On January 6, 2012, Limoneira Company (the “Company”) entered into certain operating leases, effective as of January 1, 2012, with the C.V. Sheldon Family Limited Partnership or one of its affiliates (each an “Owner” and collectively, the “Owners”) for an aggregate of approximately 1,000 acres of productive agriculture property in the San Joaquin Valley of California. The orchards include, in the aggregate, approximately 800 acres of citrus and 200 acres of other crops.

The lease term for each of the leases begins on January 1, 2012 and runs for ten years with options to extend the leases for four consecutive five-year terms. The Company may purchase the property subject to each lease if the applicable Owner desires to sell the leased property. The leases require payment of an aggregate base rent of $500,000 per year plus participation by each Owner in the operating profits generated by crops grown on the leased properties.
