“AMX announces to the market”

Mexico City, Mexico, June 9, 2011 -- América Móvil, S.A.B. de C.V. (“AMX”) (BMV: AMX; NYSE: AMX; Nasdaq: AMOV; LATIBEX: XAMXL) announced today that its subsidiary Teléfonos de México, S.A.B. de C.V. (“TELMEX”), was notified of certain resolutions through which the Federal Telecommunications Commission (Comisión Federal de Telecomunicaciones, or “COFETEL”):

- 1) Reduces the interconnection rate of 0.975 USD cents per minute (11.55 Mexican pesos cents per minute) to 3.951 Mexican pesos cents per minute, a decrease of 65.8%, and

- 2) Changes the legal nature of long distance service that our subsidiary TELMEX provides to other competitors in rural areas where there is no investment from them and, in place of the 75 Mexican pesos cents rate of this service, establishes an interconnection rate that is not based on the real costs of the company, of 4.53 Mexican pesos cents per minute, which implies a decrease of 94%.

Such decisions are clearly unexplainable and deprive our subsidiary TELMEX of its corresponding rights and assets; ignore the real cost of providing the service and there is no economic-financial or technical model or grounds that can explain them, which are arbitrary and lack rational basis, in addition to altering the methodology that has been applied since 1997.

We highlight that domestic long distance calls service to rural areas where there is no investment from other fixed telephony competitors, is in fact, a long distance service from a local service area to another throughout the national territory, that our subsidiary TELMEX provides to users through its competitors, which is wrongfully considered interconnection service in the resolutions, which will not translate in a price reduction to consumers in these communities.

AMX considers that COFETEL violates, among other legal dispositions:

- Transitory Article Ten of the Telecommunications Law (Ley Federal de Telecomunicaciones) and the Resolution of Interconnection with Long Distance Public Networks Plan (Resolución sobre el Plan de Interconexión con Redes Públicas de Larga Distancia) issued by the Minister of Communications and Transportation (Secretario de Comunicaciones y Transportes), which was published in the Official Gazette of the Federation (Diario Oficial de la Federación, or "Official Gazette"), on July 1st, 1994, that establishes that TELMEX is obligated to provide interconnection services exclusively in 198 local service areas, in order to recover the high cost related to the obligation of being the last recourse public service operator in the other local service areas, which are mainly rural areas with scattered population.

- Condition 5-2 of TELMEX's Concession that forces COFETEL to make sure that concessionaries pay TELMEX the complete cost allocation of all that is necessary to maintain and establish interconnection.

- A court order (suspensión definitiva) granted to TELMEX since August 3, 2010 by the Federal Court of Tax and Administrative Justice (Tribunal Federal de Justicia Fiscal y Administrativa) preventing that the Fundamental Interconnection and Interoperability Plan (Plan Fundamental de Interconexión e Interoperabilidad) should be applied to TELMEX.
- The terms of the auction, the purchase and sale agreement of TELMEX's privatization, the prospectus of the offer of the TELMEX shares owned by the Federal Government in the stock markets and Transitory Article 5 of the Telecommunications Law (Ley Federal de Telecomunicaciones) that grants TELMEX the right in order for the terms of its Concession to be respected.

These resolutions deprive our subsidiary TELMEX from its rights and assets that the Mexican Constitution (Constitución Política de los Estados Unidos Mexicanos), grants it and breaches the Telecommunications Law (Ley Federal de Telecomunicaciones) and the Administrative Proceeding Law (Ley Federal de Procedimiento Administrativo).

Our subsidiary TELMEX, in exercise of its fiduciary duty with all the persons linked to TELMEX, will carry out all the relevant legal defense actions.

Regarding fixed-mobile interconnection rates that have been reduced, our subsidiary TELMEX, in terms of the approved court precedents by the Supreme Court of Justice (Suprema Corte de Justicia de la Nación), will apply the interconnection rates as established by COFETEL, until the legal proceedings of mobile service companies are not definitely resolved.

About AMX

AMX is the leading provider of wireless services in Latin America. As of March 31, 2011, it had 231 million wireless subscribers and 53 million fixed revenue generating units in the Americas.
