Edgar Filing: Glencairn Gold CORP - Form 6-K

Glencairn Gold Corporation announced today that its Santa Pancha Deposit at the Limon Mine in Nicaragua achieved commercial production in late March, 2007. The deposit was first discovered in 2002 and development began in 2005.

The Santa Pancha Deposit is a fully mechanized underground mine. Access is by ramp, and sublevel long hole mining is used to extract the ore. The initial mining rate is approximately 210,000 tonnes per year, with planned expansions in subsequent years.

We are very pleased with the excellent work that the mining team at Limon has done in bringing Santa Pancha into commercial production. We are continuing our exploration in the area and hope to expand and improve the mineral resources and mineral reserves at Santa Pancha, said Glencairn President and CEO Peter Tagliamonte.

The Limon Mine has been in continuous production since 1941, with over 3 million ounces of gold having been mined during this period. In 2006, the mine's third full year of operation under Glencairn ownership, the operation generated revenue of $20.0 million and earnings from mining operations of $1.9 million.

By year-end 2006, proven mineral reserves at Limon were 83,400 tonnes grading 5.71 grams gold per tonne and probable mineral reserves were 1,094,600 tonnes grading 5.23 grams gold per tonne (g/t). In total, Limon mineral reserves contain approximately 199,300 contained ounces of gold. Of this total, the Santa Pancha Deposit accounts for approximately 131,000 contained ounces.

The proven and probable mineral reserves reported herein are based on the CIM Council Standards on Mineral Resources and Reserves Definitions and Guidelines adopted by the CIM Council on August 20, 2000 ( CIM Standards ) and were prepared under the supervision of Michael Gareau, P.Geo., Vice President Exploration, and Graham Speirs, P.Eng., Chief Operating Officer. Both are employees of the Company and Qualified Persons under National Instrument 43-101. Messrs. Gareau and Speirs have read and approved the technical disclosure in this release.
