Delta Air Lines DCA Agreement

On July 15, 2003, Sabre Holdings Corporation (the Company) issued the news release attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 announcing that Sabre Travel International Limited, an indirect subsidiary of the Company, has reached a three-year agreement (the Agreement) with Delta Air Lines, Inc., effective July 1, 2003, under which that airline will make available to Sabre global distribution system (Sabre GDS) users its publicly available fares, promotions, and services in the United States, the U.S. Virgin Islands, the Caribbean and Europe (covered territory) through the Sabre GDS. The airline has also agreed to participate in the Sabre GDS at its highest level, direct connect availability (DCA), for three years.

Under the Agreement, the airline will make available to Sabre GDS users (including Sabre-connected online and offline travel agencies) in the covered territory all published fares, including Web fares, that the airline offers through its own reservation centers, through any third-party's Web site or through its own web site, excluding a de minimus amount of certain fares such as so-called opaque fares where the airline's identity is not disclosed until after the sale. The airline will provide access to all of these published fares to users of all channels of the Sabre GDS in the covered territory, including Internet (such as Travelocity.com) and off-line channels.

Further, subject to certain terms and conditions the airline has agreed to make available to Sabre-connected travel agents in the covered territory any products, services, commissions, or passenger perquisites or amenities that the airline makes generally available in connection with bookings made by travel agents on any other GDS.

In exchange, the airline will receive a discount of more than 10 percent off of applicable DCA rates on booking fees for DCA bookings made by Sabre GDS users in the covered territory. In addition, the Company has agreed to hold the booking fee for the airline's bookings in the covered territory at this level of participation steady for the three-year term of the agreement.

The Agreement, along with the other DCA agreements announced by the Company, including the United Air Lines, Inc. agreement announced in April of 2003 and the US Airways, Inc. agreement announced in October of 2002, assures all Sabre GDS users in the covered territory of access to high quality, full content concerning the flights and fares of carriers participating in the three-year program and of other forms of non-discriminatory treatment. As a consequence, the Company believes that Delta's participation in the program, as well as that of the other participants, will play a role in diminishing the present shift of bookings away from GDSs to airline controlled outlets.

The Agreement is expected to benefit the Company in the following ways:

A long term commitment from the airline has been secured at the highest PCA level

The traditional pricing model remains intact for all other participation levels

The Agreement slows the rate of channel shift to supplier-direct channels

The Agreement solves the major content issue for offline and online travel agencies

The Agreement dampens incentive growth.

The expected decline in the Company's 2003 revenue from the discount is approximately $7,500,000. This estimate does not include any provision for reduced channel shift or other mitigating factors, nor does it anticipate a reduction in cancellation fees or revenues from any other participation level of the Sabre GDS.

Additional financial implications of the Agreement for the Company include:

Reduced pressure on travel agency incentive growth

Impeded channel shift to supplier-direct channels

The lack of change to the pricing model for non-participants in the DCA Three-Year Option.

Quarterly Dividend Announcement

On July 15, 2003, the Company issued the press release attached hereto as Exhibit 99.2 announcing that its Board of Directors declared on July 14, 2003 a quarterly cash dividend of $0.07 per share, payable on August 15, 2003, to stockholders of record as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange on July 31, 2003. The Company will pay with respect to this dividend an aggregate of approximately $10 million. This is the second dividend declared by the Company since the Company announced its intention to consider declaring and paying dividends on a quarterly basis on April 17, 2003. The Company also announced that its Board of Directors currently intends to consider declaring and paying comparable future dividends on a regular quarterly basis, subject to the financial ability of the Company to pay dividends, and to a determination by the Board of Directors that such dividends continue to be in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders.
