatives will be informed by the Recipient of the confidential nature of such information and that the Recipient will direct and cause such persons to treat such information confidentially); and (b) any disclosure of such Subject Information may be made to which the Disclosing Party consents in writing prior to any such disclosure by Recipient.

Board of Directors

FBC Bancshares, Inc.

1800 West White Oak Terrace

Conroe, Texas 77304

Members of the Board:

You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of the outstanding shares of common stock of FBC Bancshares, Inc., Conroe, Texas (FBC) of the consideration (the Merger Consideration) to be received by FBC in the merger (the Merger) of FBC with and into First Financial Bankshares, Inc., Abilene, Texas (FFIN) pursuant to the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization by and between FFIN and FBC (the Agreement).

Pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, each share of FBC Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to be outstanding and shall be converted automatically into and become the right to receive a number of shares of FFIN Stock as fully described in the Agreement (the Merger Consideration). If the Adjusted Equity (defined in the Agreement) of FBC, as of the close of business on the Business Day immediately preceding the Closing Date, is less than $14,705,000 (the Minimum Equity), then the Merger Consideration shall be reduced by an amount equal to the difference between the Minimum Equity and the Adjusted Equity. As indicated in the Agreement, FBC may dividend the excess amount if FBC s equity capital exceeds the $14,705,000. Additionally, immediately prior to closing, FBC shall redeem all of its Subordinated Promissory Notes which have an aggregate principal balance of $13,125,000.

Based on Merger Consideration of $59.0 million and a closing price of $26.80 at March 9, 2015, FFIN would issue 2,201,493 shares of FFIN Stock to the holders of shares of common stock of FBC. Based on 884,600 common shares outstanding at FBC (which includes the exercise of options), each share of FBC Stock would be converted into 2.4887 shares of FFIN Stock. The total value of the Merger Consideration would have a minimum price of $57.0 million and a maximum price of $61.0 million. The FFIN Market Price, as defined in the Agreement, will determine the number of FFIN shares to be issued and whether any Cash Consideration will also be paid. All capitalized items used in this letter shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Agreement. The terms of the Merger are more fully set forth in the Agreement.

For purposes of this opinion and in connection with our review of the proposed transaction, we have, among other things:

1. Reviewed the terms of the draft of the Agreement dated March 26, 2015;

2. Reviewed certain publicly available financial statements, both audited (where available) and un-audited, and related financial information of FBC and FFIN, including those included in their respective annual reports for the past two years and their respective quarterly reports for the past two years;
3. Reviewed certain internal financial information and financial forecasts relating to the business, earnings, cash flows, assets and prospects of each company furnished to us by FBC and FFIN management;
4. Held discussions with members of executive and senior management of FBC and FFIN concerning the past and current results of operations of FBC and FFIN, their respective current financial condition and managements opinion of their respective future prospects;

5. Reviewed the financial terms of merger and acquisition transactions, to the extent publicly available, involving financial institutions and financial institution holding companies that we deemed to be relevant; and
6. Reviewed such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations, as we considered appropriate under the circumstances.

In giving our opinion, we have assumed and relied, without independent verification, upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that has been provided to us by FBC and FFIN, and their respective representatives, and of the publicly available information that was reviewed by us. We are not experts in the evaluation of allowances for loan losses and have not independently verified such allowances. We assumed that the aggregate allowance for loan losses set forth in the financial statements of FFIN and FBC is adequate to cover such losses and complied fully with applicable law, regulatory policy and sound banking practice as of the date of such financial statements. We were not retained to and we did not conduct a physical inspection of any of the properties or facilities of FBC or FFIN, did not make any independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets, liabilities or prospects of FBC or FFIN, were not furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal, and did not review any individual credit files. Our opinion is necessarily based on economic, market, and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. Accordingly, it is important to understand that although subsequent developments may affect its opinion, we do not have any obligation to further update, revise, or reaffirm its opinion. We express no opinion on matters of a legal, regulatory, tax or accounting nature or the ability of the Merger, as set forth in the Agreement, to be consummated. No opinion is expressed as to whether any alternative transaction might be more favorable to holders of FBC's common stock than the Merger.

Vining Sparks IBG, L.P. (Vining Sparks), as part of its investment banking business, is regularly engaged in the valuation of banks and bank holding companies, thrifts and thrift holding companies, and various other financial services companies, in connection with mergers and acquisitions and valuations for other purposes. In rendering this fairness opinion, we have acted on behalf of the Board of Directors of FBC and will receive a fee for our services, which is payable upon delivery of this opinion.

