ITEM 1. BUSINESS

Proposed Reorganization

Nantucket Industries, Inc. (the "Company") is currently insolvent. It has had no business and carried on no business activities since October 1999. On March 3, 2000, the Company filed a Voluntary Petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. (Case Name: Nantucket Industries, Inc., Case Number: 00-B 10867). The Company intends to file a Plan of Reorganization and a Disclosure Statement in June 2001.

The goal of the projected reorganization will be for the Company to be merged with, or to acquire the assets or the capital stock of an existing business or to effect a similar business combination. No assurance can be given that this goal will be achieved. Management will have sole discretion to determine which business, if any, may be merged or acquired, as well as the terms of any merger or acquisition. Management has searched and discussed the possibilities of a business combination with several entities that appeared to have value potential for a viable combination but each situation was deemed infeasible after vigorous due diligence done by management. However, Accutone Inc., a company controlled by John H. Treglia, the Company's current president, is among the companies and businesses which management has made its candidate with regard to the possibility of an acquisition or merger transaction with the Company. If the Company should ultimately acquire a business or property from any member of management, the terms of such acquisition might not be the result of arm's length negotiations. While any transaction between the Company and any of its affiliates could present management with a conflict of interest, it is the intention of management that if such transaction should occur, the terms thereof will be no less beneficial to the Company than if such transactions were effected on an arm's length basis.

The proposed reorganization of the Company and the acquisition of or merger with a new business can be expected to require the issuance of a substantial amount of new shares of common stock or other securities. Any such stock issuances will significantly reduce the proportionate ownership and voting power of each other shareholder.

History

Until the end of October 1999, when the Company discontinued all business activities, it produced and distributed popular priced branded fashion undergarments for sale, throughout the United States, to mass merchandisers and national chains. The Company produced and sold its men's underwear products primarily under licensed labels including "Brittania" and "Arrow" and, until March 31, 1998, the Company also produced women's innerwear, under the GUESS? label, for sale to department and specialty stores. Prior to the cessation of all business activities, all of the Company's products were manufactured by offshore production contractors located in Mexico, the Far East and the Caribbean Basin, packaging and distribution of the Company's product lines was based in its leased facility in Cartersville, Georgia. The Company conducted all of its business activities directly, and indirectly through its four currently dormant subsidiary corporations, Nantucket Hosiery Mills Inc., a Delaware Corporation ("NHMI"), Nantucket Mills Inc., a Delaware Corporation, Nantucket Hosiery Mills Corp. a North Carolina corporation ("NHMC"), and

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Nantucket Management Corp., a New York corporation. The four currently dormant subsidiary corporations will be terminated at the time of any acquisition, merger or other business combination. For a discussion in more detail of the company's former business operations and the factors leading to the termination of the company's business, reference is made to Item 1 of Part I of the company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999.

Termination of Operations

The Company experienced significant losses from operations in recent year which resulted in severe cash flow deficits that negatively impacted the ability of the Company to continue its business as formerly structured. The Company has been totally inactive since October 1999 and filed for protection under Chapter 11 on March 3, 2000. During fiscal 2000, the effect of sharply decreasing revenues over the previous four years, continuing losses from operations, interest payment defaults on outstanding debt, the lack of a long-term credit facility, and the concentration of almost all sales among only three customers forced the Company to discontinue all of its business and operations. Prior to the periods covered by this report, in fiscal 1995 and 1996, the Company had funded its operations by refinancing its debt and increasing its capital through (i) the sale of $1 million of non-voting convertible preferred stock to management; (ii) the sale of treasury stock which increased equity by $2.9 million; and (iii) the completion of a $3.5 million private placement (see the discussion, below, under the subcaption, "Continuing Default on Outstanding Debentures"). The Company had also implemented a restructuring strategy aimed at improving operating results, through the reduction of costs, the streamlining of operations, and the closing of the Company's Puerto Rico Plant. These effort failed to bring the Company's operations to a profitable level. Some of the major factors and occurrences which led to the Company's insolvency and the termination of its operations are described below. For a discussion in more detail of each of the matters discussed below, reference is made to the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999 and to Item 7 "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations", included in this Report.

