Combining Express Scripts and Medco Health Solutions Will Help Protect Americans

From the Rising Costs of Prescription Medicine

Merger will accelerate the ability to drive out wasteful spending, lower cost of medicine, detect and close gaps in care, and increase safety and affordability for consumers

Complementary innovative approaches to patient care align with needs of business, labor, health plan and government clients to preserve and enhance the pharmacy benefit

WASHINGTON, D.C. (December 6, 2011) Bringing together innovative pharmacy benefit managers Express Scripts, Inc. (NASDAQ: ESRX) and Medco Health Solutions (NYSE: MHS) will lead to safer, better and more affordable pharmaceutical coverage care for Americans, company executives stated in testimony prepared today for members of a Senate subcommittee.

Appearing today before the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Antitrust, Competition Policy and Consumer Rights, Express Scripts chairman and CEO George Paz and Medco chairman and CEO David B. Snow, Jr. offered the following insights and observations in their prepared testimony:

George Paz, Chairman and CEO, Express Scripts:

We are going to lower prescription drug costs that are far too high. Our new company will negotiate with drug companies and partner with independent pharmacies, grocery chains and others to create networks of pharmacies where patients not profits come first.

That is what we hope to accomplish by combining our two innovative companies: the enhanced strength and know-how to protect purchasers whether small, medium or large employers, plans sponsored by organized labor, or local, state and federal taxpayer funded plans. Plan sponsors pay the majority of the costs of prescription drugs and provide the drug benefits for our citizens. It is their money everyone should be concerned about protecting.

Intense competition in the marketplace forces PBMs to reduce the prices charged to clients for core services and to share larger portions of the savings negotiated with pharmaceutical manufacturers and retail pharmacies. We believe that the merger of our two companies will better position us to respond to the demands of the marketplace.

Beyond wasteful prescription drug spending, costs include unnecessary hospitalizations, testing and treatment in costly emergency rooms. These are very real problems with costs across the entire health system and PBMs are the most advanced partners to provide common-sense solutions.

Express Scripts and Medco both have significant clinical capabilities to serve all of our patient groups. By combining these offerings, we can pioneer new drug safety systems, create new resources for public health, and continue to advance evidence-based medicine to better serve our patients.

Express Scripts is proud of our specialty pharmacy capabilities. We are at the forefront of providing specialized care to patients with chronic, complex diseases with medications that can cost tens or even hundreds of thousands of dollars per year. Our specialty pharmacy programs keep patients adherent to injectable and infusible therapies, avoid more costly treatment settings, and improve the livelihood of our patients.

Simply and most accurately put, we and our competitors in the PBM industry are successful when our clients save money through lower employer and employee health premiums and/or reduced out-of-pocket costs while at the same time enhancing safety and more positive medical outcomes.

David B. Snow, Jr., Chairman and CEO, Medco:

As the health care industry necessarily focuses on reducing costs; as Congress seeks to find health care savings without compromising patient care; and as all participants in the system are faced with the prospect of doing more with less, we must make our health care dollars work more effectively. We believe that the services that Express Scripts and Medco, working together, will provide are critical to achieving this goal.

With the combined expertise and capabilities of Medco and Express Scripts, we will be able to speed the pace of delivering value-added solutions that address the pressing need to reduce overall costs and raise the standard for quality care.

The clinical programs designed by our pharmacists and nurses ensure that we deliver the right medicine, in the right dose, to address the right conditions, and then that those medicines are taken as prescribed by the patient's physician.

Medco's clinical solutions keep patients healthier, out of the hospital, and on the job – and ensure affordable care is more accessible for all. Combining these capabilities with Express Scripts' focus on improving patient compliance will allow the collective impact we make to enhance the quality of life for millions of patients and reduce overall costs to the health care system.

To succeed, a PBM must lower drug prices and improve the quality of care for its clients and patients. The Congressional Budget Office has estimated that PBMs reduce drug costs by as much as 30 percent. And as validated in a recently released study, Medco and Express Scripts will save their clients and members up to $87 billion per year in total drug spending, compared to what would have been spent in an unmanaged environment.

Combined, we can amplify our impact to reduce overall costs by improving the quality of patient care. This will make American business more competitive – creating a healthier, more productive workforce, preserving existing jobs, and creating new jobs in the future.

We all know the future of health care belongs to those who deliver more for less. The merger of Express Scripts and Medco is part of that transformation of America's health care system.