Vining Sparks' opinion as expressed herein is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration to be received by the holders of FBC common stock in the Merger and does not address FBC's underlying business decision to proceed with the Merger. We have been retained on behalf of the Board of Directors of FBC, and our opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any director of FBC as to how such director should vote with respect to the Agreement. In rendering this opinion, we express no opinions with respect to the amount or nature of any compensation to any officers, directors, or employees of FBC or FFIN, or any class of such persons relative to the consideration to be received by the holders of the common stock of FBC in the transaction or with respect to the fairness of any such compensation.

In the two years prior to the issuance of this opinion, Vining Sparks has not had a material relationship with FBC or FFIN where compensation was received or that we contemplate will be received after closing of the transaction.

Except as hereinafter provided, this opinion may not be disclosed, communicated, reproduced, disseminated, quoted or referred to at any time, to any third party or in any manner or for any purpose whatsoever without our prior written consent, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, based upon review by us of the content of any such public reference, which shall be satisfactory to us in our reasonable judgment. This letter is addressed and directed to the Board of Directors of FBC in your consideration of the Merger and is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote with respect to the Merger. This opinion was approved by the fairness opinion committee of Vining Sparks.

Sincerely,

(1) the action or proposed action is submitted to a vote of the owners at a meeting; or

(2) approval of the action or proposed action is obtained by written consent of the owners instead of being submitted to a vote of the owners.

(b) If a parent organization effects a merger under Section 10.006 and a subsidiary organization that is a party to the merger is a domestic entity subject to dissenters' rights, the responsible organization shall notify the owners of that subsidiary organization who have a right to dissent to the merger under Section 10.354 of their rights under this subchapter not later than the 10th day after the effective date of the merger. § 10.356. PROCEDURE FOR DISSENT BY OWNERS AS TO ACTIONS; PERFECTION OF RIGHT OF DISSENT AND APPRAISAL.

(a) An owner of an ownership interest of a domestic entity subject to dissenters' rights who has the right to dissent and appraisal from any of the actions referred to in Section 10.354 may exercise that right to dissent and appraisal only by complying with the procedures specified in this subchapter. An owner's right of dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354 may be exercised by an owner only with respect to an ownership interest that is not voted in favor of the action.

(b) To perfect the owner's rights of dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354, an owner:

(A) is addressed to the entity's president and secretary;

(iii) not later than the 20th day after the date the responsible organization sends to the owner a notice that the merger was effected, if the action is a merger effected under Section 10.006.

(c) An owner who does not make a demand within the period required by Subsection (b)(3)(E) or, if Subsection (b)(1) is applicable, does not give the notice of objection before the meeting of the owners is bound by the action and is not entitled to exercise the rights of dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354.

(d) Not later than the 20th day after the date an owner makes a demand under Subsection (b)(3), the owner must submit to the responsible organization any certificates representing the ownership interest to which the demand relates for purposes of making a notation on the certificates that a demand for the payment of the fair value of an ownership interest has been made under this section. An owner's failure to submit the certificates within the required period has the effect of terminating, at the option of the responsible organization, the owner's rights to dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354 unless a court, for good cause shown, directs otherwise.

(e) If a domestic entity and responsible organization satisfy the requirements of this subchapter relating to the rights of owners of ownership interests in the entity to dissent to an action and seek appraisal of those ownership interests, an owner of an ownership interest who fails to perfect that owner's right of dissent in accordance with this subchapter may not bring suit to recover the value of the ownership interest or money damages relating to the action.

§ 10.357. WITHDRAWAL OF DEMAND FOR FAIR VALUE OF OWNERSHIP INTEREST.

- (2) a petition has been filed under Section 10.361.

(b) Unless the responsible organization consents to the withdrawal of the demand, an owner may not withdraw a demand for payment under Subsection (a) after either of the events specified in Subsections (a)(1) and (2).

§ 10.358. RESPONSE BY ORGANIZATION TO NOTICE OF DISSENT AND DEMAND FOR FAIR VALUE BY DISSENTING OWNER.

- (2) rejecting the demand and including in the response the requirements prescribed by Subsection (c).

