REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

Board of Directors

Tucker Alan Inc.

San Francisco, California

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Tucker Alan Inc. (a California corporation) as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the related statements of operations, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2003. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Tucker Alan Inc. as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2003 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001

(Dollar amounts in thousands, except per share data)

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

General: Tucker Alan Inc. (the Company) is a firm of business and litigation consultants providing specialized services in such areas as commercial litigation, regulatory matters, government contracts, construction, intellectual property, healthcare, and financial institutions. The Company provides these services to commercial and regulated businesses, law firms, municipalities, and government agencies through offices located throughout the United States.

The Company was established in July 1994 as a Subchapter S corporation. The Company's practice is to pay significant bonuses based on performance and make moderate equity distributions to shareholders. The business is highly dependent on certain key individuals. The Company would incur financial difficulty should any of these key individuals terminate their employment. None of these individuals nor any other Tucker Alan employee or shareholder is obligated under a term of employment agreement, non-compete agreement, or a non-solicitation agreement.

The Company is headquartered in San Francisco, California and has offices in 13 cities in the United States.

Revenue Recognition: The Company recognizes net revenue as the related professional services are provided, generally on a time and material basis. Out-of-pocket expenses billed to clients are recognized as a component of revenue and deducted in costs of services provided. Included as adjustments to revenue are changes in the allowance for doubtful accounts and changes in reserves against unbilled work in progress.

The allowance for doubtful accounts is established by management based on historical experience and consideration of specific circumstances related to current engagements. Accounts receivable are written off against the allowance for doubtful accounts when those receivables are considered uncollectible. Typically, accounts receivable do not accrue interest.

The unbilled work in progress reserve is established by management based on historical experience, work in progress related to work requested on government contracts (primarily state) that have not been formally approved and reasonably funded, as well as corporate estimated reserves, taking into consideration circumstances related to particular assignments.

Cash and Cash Equivalents: Cash and cash equivalents consist of checking accounts and money market funds with original maturities of three months or less from dates of acquisition.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001

(Dollar amounts in thousands, except per share data)

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Prepaid Expenses: Certain major prepaid expenses such as rent and insurance are accounted for over their estimated useful beneficial lives.

Concentration of Credit Risk: Financial instruments, which potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk, include deposits greater than $100 with financial institutions. The Company periodically reviews its cash policies and keeps the funds at a large Chicago-area bank.

Property and Equipment: Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is recorded using accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the assets, ranging from 3 to 7 years. Depreciation expense for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001 amounted to $610, $675, and $560, respectively.

Income Taxes: The Company has elected to be taxed as an S corporation for Federal income tax purposes. Under the small business provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, the Company's net income is reflected in the shareholder's individual income tax returns. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes has been recorded in the statement of operations for the Company. A provision for income taxes is recorded for those states that assess a minimum income tax at the corporate level.

The Company's tax returns are prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting. The deferred income tax liabilities arising from the temporary differences between the accrual and tax basis financial statements may be recognized and become taxable to the shareholders in future years.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements including the allowance for doubtful accounts, unbilled work-in-progress reserves, and depreciation. Actual results could differ from those estimates and may impact future results of operations and cash flows.

TUCKER ALAN INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001

(Dollar amounts in thousands, except per share data)

NOTE 4 - DUE FROM SHAREHOLDERS

The Company advances and pays state composite taxes on behalf of its shareholders. These advances are unsecured, non-interest-bearing, and contain no definite payment structure. As a result, such amounts have been classified as a reduction of equity.

NOTE 5 - NOTE PAYABLE TO BANK

The Company has a revolving line of credit with a bank for $3,500. The interest rate on the loan is the bank's prime commercial rate plus 0.50%. The outstanding balance was $650 and $500 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Amounts available to be drawn after borrowings and letters of credit outstanding were $2,540 and $2,537 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Borrowings under this line of credit have been modest and are secured by accounts receivable and property and equipment, as well as the personal guarantees of three of the Company's shareholders. The line of credit requires the Company to comply with certain covenants, including providing financial statements. Until October 3, 2003, the line of credit also required personal financial statements from certain shareholders who provide the personal guarantees.

On October 3, 2003, the line of credit agreement was amended to add a tangible net worth covenant requirement of $8,000 and to cancel the personal guarantees outstanding.

During the year, the Company maintained a letter of credit agreement in lieu of a security deposit for an office lease. The Company's outstanding balance on this letter of credit was $310 and $463 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

NOTE 6 - LEASE COMMITMENTS

The Company entered into various lease agreements for office space that are classified as operating leases. These leases are under noncancelable lease agreements, which expire at various dates through November 2010. The leases generally contain provisions for minimum base rents plus additional rents based on the lessor's operating expenses through the lease term.

