Item 2.02 Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On October 25, 2006, Acxiom Corporation (the Company) issued a press release announcing the results of its financial performance for the second quarter of fiscal year 2007. The Company held a conference call at 4:30 p.m. CDT on the same date to discuss this information further. The press release and the transcript of the conference call are furnished herewith as Exhibit 99.1 and Exhibit 99.2, respectively, and both are incorporated by reference herein.

The Company's press release, including the Financial Road Map (September 30, 2006), and other communications from time to time include certain non-GAAP financial measures. A non-GAAP financial measure is defined as a numerical measure of a company's financial performance, financial position or cash flows that excludes (or includes) amounts that are included in (or excluded from) the most directly comparable measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP in the Company's financial statements.

The attached press release utilizes a non-GAAP measure of free cash flow available to equity. Free cash flow available to equity is defined as operating cash flow less cash used by investing activities (excluding the impact of cash paid in acquisitions), less required payments of debt (total debt payments excluding payments on the line of credit). The Company's management believes that this measure of free cash flow available to equity is superior to the previously reported free cash flow, since it represents the amount of money available for the Company's discretionary spending after funding all required obligations including scheduled debt payments, and it therefore provides a useful measure of liquidity for assessing the amount of cash available for general corporate and strategic purposes.

In addition, return on invested capital, also included in the attached press release, is a non-GAAP financial measure. Management defines return on invested capital as income from operations adjusted for the implied interest expense included in operating leases divided by the trailing four quarters' average invested capital. The implied interest adjustment for operating leases is calculated by multiplying the average quarterly balances of the present value of operating leases (beginning balance + ending balance)/2 times an 8% implied interest rate on the leases. Average invested capital is defined as the trailing 4 quarter average of the ending quarterly balances for total assets less cash, less non-interest bearing liabilities, plus the present value of operating leases. Return on invested capital for fiscal 2006, and for any four-quarter period including the quarter ended September 30, 2005, also excludes the impact of certain unusual charges recorded during the quarter ended September 30, 2005. Management believes that return on invested capital is useful because it provides investors with additional information for evaluating the efficiency of the Company's capital deployed in its operations. Return on invested capital does not consider whether the business is financed with debt or equity, but rather calculates a return on all financial capital invested in the business. Return on invested capital includes the present value of future payments on operating leases as a component of the denominator of the calculation, and adjusts the numerator of the calculation for the implied interest expense on those operating leases, in order to recognize the fact that the Company finances portions of its operations with leases instead of using either debt or equity. A reconciliation of return on invested capital to return on assets is included as an attachment to the press release.

Adjusted U.S. operating margin, adjusted international operating margin, and adjusted return on assets are also non-GAAP measures since they exclude unusual charges for the quarter ended September 30, 2005. These charges are excluded as unusual because they were not considered or anticipated when management set the Financial Road Map targets for fiscal 2006, and therefore management believes that it is appropriate to exclude these charges for purposes of comparison to the Financial Road Map. Furthermore, management believes this information will be useful to investors in assessing the Company's performance against the stated Road Map targets. A reconciliation of the adjusted operating margin to operating margin and a reconciliation of adjusted return on assets to return on assets is included as an attachment to the press release.

Adjusted income from operations, adjusted earnings before income taxes, adjusted net earnings, and adjusted diluted earnings per share for the quarter ended September 30, 2005 are also non-GAAP measures which exclude the same unusual charges referred to above. Management has previously excluded these charges for purposes of comparison to the Company's Financial Road Map, as discussed above. Management also believes it will be useful to investors to exclude these charges from the prior year for purposes of comparison to the current year results. A reconciliation of each of these items is included as an attachment to the press release.

EBITDA is defined as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA is not mentioned in the attached press release, but may have been discussed during the conference call. EBITDA can be calculated directly from the financial statements by adding pre-tax income plus interest expense from the statement of operations plus depreciation and amortization from the cash flow statement. Management believes EBITDA is a useful measure of liquidity which may be used by investors to assess the Company's ongoing operations and liquidity.

The non-GAAP financial measures used by the Company in the attached press release may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance or liquidity prepared in accordance with GAAP.