(b) If the responsible organization accepts the amount claimed in the demand, the responsible organization shall pay the amount not later than the 90th day after the date the action that is the subject of the demand was effected if the owner delivers to the responsible organization:

- (1) endorsed certificates representing the ownership interests if the ownership interests are certificated; or

(2) signed assignments of the ownership interests if the ownership interests are uncertificated.

(c) If the responsible organization rejects the amount claimed in the demand, the responsible organization shall provide to the owner:

Appendix C-5

(d) If the dissenting owner decides to accept the offer made by the responsible organization under Subsection (c)(2), the owner must provide to the responsible organization notice of the acceptance of the offer not later than the 90th day after the date the action that is the subject of the demand took effect.

(e) If, not later than the 90th day after the date the action that is the subject of the demand took effect, a dissenting owner accepts an offer made by a responsible organization under Subsection (c)(2) or a dissenting owner and a responsible organization reach an agreement on the fair value of the ownership interests, the responsible organization shall pay the agreed amount not later than the 120th day after the date the action that is the subject of the demand took effect, if the dissenting owner delivers to the responsible organization:

(b) If an ownership interest that is the subject of a demand for payment made under Section 10.356 is transferred, a new certificate representing that ownership interest must contain:

(1) a reference to the demand; and

(2) the name of the original dissenting owner of the ownership interest.

§ 10.360. RIGHTS OF TRANSFEREE OF CERTAIN OWNERSHIP INTEREST.

A transferee of an ownership interest that is the subject of a demand for payment made under Section 10.356 does not acquire additional rights with respect to the responsible organization following the transfer. The transferee has only the rights the original dissenting owner had with respect to the responsible organization after making the demand.

§ 10.361. PROCEEDING TO DETERMINE FAIR VALUE OF OWNERSHIP INTEREST AND OWNERS ENTITLED TO PAYMENT; APPOINTMENT OF APPRAISERS.

(a) If a responsible organization rejects the amount demanded by a dissenting owner under Section 10.358 and the dissenting owner and responsible organization are unable to reach an agreement relating to the fair value of the ownership interests within the period prescribed by Section 10.358(d), the dissenting owner or responsible organization may file a petition requesting a finding and determination of the fair value of the owner's ownership interests in a court in:

(1) the county in which the organization's principal office is located in this state; or

(2) the county in which the organization's registered office is located in this state, if the organization does not have a business office in this state.

(b) A petition described by Subsection (a) must be filed not later than the 60th day after the expiration of the period required by Section 10.358(d).

(c) On the filing of a petition by an owner under Subsection (a), service of a copy of the petition shall be made to the responsible organization. Not later than the 10th day after the date a responsible organization receives service under this subsection, the responsible organization shall file with the clerk of the court in which the petition was filed a list containing the names and addresses of each owner of the organization who has demanded payment for ownership interests under Section 10.356 and with whom agreement as to the value of the ownership interests has not been reached with the responsible organization. If the responsible organization files a petition under Subsection (a), the petition must be accompanied by this list.

Appendix C-6

Table of Contents

(d) The clerk of the court in which a petition is filed under this section shall provide by registered mail notice of the time and place set for the hearing to:

(1) the responsible organization; and

(2) each owner named on the list described by Subsection (c) at the address shown for the owner on the list.

(e) The court shall:

(1) determine which owners have:

(A) perfected their rights by complying with this subchapter; and

(B) become subsequently entitled to receive payment for the fair value of their ownership interests; and

(2) appoint one or more qualified appraisers to determine the fair value of the ownership interests of the owners described by Subdivision (1).

(f) The court shall approve the form of a notice required to be provided under this section. The judgment of the court is final and binding on the responsible organization, any other organization obligated to make payment under this subchapter for an ownership interest, and each owner who is notified as required by this section.

(g) The beneficial owner of an ownership interest subject to dissenters' rights held in a voting trust or by a nominee on the beneficial owner's behalf may file a petition described by Subsection (a) if no agreement between the dissenting owner of the ownership interest and the responsible organization has been reached within the period prescribed by Section 10.358(d). When the beneficial owner files a petition described by Subsection (a):

(1) the beneficial owner shall at that time be considered, for purposes of this subchapter, the owner, the dissenting owner, and the holder of the ownership interest subject to the petition; and

(2) the dissenting owner who demanded payment under Section 10.356 has no further rights regarding the ownership interest subject to the petition.

§ 10.362. COMPUTATION AND DETERMINATION OF FAIR VALUE OF OWNERSHIP INTEREST.

