GOL Increases 2006 Deliveries of Boeing NG 737-800

São Paulo, September 6, 2005 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes S.A. (NYSE: GOL and Bovespa: GOLL4), Brazil's low-cost, low-fare airline, announced that it has increased the number of Boeing 737-800 Next-Generation aircraft to be delivered in 2006 from six to 11, in support of its expansion and costs reduction plans.

In the revision of the new aircraft delivery schedule, the fleet plan for 2006 was increased from 49 to 54 aircraft. Currently, GOL's order for Boeing 737-800s is comprised of 60 firm orders and 41 purchase options, totaling 101 aircraft, scheduled for delivery between 2006 and 2012. The options, which lend greater flexibility to the Company's already adaptable expansion plans, are exercisable between 2007 and 2012. GOL currently operates 37 Boeing 737 aircraft, 10 of which are 737-800 Next-Generations.

The new 737-800s will have a special performance package that will permit the operation of the aircraft in all airports served by GOL, allowing greater flexibility to select and operate routes. The new 737s will also be fitted with winglets, which will further improve fuel efficiency by over four percent. In addition to lower operating costs, winglets offer other benefits, including increased range, improved takeoff performance and obstacle clearance, as well as reduced noise on takeoff.

The sum of the structural and operational characteristics will result in a significant reduction in the Company's CASK.

The new 737-800 NG aircraft will allow a better calibration of take-off thrust, maintaining maximum safety and optimizing the cost of fuel, brakes and tires, said Capt. David Barioni, GOL's Technical VP.

GOL's current plans for fleet expansion are as follows:

Aircraft	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009	2010
737-300	10	8	5	-	-	-
737-700	22	26	23	22	22	22
