Item 8.01 Other Events.

On April 1, 2011, IntercontinentalExchange, Inc. (ICE) and The NASDAQ OMX Group, Inc. (NASDAQ OMX) issued a joint press release announcing that they had delivered to the Board of Directors of NYSE Euronext a proposal (the Proposal) to acquire all of the outstanding shares of NYSE Euronext. The press release announcing the Proposal, including the full text of the letter delivered to the Board of Directors of NYSE Euronext setting forth the Proposal, is attached as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report and is incorporated herein by reference.

ICE and NASDAQ OMX have agreed that, in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Proposal, ICE would acquire NYSE Euronext's derivatives business and certain other entities and assets of NYSE Euronext, together with their related liabilities, and that all remaining entities and assets of NYSE Euronext, together with their related liabilities, would be retained by NASDAQ OMX. Of the aggregate consideration contemplated by the Proposal, ICE will contribute $1.650 billion in cash and 0.1436 of a share of ICE common stock per share of NYSE Euronext common stock and NASDAQ OMX will contribute $2.121 billion in cash and 0.4069 of a share of NASDAQ OMX common stock per share of NYSE Euronext common stock and the assumption of $2.074 billion of NYSE Euronext debt by the entities of NYSE Euronext to be retained by NASDAQ OMX. ICE and NASDAQ OMX have agreed that all aspects of the Proposal and the transactions contemplated by the Proposal will be taken or made by them by mutual agreement. ICE and NASDAQ OMX have agreed to share equally all break-up or termination fees paid or payable by ICE or NASDAQ OMX in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Proposal.

ICE and NASDAQ OMX have agreed that, after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Proposal, ICE will be entitled to receive, at direct cost, transition services for the businesses it acquires. ICE and NASDAQ OMX have also agreed that they will work exclusively with each other to pursue the Proposal, including the entry into a definitive transaction agreement between them, and to pursue the transactions contemplated by the Proposal, and that neither party will, or will authorize or permit any of its representatives to, directly or indirectly, solicit, initiate, cause, knowingly encourage or knowingly facilitate any inquiries or the making of any proposal from any third party (other than a private equity investment solely in the capital stock of NASDAQ OMX by a private equity fund that has regularly engaged in the business of making private equity investments, and other than a financial institution providing debt financing in the ordinary course of its business) that may or is intended to result in any offer, proposal or indication of interest with any such third party to acquire any capital stock or assets of NYSE Euronext or relating to any other extraordinary business transaction or combination involving NYSE Euronext, or to engage in certain other actions or discussions in furtherance of any of the foregoing. In the event that the Proposal is unilaterally terminated by one party, the terminating party will remain subject to the restrictions described in the immediately preceding sentence until the later of six months following the termination and December 31, 2011.

ICE and NASDAQ OMX have also agreed that, while they are proceeding with the transactions contemplated by the Proposal, and for a period of nine months afterwards, neither party will facilitate or proceed with any acquisition of securities, proxy solicitation, business combination or other specified transactions concerning the other party without prior written consent, other than with respect to the Proposal.

There can be no assurance that any of the transactions contemplated by the Proposal will be consummated, and there can be no assurance that any agreement with respect to the proposed transactions will be reached, or as to the timing or terms thereof. ICE assumes no obligation to update this Current Report.
