Item 8.01 Other Events

Beginning on January 12, 2005, members of Exide Technologies (the Company) Board of Directors and senior management spoke with representatives of Sandell Asset Management Corp. (Sandell) regarding a number of issues, including the Company sproposed Chief Executive Officer candidate, the current composition and structure of the Company s Board of Directors and the proposed senior note offering. Separately, beginning February 9, 2005, members of the Company s Board of Directors and senior management discussed similar issues with representatives of Soros Fund Management LLC (Soros).

The Company has answered the questions raised separately by Sandell and Soros regarding the Company s senior note offering, and each has also independently agreed to publicly support the Company s hiring of its new Chief Executive Officer, Gordon A. Ulsh.

Based on the separate discussions with each of these shareholders, the Company s Board of Directors has voted to expand its membership by two directors to a total of nine directors. The additional two directorships will be filled with nominees, who meet the Company s director standards, as set forth in the Company s governance documents, independently selected by each of Sandell and Soros by March 7, 2005 or, if the initial nominees do not meet such standards, within three days of submission of nominees who meet such standards. Both of such nominees will be appointed to the Board s Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

The Company s Board of Directors will recommend the following to its shareholders at the Company s upcoming annual meeting: (1) eliminating the three class structure of its Board of Directors and placing all directors up for election at the Company s upcoming annual meeting; (2) eliminating the prohibition on the Company s shareholders calling special meetings and creating a provision allowing for such special shareholder meeting(s) upon the request of holders of fifteen (15) percent of the Company s stock; and (3) eliminating the cap on the number of directors on the Company s bylaws to set the number of directors and fill vacancies on the Board of Directors.

The Company s Board of Directors will select the nominees to be slated for election at its upcoming annual meeting after receiving a recommendation from its Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. The Committee s recommendation will be based on its consideration of, among others, nominees from its existing Board of Directors and from nominees proposed by the Company s shareholders. As a result of the actions the Company will take described herein, if either of Sandell or Soros do not propose new nominees during the nominating process, or if such shareholder s additional nominees are chosen in this process, then such shareholder will not vote against the slate selected by the Company s Board of Directors at the upcoming annual meeting.

The Company s Board of Directors has further agreed to permit directors to communicate with shareholders if (i) such communications are initiated by a shareholder, (ii) the director does not provide any shareholder with material non-public information regarding Exide, and (iii) the director promptly advises the Company s General Counsel of the substance of the communication.

Finally, the Company s Board of Directors has agreed to review annually all Board committee assignments and chairmanships (including the position of Chairman of the Board of Directors) and subject such assignments to reappointment after each annual meeting of the Company s shareholders.