(a) For purposes of this subchapter, the fair value of an ownership interest of a domestic entity subject to dissenters' rights is the value of the ownership interest on the date preceding the date of the action that is the subject of the appraisal. Any appreciation or depreciation in the value of the ownership interest occurring in anticipation of the proposed action or as a result of the action must be specifically excluded from the computation of the fair value of the ownership interest.

(b) In computing the fair value of an ownership interest under this subchapter, consideration must be given to the value of the domestic entity as a going concern without including in the computation of value any control premium, any minority ownership discount, or any discount for lack of marketability. If the domestic entity has different classes or series of ownership interests, the relative rights and preferences of and limitations placed on the class or series of ownership interests, other than relative voting rights, held by the dissenting owner must be taken into account in the computation of value.

(c) The determination of the fair value of an ownership interest made for purposes of this subchapter may not be used for purposes of making a determination of the fair value of that ownership interest for another purpose or of the fair value of another ownership interest, including for purposes of determining any minority or liquidity discount that might apply to a sale of an ownership interest.

Table of ContentsPART II*INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS*Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers of First Financial.

The Amended and Restated Certificate of Formation, as amended, and the Amended and Restated Bylaws of First Financial Bankshares, Inc. (the Registrant) require the Registrant to indemnify officers and directors of the Registrant to the fullest extent permitted by Texas law. Generally, Chapter 8 of the TBOC permits a corporation to indemnify a person who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding because the person was or is a director or officer if it is determined that such person (1) conducted himself in good faith, (2) reasonably believed (a) in the case of conduct in his official capacity as a director or officer of the corporation, that his conduct was in the corporation's best interest, or (b) in other cases, that his conduct was at least not opposed to the corporation's best interests, and (3) in the case of any criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful. In addition, the TBOC requires a corporation to indemnify a director or officer for any action that such director or officer is wholly successful in defending on the merits.

The Registrant's Amended and Restated Certificate of Formation, as amended, provides that a director of the Registrant will not be liable to the corporation for monetary damages for an act or omission in the director's capacity as a director, except to the extent not permitted by law. Texas law does not permit exculpation of liability in the case of (i) a breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its shareholders; (ii) an act or omission not in good faith that constitutes a breach of duty of the director to the corporation or that involves intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of the law; (iii) a transaction from which a director received an improper benefit, whether or not the benefit resulted from an action taken within the scope of the director's office; or (iv) an act or omission for which the liability of the director is expressly provided by statute.

The Registrant's Amended and Restated Certificate of Formation, as amended, permits the Registrant to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the Registrant or who is or was serving at the request of the Registrant as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or organization, against any liability asserted against such person and incurred by such person in such a capacity or arising out of such person's status as such a person.

The Amended and Restated Certificate of Formation, as amended, and the Amended and Restated Bylaws of the Registrant were previously filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and are incorporated by reference into the registration statement.

Item 22. Undertakings.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(a) (1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this Registration Statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the Registration Statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20 percent change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the Calculation of Registration Fee table in the effective Registration Statement; and

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the Registration Statement or any material change to such information in the Registration Statement.

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(b) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the registrant's annual report pursuant to section 13(a) or section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) that is incorporated by reference in the registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(g) (1) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes as follows: that prior to any public reoffering of the securities registered hereunder through use of a prospectus which is a part of this registration statement, by any person or party who is deemed to be an underwriter within the meaning of Rule 145(c), the issuer undertakes that such reoffering prospectus will contain the information called for by the applicable registration form with respect to reofferings by persons who may be deemed underwriters, in addition to the information called for by the other items of the applicable form.

(2) The registrant undertakes that every prospectus (i) that is filed pursuant to paragraph (1) immediately preceding, or (ii) that purports to meet the requirements of section 10(a)(3) of the Act and is used in connection with an offering of securities subject to Rule 415, will be filed as a part of an amendment to the registration statement and will not be used until such amendment is effective, and that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(h) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission, such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to respond to requests for information that is incorporated by reference into the prospectus pursuant to Items 4, 10(b), 11 or 13 of this Form, within one business day of receipt of such request, and to send the incorporated documents by first class mail or other equally prompt means. This includes information contained in documents filed subsequent to the effective date of the registration statement through the date of responding to the request.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to supply by means of a post-effective amendment all information concerning a transaction, and the company being acquired involved therein, that was not the subject of and included in the registration statement when it became effective.