TUCKER ALAN INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001

(Dollar amounts in thousands, except per share data)

NOTE 6 - LEASE COMMITMENTS (Continued)

The estimated future minimum base rents due over the earlier of the cancellation period or lease term are as follows:

Year Ending December 31,	Amount
2004	$ 3,152
2005	2,504
2006	2,165
2007	1,483
2008	603
Thereafter	488
	$ 10,395

The total rental expense under noncancelable leases amounted to $3,719, $3,349 and $2,705 for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

NOTE 7 - COMMON STOCK

The voting and nonvoting shares of common stock were issued under the terms of shareholder purchase agreements that stipulate the terms under which the shares may be sold or transferred. Under the terms of the agreement, the Company is obligated to repurchase the shares of a shareholder who ceases to be employed by the Company. The purchase price is based on the net book value of the Company, determined on a cash basis, subject to a vesting schedule as set forth in the agreement. The cash basis book value amounted to $1.38 per share as of December 31, 2002. The payment to the shareholder may be in the form of cancellation of debt, an interest-bearing note payable over three years, cash, or any combination thereof.

The Company sold 30,000 shares of nonvoting common stock for $90, 24,000 shares of nonvoting common stock for $66, and 18,000 shares of nonvoting common stock for $45 during the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

The Company repurchased approximately 14,000 shares of nonvoting common stock for $20 ($1.38 per share) during the year ended December 31, 2003. The cash basis book value amounted to $1.38 per share as of December 31, 2002. The Company immediately cancelled those shares.

TUCKER ALAN INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001

(Dollar amounts in thousands, except per share data)

NOTE 7 - COMMON STOCK (Continued)

In November 2003, the Company repurchased approximately 147,000 shares of voting common stock from a shareholder for approximately $200. The cash basis book value amounted to $1.38 per share as of December 31, 2002. The Company immediately cancelled those shares.

The Company has not adopted the provisions of FASB Statement 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments With Characteristics of Both Liabilities and Equity, which is not effective for private companies until fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 2003. If the provisions of FAS 150 were adopted at December 31, 2003, and applied to the circumstances, approximately $900 would be reclassified from shareholders' equity to liabilities and be described as shares subject to mandatory redemption.

NOTE 8 - RETIREMENT PLAN

The Company has a 401(k) profit sharing plan covering substantially all of its employees. The Company may make matching contributions at the Board of Directors' discretion. The Board approved a 50% match of up to 6% of employee contributions for the current period. The Company's expense for matching contributions was $605, $685, and $557 for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively. Accrued and expensed matching contributions were $605 and $685 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

NOTE 9 - STATE INCOME TAXES

The provision (benefit) for state income taxes is as follows:

	2003	2002	2001
Current	$ (48)	$ 38	$ 10
Deferred	25	(31)	47
	$ (23)	$ 7	$ 57

Deferred state income taxes are provided-for using the estimated effective state tax rates, for the difference between the financial statement and tax basis of assets and liabilities. These assets and liabilities are comprised primarily of accounts receivable, unbilled work-in-process, accounts payable, and certain accrued liabilities.

TUCKER ALAN INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001

(Dollar amounts in thousands, except per share data)

NOTE 9 - STATE INCOME TAXES (Continued)

The deferred state income tax liabilities are as follows:

	2003	2002

Current	$ 240	$ 262
Noncurrent		17

	$ 240	$ 279

NOTE 10 - BONUS COMPENSATION

The Company maintains a discretionary bonus plan for all employees. The plan provides for an annual discretionary bonus if approved by the Board of Directors. The criteria used by the Board of Directors include travel, business development, and performance. The bonus is determined and timely paid at year end. The Company intends the year-end bonus program to provide a financial reward for past services and, importantly, an incentive for future services. Consistent with this policy, when staff members inform the Company of their intent to leave prior to year end, their planned bonuses have been reduced substantially.

NOTE 11 - BUSINESS RISKS

From time to time, the Company encounters engagements where clients request additional services without billing or at reduced rates. Management believes that adequate reserves and allowances have been provided for such developments.

In addition, several states have considerable challenges with their revenues, budgets and funding for many programs. Such programs are being reviewed for restructuring, cancellation, and cutbacks, as well as other changes due to these challenges.

TUCKER ALAN INC.

