SUMMARY

The following summary does not contain all the information that may be important to you. You should read this summary together with the more detailed information that is contained in the accompanying Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the Securities.

What are the Securities?

The Securities are interest paying securities issued by us, The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V., and are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by our parent company, RBS Holdings N.V. The Securities are senior, unsecured notes of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. that have a maturity of 10 years. The Securities pay interest semi-annually at a fixed interest rate per annum.

Any payment on the Securities is subject to the creditworthiness (ability to pay) of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V., as guarantor

What will I receive at maturity of the Securities?

For each $1,000 principal amount of Securities, at maturity you will receive a cash payment of $1,000. If you were the holder of record on the record date for the applicable interest payment date you will also receive interest payable on such final interest payment date.

What interest payments can I expect on the Securities?

Beginning on the settlement date, interest will accrue on the Securities at a fixed rate of (i) 4.25% per annum, from and including the Settlement Date to but excluding August 11, 2013, (ii) 5.00% per annum, from and including August 11, 2013 but excluding August 11, 2016, (iii) 5.50% per annum, from and including August 11, 2016 to but excluding August 11, 2019 and (iv) 6.50% per annum, from and including August 11, 2019 to but excluding the Maturity Date. Interest will be paid on the 11th day of each February and August, beginning February 11, 2011; provided that if any such day is not a business day, then the interest payment date will be the next following business day unless such day falls in the following month in which case it will be the preceding business day, and provided further that the final interest payment date for any Securities will be the maturity date. Interest on any interest payment date is payable semi-annually in arrears and will be calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months or in the case of an incomplete month the actual number of days elapsed.

Do I get all my principal back at maturity?

Subject to the credit of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. as the issuer of the Securities and RBS Holdings N.V. as the guarantor of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V.'s obligations under the Securities, you will receive the principal amount of your Securities at maturity of the Securities. However, if you sell the Securities prior to maturity, you will receive the market price for the Securities, which may or may not include the return of your full principal amount. There may be little or no secondary market for the Securities. Accordingly, you should be willing to hold your Securities until maturity.

Any interest payment is subject to the creditworthiness (ability to pay) of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V., as guarantor.

Is there a limit to how much I can earn over the term of the Securities?

Yes. The amount payable under the terms of the Securities will never exceed the face amount of the Securities payable at maturity plus coupon payments you earn over the term of the Securities.

What is the minimum required purchase?

You may purchase Securities in minimum denominations of $1,000 or in integral multiples thereof.

THE ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND N.V.

Fixed Rate Step Up Securities

Is there a secondary market for the Securities?

The Securities will not be listed on any securities exchange. Accordingly, there may be little or no secondary market for the Securities and, as such, information regarding independent market pricing for the Securities may be extremely limited. You should be willing to hold your Securities until the maturity date.

Although it is not required to do so, we have been informed by our affiliate that when this offering is complete, it intends to make purchases and sales of the Securities from time to time in off-exchange transactions. If our affiliate does make such a market in the Securities, it may stop doing so at any time.

In connection with any secondary market activity in the Securities, our affiliate may post indicative prices for the Securities on a designated website or via Bloomberg. However, our affiliate is not required to post such indicative prices and may stop doing so at any time. Investors are advised that any prices shown on any website or Bloomberg page are indicative prices only and, as such, there can be no assurance that any trade could be executed at such prices. Investors should contact their brokerage firm for further information.

In addition, the issue price of the Securities includes the selling agents' commissions paid with respect to the Securities and the cost of hedging our obligations under the Securities. The cost of hedging includes the profit component that our affiliate has charged in consideration for assuming the risks inherent in managing the hedging of the transactions. The fact that the issue price of the Securities includes these commissions and hedging costs is expected to adversely affect the secondary market prices of the Securities.

What are the tax consequences of owning the Securities?

The Securities will be subject to the rules governing securities issued with original issue discount for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under these rules, if you are a U.S. taxable investor, you will generally be required to report payments of interest at the initial interest rate in each taxable year as ordinary income as such payments are received or accrued, according to your normal method of accounting. You will also be required to report additional interest income in each taxable year relating to the step-up in the interest rate in later years. As a result, in earlier taxable years, you will generally have to report more interest income for U.S. federal income tax purposes than you receive on the Securities for those taxable years.

When a U.S. taxable investor sells, exchanges or otherwise disposes of a Security, a U.S. holder will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference, if any, between the amount the holder realizes upon the disposition or retirement and the holder's tax basis in the Security. Gain or loss a U.S. taxable investor realizes on a disposition of a Security is capital gain or loss (except to the extent the gain represents accrued interest at the initial interest rate on the Security not previously included in gross income, to which extent such gain or loss would be treated as ordinary income). The holder's basis in the Securities generally will be increased to reflect accruals of original issue discount and reduced to reflect interest payments received on the securities in excess of the initial interest rate.

You should review the section in this Pricing Supplement entitled "United States Federal Income Taxation." Additionally, you are urged to consult your tax adviser regarding the tax treatment of the Securities and whether a purchase of the Securities is advisable in light of the tax treatment and your particular situation.

