Kansas City Life announces sale of real estate for $54 million

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Kansas City Life Insurance Company has reached agreement to sell its 50 percent stake in real estate near the Paradise Village Mall in Phoenix, Arizona for $54 million. The Company has agreed to sell its interests in two separate transactions. Most of the property interests are being sold to The Macerich Company, which controls the other 50 percent interest in the properties. The sales are expected to close by December 31, 2004 and result in a pretax realized investment gain of approximately $40 million.

Kansas City Life acquired its interest in the Paradise Village properties more than 20 years ago and has seen the property develop into one of the most prominent retail properties in the Phoenix market. The property has been a tremendous investment over the years, primarily due to excellent local property management and a burgeoning retail market in Phoenix, according to R. Philip Bixby, President and Chief Executive Officer of Kansas City Life. "Although the Paradise Village investment has performed better than we could have anticipated more than 20 years ago, the property is now fully developed and values have never been higher. We believe it makes sense for us to pursue reinvestment in other assets," Bixby said. Real estate accounted for approximately 3 percent of Kansas City Life's total investments at December 31, 2003, and the Company actively pursues development and acquisition of real estate.

The sale is expected to contribute approximately $26 million to after tax net income during the fourth quarter. The Company has earned $25 million in net income through the first nine months of 2004. Based upon the number of shares outstanding as of September 30, 2004, the sale is expected to add approximately $2.20 per share to net income and book value.
