Re: Recirculation of Preliminary Prospectus for Initial Public Offering

Enclosed herewith is a copy of the preliminary prospectus of Workiva LLC (to be converted into Workiva Inc.) (the "Company") dated December 8, 2014 (the "Revised Preliminary Prospectus") in connection with the Company's proposed initial public offering. You are receiving this Revised Preliminary Prospectus because the Company has restated its financial statements to properly account for a $2.3 million forgivable loan. The Company has also made certain other corresponding changes to the preliminary prospectus that are described below. The Revised Preliminary Prospectus is included in Amendment No. 3 to the Registration Statement on Form S-1 (File No. 333-199459), which was filed on December 8, 2014 with the Securities and Exchange Commission and may be accessed through the following link:

The Revised Preliminary Prospectus contains changes from the Company's preliminary prospectus dated December 1, 2014 that you have previously received. The purpose of this notice is to describe those changes, but this notice is not a summary of all of the changes made. Accordingly, you are urged to read the Revised Preliminary Prospectus carefully and in its entirety.

The Company has restated its financial statements to properly account for a February 1, 2011 $2.3 million forgivable loan from the Iowa Department of Economic Development (IDED) in accordance with ASC 450 "Contingencies" (ASC 450). While the Company continues to believe that the IDED loan will be forgiven, the Company has concluded that the realization of these amounts represents a gain contingency and should be recorded when all contingencies have been resolved. The $2.3 million IDED loan will be forgiven, and the Company will not be required to repay the IDED loan, if it maintains 251 newly created and 6 retained qualifying jobs through December 2015. Accordingly, under ASC 450, the Company will not account for the IDED loan until December 2015, and then only if the contingencies related to qualifying jobs have been satisfied. Accordingly, the benefit of the forgivable loan, which was originally allocated and recorded as a reduction to payroll costs reported in cost of revenue and operating expenses in 2013, has been reversed as a result of this restatement and the application of ASC 450.

The Company has also modified the discussion under "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" to provide updated disclosure to reflect the restatement.

In addition, the Company added the following risk factor to the Revised Preliminary Prospectus:

We have previously identified a material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting, and any inability to maintain effective internal control over financial reporting could have a material adverse effect on our business.

During the course of preparing for this offering, we determined that it was appropriate to restate our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2013 to revise our method of accounting for a forgivable loan arrangement. In connection with this restatement, we, in conjunction with our independent registered public accounting firm, concluded that a lack of adequate controls surrounding the review and recognition of forgivable loan arrangements constituted a material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting. During the current fiscal year, we have implemented measures designed to improve our internal control over financial reporting, including hiring a new chief financial officer, a general counsel and additional accounting and finance personnel. These additional resources have enabled us to broaden the scope and quality of our internal review of underlying information related to financial reporting and to formalize and enhance our financial control procedures. We cannot be certain that these efforts will be sufficient to remediate or prevent future material weaknesses or significant deficiencies from occurring.