What is the relationship between The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V., RBS Holdings N.V. and RBS Securities Inc.?

RBS Securities Inc., which we refer to as RBSSI, is an affiliate of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V. RBSSI will act as calculation agent for the Securities, and is acting as agent for this offering. RBSSI will conduct this offering in compliance with the requirements of NASD Rule 2720 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc., which is commonly referred to as FINRA, regarding a FINRA member firm's distribution of the securities of an affiliate. See "Risk Factors — Potential Conflicts of Interest between Holders of the Securities and the Calculation Agent" and "Plan of Distribution (Conflicts of Interest)."

RBS Holdings N.V. is the new name of ABN AMRO Holdings N.V.

On February 6, 2010, ABN AMRO Bank N.V. changed its name to The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and on April 1, 2010 ABN AMRO Holdings N.V. changed its name to RBS Holdings N.V.

The name changes are not changes of the legal entities that will issue and guarantee, respectively, the Securities referred to herein, and the name changes do not affect any of the terms of the Securities. The Securities will continue to be issued by The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and to be fully and unconditionally guaranteed by The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V.'s parent company, RBS Holdings N.V.

While the name "ABN AMRO Bank N.V." is used by a separate legal entity, which is owned by the State of the Netherlands (the "Dutch State"), neither the separate legal entity named ABN AMRO Bank N.V. nor the Dutch State will, in any way, guarantee or otherwise support the obligations under the Securities.

The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V. are both affiliates of The Royal Bank of Scotland plc and The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc; however, none of The Royal Bank of Scotland plc, The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc or the UK government, in any way, guarantees or otherwise supports the obligations under the Securities.

For additional information, see "The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V." in the accompanying prospectus dated April 2, 2010.

Who invests in the Securities?

The Securities are not suitable for all investors. The Securities might be considered by investors who:

- believe that the fixed interest rate on the Securities will generally be equal to or higher than the market interest rate during the term of the Securities;
- are willing and able to hold the Securities to maturity;
- want to preserve their initial investment but are willing to assume the risk that the fixed interest rate on the Securities may be below the market interest rate; and
- want to preserve their initial investment but are willing to assume the risk that the fixed interest rate on the Securities may be below the rate of inflation.

You should carefully consider whether the Securities are suited to your particular circumstances before you decide to purchase them. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the Securities.

What are some of the risks in owning the Securities?

Investing in the Securities involves a number of risks. We have described the most significant risks relating to the Securities under the heading “Risk Factors” in this Pricing Supplement which you should read before making an investment in the Securities.

Some selected risk considerations include:

- Credit Risk. The Securities are issued by RBS N.V. and guaranteed by RBS Holdings N.V., RBS N.V.’s parent company. As a result, investors in the Securities assume the credit risk of RBS N.V. and that of RBS Holdings N.V. in the event that RBS N.V. defaults on its obligations under the Securities. This means that if RBS N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V. fail, become insolvent, or are otherwise unable to pay their obligations under the Securities, you could lose some or all of your initial principal investment. Any obligations or Securities sold, offered, or recommended are not deposits of RBS N.V. and are not endorsed or guaranteed by any bank or thrift, nor are they insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any governmental agency.

THE ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND N.V.

Fixed Rate Step Up Securities

- Liquidity Risk. The Securities will not be listed on any securities exchange. Accordingly, there may be little or no secondary market for the Securities and information regarding independent market pricing for the Securities may be very limited or non-existent. The market price of the Securities in the secondary market, if any, will be subject to many unpredictable factors, including then prevailing market conditions and you may not receive your full principal back if the Securities are sold prior to maturity. Since the issue price includes and secondary market prices are likely to exclude the agents' commissions paid with respect to the Securities and the cost of hedging our obligations under the Securities, the secondary market prices of the Securities are expected to be adversely affected.
- Inflation Risk. The interest rate on the Securities is fixed. If the rate of inflation exceeds the fixed interest rate on the Securities at any time during the term of the Securities you will not be compensated for the loss in value due to inflation and other factors relating to the value of money over time.
- Interest Rate Risk. The interest rate on the Securities is fixed. Accordingly, you assume the risk that market interest rates may rise above the fixed interest rate on the Securities at any time during the term of the Securities. In such a case the market price of the Securities will likely fall and you will only be entitled to receive the fixed interest rate on the Securities, which will be below market interest rates.

RISK FACTORS

You should carefully consider the risks of the Securities to which this Pricing Supplement relates and whether these Securities are suited to your particular circumstances before deciding to purchase them. It is important that prior to investing in these Securities you read the accompanying Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement to understand the actual terms of and the risks associated with the Securities. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the Securities.

Credit Risk

The Securities are issued by RBS N.V. and guaranteed by RBS Holdings N.V., RBS N.V.'s parent company. As a result, investors in the Securities assume the credit risk of RBS N.V. and that of RBS Holdings N.V. in the event that RBS N.V. defaults on its obligations under the Securities. This means that if RBS N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V. fail, become insolvent, or are otherwise unable to pay their obligations under the Securities, you could lose some or all of your initial principal investment.

