Item 6. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

The Company's officers and directors are indemnified as provided by the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) (the "BCBCA") and the Company's Articles of Continuance (as amended, "Articles").

Under the BCBCA, a company may do one or both of the following: (I) indemnify an "eligible party", which is defined as an individual who: (a) is or was a director or officer of the Company; (b) is or was a director or officer of another corporation (i) at a time when the corporation is or was an affiliate of the Company; or (ii) at the request of the Company; or (c) at the request of the Company, is or was, or holds or held a position equivalent to that of, a director or officer of a partnership, trust, joint venture or other unincorporated entity, against all judgments, penalties or fines awarded or imposed in, or amount paid in settlement of, an eligible proceeding (as defined below) ("eligible penalties") to which the eligible party is or may be liable; and/or (II) after the final disposition of an eligible proceeding, pay the costs, charges and expenses, including legal and other fees, but not including judgments, penalties, fines or amounts paid in settlement of a proceeding (as defined below) ("expenses") actually and reasonably incurred by an eligible party in respect of that legal proceeding or investigative action whether current, threatened, pending or completed (a "proceeding"). An "eligible proceeding" is defined as a proceeding in which an eligible party (or any of the heirs or other legal representatives of the eligible party) by reason of such individual being or having been an officer or director of, or holding or having held a position equivalent to that of a director or officer of, the Company or an associated corporation, (a) is or may be joined as a party, or (b) is or may be liable for or in respect of a judgment, penalty or fine in, or expenses related to, the proceeding.

Subject to certain exceptions set forth in the BCBCA, a company must, after the final disposition of an eligible proceeding, pay all expenses actually and reasonably incurred by the eligible party in respect of that proceeding if the eligible party (a) has not been reimbursed for those expenses, and (b) is wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the outcome of the proceeding or is substantially successful on the merits in the outcome of the proceeding. Among other circumstances, a company must not indemnify an eligible party if, in relation to the subject matter of the eligible proceeding, such eligible party did not act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Company or in the case of an eligible proceeding other than a civil proceeding, if the eligible party did not have reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct in respect of which the proceeding was brought was lawful. Further, a company cannot indemnify or cover the expenses of any eligible party in respect of any proceeding brought by or on behalf of the Company or by or on behalf of an associated corporation. Despite any other provision, and whether or not payment of expenses or indemnification has been sought, authorized or declined, the Supreme Court of British Columbia may, among other things, on the application of the Company or an eligible party, order indemnification of any liability or expense incurred by such individual.

A director is not liable under the BCBCA if the director relies, in good faith, on (a) financial statements of the company represented to the director by an officer of the company or in a written report of the auditor of the company to fairly reflect the financial position of the company, (b) a written report of a lawyer, accountant, engineer, appraiser or other person whose profession lends credibility to a statement made by that person, (c) a statement of fact represented to the director by an officer of the company to be correct, or (d) any record, information or representation that the court considers provides reasonable grounds for the actions of the director, whether or not (i) the record was forged, fraudulently made or inaccurate, or (ii) the information or representation was fraudulently made or inaccurate. A director is similarly not liable under the BCBCA if the director did not know and could not reasonably have known that the act done by the director or authorized by the resolution voted for or consented to by the director was contrary to the BCBCA.

Under the Company's Articles, and subject to the BCBCA, the Company must indemnify each director or a former director of the Company and his or her heirs and legal personal representatives against all eligible penalties to which such person is or may be liable, and the Company must, after the final disposition of an eligible proceeding, pay the expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person in respect of that proceeding. Each eligible party is deemed to have contracted with the Company on the terms of the indemnity contained in Section 21.2 of the Company's Articles. In addition, under the Company's Articles and subject to any restrictions in the BCBCA, the Company may indemnify any person.

Furthermore, under the BCBCA and the Company's Articles, the Company may purchase and maintain insurance for the benefit of any person (or his or her heirs or legal personal representatives) who (a) is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company; (b) is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of a corporation at a time when the corporation is or was an affiliate of the Company; (c) at the request of the Company, is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of a corporation or of a partnership, trust, joint venture or other unincorporated entity; or (d) at the request of the Company, holds or held a position equivalent to that of a director or officer of a partnership, trust, joint venture or other unincorporated entity against any liability incurred by him or her as such director, officer, employee or agent or person who holds or held such equivalent position. A policy of directors' and officers' liability insurance is maintained by the Company which insures directors and officers, former directors and officers, persons who act or acted at the Company's request as a director or officer of a corporation in which the Company is or was a shareholder or creditor, and their respective heirs and legal representatives, for losses as a result of claims against the directors and officers of the Company in their capacity as directors and officers. The policy also reimburses the Company for payments made pursuant to the indemnity provisions under the Company's Articles and the BCBCA.

In addition, the Company has entered into indemnification agreements with its directors and officers. The indemnification agreements indemnify the Company's directors and officers to the extent permitted by applicable law for liabilities arising out of the indemnitees' service to the Company as directors and officers, if the indemnitees acted honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Company and, with respect to criminal and administrative actions or proceedings, if the indemnitee had reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct was lawful. The indemnification agreements also provide that the Company advance defense expenses to the indemnitees.
