ACS Acquisition Update

Discussion points:

Why we're taking action now

How we planned for this transformative deal

Revenue and profit synergies

Strategic and financial profile

4

4

A Strategic and Compelling Transaction

The acquisition of ACS is designed to deliver increased and sustainable shareholder and customer value

Builds on Xerox's strong financial base and drives value creation

Provides immediate scale and leadership in BPO

Increases already strong free cash flow

Strengthens annuity based business model

Leverages brand strength, global reach and technology expertise

Expands market opportunity

Enhances our growth prospects

Growth catalyst that secures Xerox a strong, competitive future

5

5

A Global, Diversified Leader

Acquisition leverages the strengths of two best-in-class companies to create a new class of solutions provider

$22 billion in revenue

$17 billion of recurring revenue

Greatly expanded service capabilities

$10 billion revenues from services

Nearly 50% of total revenue

Strong free cash flow will exceed $2 billion a year or 8%+ of annual revenue

Double digit operating margins

Expands Xerox's addressable market four times to over $500 billion, with an annual 5% growth rate

Xerox will now have a critical mass of services, accounts, and sales to be a major player in the lucrative BPO market. The company has also fundamentally repositioned itself in the office document technology and services industry.

InfoTrends, October 8, 2009

6

Emerging Market Dynamics

Customers are seeking service providers that offer a full range of solutions

Large enterprises demand global capabilities and global account management

Lines are blurring between the document infrastructure and business processes

Industry is already consolidating

Traditional competitors are focusing more on services

Services competitors are leveraging scale

Mature market has made growth challenging in our traditional business

Future growth opportunity is driven more by services than core technology business

"With ACS, Xerox becomes a formidable player in the business process segment of outsourcing services. The combination establishes a very strong player in transactional or operational BPO.

Everest Research Institute, September 28, 2009

7

Why Business Processing Outsourcing

BPO largely driven by document-driven work.

Value is in:

Automating labor intensive tasks through technology

More efficient manual work processes

A combination of both

Many industries still very dependent on documents

Health care, insurance, financial services, etc.

Largely annuity-based business

Long-term contracts provide recurring revenue

Strong, sustainable relevance and value proposition

BPO is always about improving productivity, reducing costs

Serves diverse markets, across verticals

8

8

Taking Action Now

Xerox is the industry leader in key growth markets of our existing business

ACS is a best-in-class BPO enterprise

Diversified offerings with market leadership

Delivering

strong

profitable

6

percent

in fiscal

2009

New business signings of $1 billion in annual recurring revenue

92% of revenue is U.S based; need to scale globally

Solid services expertise; need innovation to differentiate offerings

Scaling services differentiates Xerox in marketplace; adds value to our technology

Regardless of the strength of our existing business, without a company like ACS, we will miss the opportunity to exploit the growth potential in this market as a leading provider of integrated solutions.

The Planning Process

Began evaluating acquisition targets several years ago

ACS was considered from the outset

Initial focus was on small bolt-on acquisitions in vertical markets

Rigorous review and analysis led us to believe the timing was right to pursue ACS

Best option to enhance the key pillars of Xerox's business

Prioritized objectives to include:

Expanding market and growth opportunities

Strong financial profile

Experienced management team to lead effective execution

10

10

Complementary portfolio of offerings; compelling tangible, achievable synergies

Strong revenue growth potential

Scale

ACS

internationally

through

Xerox

brand

and global account

relationships

Account-by-account analysis of meaningful new business potential

Conservative assumptions on deal opportunities and closure rates

Cost synergies provide a solid financial return

Line-by-line review to identify specific cost reductions

Focus on corporate governance, services delivery, and infrastructure

Significant combined cash flow with additional cash benefits over first three years

Tangible and Achievable Synergies

Xerox has had BPO aspirations for years. With this deal, ACS will bring savvy BPO marketing, packaging, pricing, deal pursuit and execution to the table, while Xerox's brand and global client reach should bring strength in the Asia/Pacific region and Europe, where ACS has not established inroads.

A Compelling Value Proposition

Combines the strengths of best-in-class companies, creates a new class of solutions provider

Provides customers with a broader suite of business solutions

Strengthens emphasis on cash generation and recurring revenue

Accelerates services-led strategy to provide greater scope, scale, and relevance as a global BPO competitor

Unites highly complementary organizations

Dedicated teams from each company are meeting and setting concrete priorities

Plans in place to realize specific synergies identified during due diligence process

Delivers increased and sustainable shareholder and customer value

The acquisition will deepen Xerox's channels for managed print services (MPS), infuse R&D and innovation into ACS customers, and provide more standard offerings for ACS's business process outsourcing (BPO) offerings.
