On March 24, 2009, the Company entered into a (1) First Amendment of Employment Agreement (the Reiner Amendment) with Andres Reiner, the Company's Senior Vice President of Product Development, amending the employment agreement dated as of April 24, 2008, by and between the Company and Mr. Reiner, (2) First Amendment of Employment Agreement (the Robinson Amendment) with Jeffery Robinson, the Company's Senior Vice President of Pricing, amending the employment agreement dated as of April 24, 2008, by and between the Company and Mr. Robinson, (3) Second Amendment of Employment Agreement with Albert E. Winemiller, the Company's President, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors (the Winemiller Amendment), amending the employment agreement dated as of September 30, 2005, by and between the Company and Mr. Winemiller, as amended on April 2, 2007, and (4) Second Amendment of Employment Agreement with Charles H. Murphy, the Company's Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, amending the employment agreement dated as of September 30, 2005, by and between the Company and Mr. Murphy, as amended on April 2, 2007, (the Murphy Amendment and collectively with Reiner Amendment, Robinson Amendment and Winemiller Amendment, the Amendments).

The Reiner Amendment and Robinson Amendment provide for payment of (1) any unpaid bonus earned by such Executives prior to the termination, and (2) the payment during the severance period of the bonus that the Executive would have received during such period. Such bonuses are payable if the Executives are terminated without cause, resign for good reason or the Company elects not to renew the employment terms.

The Winemiller Amendment and Murphy Amendment provide for payment of (1) any unpaid bonus earned by such Executives prior to the termination, and (2) the payment during the severance period of the bonus that the Executive would have received during such period. Such bonuses are payable if the Executives are terminated without cause, resign for good reason or the Company elects not to renew the employment terms or if they are terminated without cause or resign for good reason within six months prior to or any time after a change in control transaction of the Company.

The terms bonus, cause, good reason and change in control as used above are defined in the Executives' employment agreements.
