On September 14, 2004, the board of directors of Quidel Corporation (the Company ) approved an increase in the amount payable to its non-executive Chairman of the board of directors, Mark A. Pulido, for the services he renders to the Company as its Chairman. The annual amount payable by the Company to its non-executive Chairman was increased from $60,000 per year to $100,000 per year. Mr. Pulido, together with all of the other non-employee directors of the Company, will continue to receive: $2,000 per board meeting attended in person and $1,000 per board meeting attended telephonically; $2,000 per committee meeting attended in person and $1,000 per committee meeting attended telephonically, but only if the committee meeting is not held on the same day as a board meeting; reimbursement for expenses incurred in connection with attendance at board and committee meetings; and, upon re-election to the board of directors, a grant of an equity award equal in value to the Black-Scholes value of 17,000 stock options (with an exercise price equal to 100% of fair market value), with 75% of such value being granted in the form of stock options and 25% of such value being granted in the form of restricted stock. Mr. Pulido will also continue to receive $5,000 per year for his service as the chairman of the finance committee of the board of directors, which amount is consistent with the $5,000 per year paid to the chairperson of each of the compensation committee of the board, the technology/research and development committee of the board, and the nominating and corporate governance committee of the board, but which is less than the $10,000 per year paid to the chairperson of the audit committee of the board. The amounts payable were approved by the board of directors, but are not set forth in any written agreement between Mr. Pulido and the Company.