MEDCO FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENT

This press release contains forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, statements related to Medco's plans, objectives, expectations (financial and otherwise) or intentions. Actual results may differ significantly from those projected or suggested in any forward-looking statements. Factors that may impact these forward-looking statements include but are not limited to:

Competition in the PBM, specialty pharmacy and broader healthcare industry is intense and could impair our ability to attract and retain clients.

Edgar Filing: MEDCO HEALTH SOLUTIONS INC - Form 425

Failure to retain key clients and their members, either as a result of economic conditions, increased competition or other factors, could result in significantly decreased revenues, harm to our reputation and decreased profitability;

Government efforts to reduce healthcare costs and alter healthcare financing practices could lead to a decreased demand for our services or to reduced profitability;

Failure in continued execution of our retiree strategy, including the potential loss of Medicare Part D-eligible members, could adversely impact our business and financial results;

If we or our suppliers fail to comply with complex and evolving laws and regulations domestically and internationally, we could suffer penalties, be required to pay substantial damages and/or make significant changes to our operations;

If we do not continue to earn and retain purchase discounts, rebates and service fees from manufacturers at current levels, our gross margins may decline;

From time to time we engage in transactions to acquire other companies or businesses and if we are unable to effectively integrate acquired businesses into ours, our operating results may be adversely affected. Even if we are successful, the integration of these businesses has required, and will likely continue to require, significant resources and management attention;

New legislative or regulatory initiatives that restrict or prohibit the PBM industry's ability to use patient identifiable information could limit our ability to use information critical to the operation of our business;

Our Specialty Pharmacy business is dependent on our relationships with a limited number of suppliers and our clinical research services are dependent on our relationships with a limited number of clients. As such, the loss of one or more of these relationships, or limitations on our ability to provide services to these suppliers or clients, could significantly impact our ability to sustain and/or improve our financial performance;

Our ability to grow our Specialty Pharmacy business could be limited if we do not expand our existing base of drugs or if we lose patients;

Our Specialty Pharmacy business, certain revenues from diabetes testing supplies and our Medicare Part D offerings expose us to increased billing, cash application and credit risks. Additionally, current economic conditions may expose us to increased credit risk;

Changes in reimbursement, including reimbursement for durable medical equipment, could negatively affect our revenues and profits;

Prescription volumes may decline, and our net revenues and profitability may be negatively impacted, if the safety risk profiles of drugs increase or if drugs are withdrawn from the market, including as a result of manufacturing issues, or if prescription drugs transition to over-the-counter products;

Demand for our clinical research services depends on the willingness of companies in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries to continue to outsource clinical development and on our reputation for independent, high-quality scientific research and evidence development;

PBMs could be subject to claims under ERISA if they are found to be a fiduciary of a health benefit plan governed by ERISA;

Edgar Filing: MEDCO HEALTH SOLUTIONS INC - Form 425

Pending litigation could adversely impact our business practices and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, liquidity and operating results;

Changes in industry pricing benchmarks could adversely affect our financial performance;

We are subject to a corporate integrity agreement and noncompliance may impede our ability to conduct business with the federal government;

The terms and covenants relating to our existing indebtedness could adversely impact our financial performance and liquidity;

We may be subject to liability claims for damages and other expenses not covered by insurance;

The success of our business depends on maintaining a well-secured pharmacy operation and technology infrastructure. Additionally, significant disruptions to our infrastructure or any of our facilities due to failure to execute security measures or failure to execute business continuity plans in the event of an epidemic or pandemic or some other catastrophic event could adversely impact our business;

Business process and technology infrastructure improvements associated with our agile enterprise initiative may not be successfully or timely implemented or may fail to operate as designed and intended, causing the Company's performance to suffer;

We may be required to record a material non-cash charge to income if our recorded intangible assets or goodwill are impaired, or if we shorten intangible asset useful lives;

We are subject to certain risks associated with our international operations; and Anti-takeover provisions of the Delaware General Corporation Law, our certificate of incorporation and our bylaws could delay or deter a change in control and make it more difficult to remove incumbent officers and directors.

Express Scripts and Medco may be unable to obtain stockholder or regulatory approvals required for the merger or may be required to accept conditions that could reduce the anticipated benefits of the merger as a condition to obtaining regulatory approvals;

The length of time necessary to consummate the proposed merger may be longer than anticipated; problems may arise in successfully integrating the businesses of Express Scripts and Medco;

The proposed merger may involve unexpected costs;

The businesses may suffer as a result of uncertainty surrounding the proposed merger; and

The industry may be subject to future risks that are described in SEC reports filed by Express Scripts and Medco.

The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive.