NOTE 12 - ACCRUED LIABILITIES

Accrued liabilities as of December 31, 2003 and 2002 consisted of the following:

	2003	2002
Accrued wages	$ 1,023	$ 46
Accrued vacation	1,059	950
Accrued 401(k) deductions	605	685
Other accrued liabilities	541	88
	$ 3,228	$ 1,769

NOTE 13 - VALUATION AND QUALIFYING ACCOUNTS

The gross charges to expense and deductions in the allowance for doubtful accounts and unbilled work-in-progress reserves for the three-year period ended December 31, 2003 is as follows:

	Balance at Beginning of Year	Charges to Expense	Deductions	Balance at End of Year

NOTE 14 - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On January 30, 2004, the Company sold its business and operations in exchange for cash, common stock, and the assumption of certain liabilities. The definition of business and operations excludes certain assets and liabilities including certain client engagements, cash, accounts receivable, unbilled work in progress, and liabilities incurred in providing services prior to the transaction. Other expense in the statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2003 includes $804 of transaction costs related to investment banking, legal, and accounting fees.

Item 7.

(b) Pro Forma Financial Information

The following unaudited pro forma financial information is presented to show the estimated effects of the acquisition of Tucker Alan, Inc. (TAI) by Navigant Consulting, Inc. (Company or NCI).

The unaudited pro forma combined statement of operations combine the respective statements of operations as if the acquisition of TAI had occurred at January 1, 2003.

The unaudited pro forma combined balance sheet reflects the balance sheet of the Company as if the acquisition of TAI had occurred on December 31, 2003.

The pro forma adjustments, which give effect, to the acquisition are based upon the purchase method of accounting and upon the assumptions as set forth in the accompanying notes. This pro forma combined financial information should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements of the Company, filed as a part of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2003, and the historical financial statements of TAI, which are contained herein.

The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations are not necessarily indicative of the operating results that would have occurred had the acquisition been consummated at January 1, 2003. Therefore, the unaudited pro forma combined financial statement should not be construed as representative of future operations. For purpose of preparing the Company's consolidated financial statement subsequent to the acquisition, the Company will establish a new basis for TAI's assets and liabilities based upon the fair values thereof and the aggregate purchase price, including the costs of the acquisition. A final determination of required purchase accounting adjustments, including the allocation of the purchase price to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their respective fair values, has not been completed. Accordingly, the purchase accounting adjustments made in connection with the development of the pro forma combined financial information are preliminary and have been made solely for purposes of developing such pro forma combined information. The Company has undertaken a study to determine the fair value of certain of TAI's assets and liabilities and will make the appropriate purchase accounting adjustments upon the completion of the study. The actual financial position and results of operations will differ, perhaps significantly, from the pro forma amounts reflected herein.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA COMBINED STATEMENTS OF OPERATIONS

(a) This adjustment to TAI's statements of operations reflects the reduction of revenues and expenses associated with certain excluded client contracts and certain employees of TAI not hired by the Company.

(b) This adjustment to TAI's statements of operations reflects adjustments to reflect anticipated increases in base salaries, referenced in the asset purchase agreement between the Company and TAI, which is included in the original filing, plus a reduction of incentive compensation amounts for TAI that reflect an estimate of the amounts the employees of TAI would have received based on the Company's incentive compensation plans in place as of a certain date. It was TAI's practice, as a subchapter S corporation, to pay significantly all excess cashflow to employees in the form of incentive compensation.

(c) This adjustment represents Federal and State income taxes that would have been recorded by TAI in each year had it not been an S corporation and had it instead been required to pay Federal and State income taxes. The pro forma adjustments to income taxes represent the adjustment of TAI's effective tax rate to an estimated 41.5 percent, which is comparable to the Company's effective tax rate.

(d) This adjustment represents TAI's transaction costs of $804 for investment banking, legal and accounting fees related to the sale of TAI's assets to the Company.

(e) This adjustment represents interest expense associated with the bank borrowings required to fund the TAI acquisition in 2003. The Company has assumed average borrowing of $20.0 million and an average borrowing rate of 3 percent. This adjustment also reflects imputed interest expense of $1.0 million associated with future cash purchase obligations.

The pro forma statements of operations do not reflect alternative or additional pro forma adjustments related to a variety of issues, such as cost savings from synergies that may be realized, integration costs to be incurred subsequent to the acquisitions, changes in employee benefit plans, alternative incentive compensation plans in place within the Company at various times, as well as other operational and client related items that may have been considered. Certain client projects included in revenue and expense might have been forgone for various reasons. These pro forma circumstances were not adjusted for, as these client projects had been completed prior to the transaction date, January 30, 2004, and were not adjusted for herein. Certain client projects referenced in the asset purchase agreement might not be transferred to the Company. The issues associated with these client projects are complex and emerging. The revenue and costs associated with these projects may or may not be included in the future results of the Company.