Although We Are a Bank, the Securities Are Not Bank Deposits and Are Not Insured or Guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, The Deposit Insurance Fund or any Other Government Agency

The Securities are our obligations but are not bank deposits. In the event of our insolvency the Securities will rank equally with our other unsecured, unsubordinated obligations and will not have the benefit of any insurance or guarantee of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, The Deposit Insurance Fund or any other governmental agency.

Limited Return

The amount payable under the Securities will never exceed the original face amount of the Securities plus the applicable aggregate fixed interest payment investors earn during the term of the Securities.

Liquidity Risk

The Securities will not be listed on any securities exchange. Accordingly, there may be little or no secondary market for the Securities and information regarding independent market pricing of the Securities may be very limited or non-existent. The market price of the Securities in the secondary market, if any, will be subject to many unpredictable factors, including then prevailing market conditions.

It is important to note that many factors will contribute to the secondary market price of the Securities, and you may not receive your full principal back if the Securities are sold prior to maturity. Such factors include, but are not limited to, time to maturity, volatility and interest rates.

In addition, the price, if any, at which our affiliate or another party are willing to purchase Securities in secondary market transactions will likely be lower than the issue price, since the issue price included, and secondary market prices are likely to exclude, commissions, discounts or mark-ups paid with respect to the Securities, as well as the cost of hedging our obligations under the Securities.

Economic and Market Risk

Many factors, most of which are beyond our control, will influence the market price of the Securities, including:

- the time remaining to maturity of the securities;
  - interest and yield rates in the market generally (as interest rates rise, the value of fixed income instruments such as the Securities generally falls);
  - economic, financial, political and regulatory or judicial events that affect the financial markets generally and which may affect the Securities;
    - monetary policy, which can affect interest rate levels; and

THE ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND N.V.

Fixed Rate Step Up Securities

- the creditworthiness (ability to pay) of RBS N.V. as issuer of the Securities and the creditworthiness of RBS Holdings N.V. as the guarantor of our obligations under the Securities.

Some or all of these factors will influence the price that you will receive if you sell your Securities in the secondary market, if any, prior to maturity. Thus, if you sell your Securities before maturity you may not receive back your entire principal amount.

The Inclusion of Commissions and Cost of Hedging in the Issue Price is Likely to Adversely Affect Secondary Market Prices

Assuming no change in market conditions or any other relevant factors, the price, if any, at which the selling agents are willing to purchase Securities in secondary market transactions will likely be lower than the issue price, since the issue price included, and secondary market prices are likely to exclude, commissions paid with respect to the Securities, as well as the profit component included in the cost of hedging our obligations under the Securities. In addition, any such prices may differ from values determined by pricing models used by the selling agents, as a result of dealer discounts, mark-ups or other transaction costs.

Potential Conflicts of Interest; No Security Interest in Securities or Other Financial Instruments Held by Us

We and our affiliates may carry out hedging activities that minimize our risks related to the Securities, including trading in interest rate swaps and options, executing other derivative instruments, or purchasing securities linked to interest rates. Through our affiliates, we may modify our hedge position during the life of the Securities by purchasing and selling interest rate swaps or options or positions in other securities or instruments that we may wish to use in connection with such hedging. It is possible that we or one or more of our affiliates could receive substantial returns from these hedging activities while the value of the Securities may decline.

The indenture governing the Securities does not contain any restrictions on our ability or the ability of any of our affiliates to sell, pledge or otherwise convey all or any portion of the securities or other instruments acquired by us or our affiliates. Neither we nor Holdings nor any of our affiliates will pledge or otherwise hold those securities or other instruments for the benefit of holders of the Securities. Consequently, in the event of a bankruptcy, insolvency or liquidation involving us or Holdings, as the case may be, any of those securities or instruments that we or Holdings own will be subject to the claims of our creditors or Holdings' creditors generally and will not be available specifically for the benefit of the holders of the Securities.

Holdings of the Securities by Our Affiliates and Future Sales

Certain of our affiliates may purchase for investment the portion of the Securities that has not been purchased by investors in a particular offering of Securities, which initially they intend to hold for investment purposes. As a result, upon completion of such an offering, our affiliates may own up to 15% of the aggregate face amount of the Securities. Circumstances may occur in which our interests or those of our affiliates could be in conflict with your interests. For example, our affiliates may attempt to sell the Securities that they had been holding for investment purposes at the same time that you attempt to sell your Securities, which could depress the price, if any, at which you can sell your Securities. Moreover, the liquidity of the market for the Securities, if any, could be substantially reduced as a result of our affiliates holding the Securities. In addition, our affiliates could have substantial influence over any matter subject to consent of the security holders.

Potential Conflicts of Interest Between Holders of the Securities and the Calculation Agent

We and our affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the Securities, including our affiliate RBSSI acting as calculation agent. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the Securities. We and our affiliates may carry out hedging activities that minimize our risks related to the Securities.