Discontinuance of GUESS? Product Line

From December 7, 1992 until the first quarter of the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999, the Company held the exclusive United States rights to produce and sell undergarments bearing the "GUESS?" trademark and variations thereof. The license was subject to termination prior to its expiration if certain minimum sales goals were not met, with the payment of minimum royalties required in the amounts of $560,000, $700,000 and $840,000 for the contract years ended May 31, 1997, 1998 and 1999 respectively. Minimum sales goals were never achieved under this license. During the term of this license, the Company did not have the capital resources necessary to develop and support the GUESS? product line at the levels required in the licensing agreement. Therefore, the Company, with the support of the licensor, GUESS? Inc., initiated a strategy to discontinue the GUESS? product line, which was finally and completely discontinued during the first quarter of fiscal year 1999.

Termination of "Arrow" License

Pursuant to an agreement, dated October 5, 1992, with Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc., the Company held the exclusive United States rights (the "Arrow License") to produce and sell men's' and boys' fashion underwear, T-shirts, V-neck shirts, tank tops, briefs and boxer shorts bearing the "ARROW" trademark during the period commencing January 1, 1993 and expiring, as extended, December 31, 1999. The terms of the Arrow License required that the Company pay a minimum royalty of $162,500 for each annual period through December 31, 1996, increasing to $250,000 for each annual period from January 1, 1997 through December 31, 1999. The Company began shipping product under this trademark during the first quarter of fiscal 1994. Net sales under this license were $4.4 million in fiscal 1999, $4.8 million in fiscal 1998 and $5.7 million in fiscal 1997. Because the Company was unable to meet the minimum sales volume requirements called for under the Arrow License, as of March 12, 1999, the Company reached an agreement with the licensor to terminate the Arrow License.

Failure to Meet Minimum Sales Requirements Under "Botany 300" License

On December 21, 1992, the Company obtained from the McGregor Corporation the exclusive United States rights (the "Botany 500 License") trademark during the period commencing on January 1, 1993 and expiring, pursuant to an extension, December 31, 2001. Under the terms of the license agreement, the McGregor Corporation had the right to terminate the Botany 500 License prior to its expiration if certain minimum sales goals were not met. Minimum sales levels required under the Botany 500 License for calendar 1996 were $750,000 and $1 million for each calendar year thereafter. The company was never able to meet the minimum sales requirements under the Botany 500 License with net sales under the license for fiscal 1997 (which included most of calendar 1996) being $652,000 and $225,000 for fiscal 1998 (which included most of calendar 1997). After fiscal 1998, the Company ceased all operations under the Botany 500 License.

Termination of Levi Strauss/Brittania Operations

Commencing in September 1988, the Company held a license (the "Brittania License") from Brittania Sportswear Ltd. ("Brittania"). Levi Strauss & Co. ("Levi Strauss") was the parent company of Brittania. Under the Brittania License, the Company had the right to manufacture and market men's underwear and other products under the trademark "Brittania from Levi Strauss & Co". Sales under the "Brittania License aggregated $14.9 million in fiscal 1997 and $4.5 million in fiscal 1998, accounting for 49% of the Company's fiscal 1997 sales, and 21% of the Company's fiscal 1998 sales. During the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999, the Company made no sales under the Brittania License. As of January 1, 1997, the Brittania License had been renewed for a five-year term, including automatic renewals of two years if certain minimum sales levels were achieved. However, on January 22, 1997, Levi's announced its intention to sell Brittania. As a result of the action taken by Levi Strauss, K-mart, the largest retainer of the Brittania brand, and the Company's largest customer (accounting for sales of Brittania product of approximately $11 million in fiscal year 1997, and $3 million in fiscal year 1998), advised the Company that it would no longer continue its commitment to carry the Brittania trademark. In response, the Company filed a multi-million lawsuit against Levi Strauss and Brittania in March 1997, alleging that Brittania had breached various obligations under its license agreement with the Company, including without limitation its covenant of good faith and fair dealing. This litigation was settled in June 1998, with the Company realizing approximately $725,000 from such settlement.

Loss of Revolving Credit Line

The Company had a fifteen million dollar revolving credit facility with Congress Financial Corp. ("Congress"). This facility provided for: (i) loans based upon eligible accounts receivable and inventory; (ii) a $3,000,000 letter of credit facility; and (iii) purchase money term loans of up to 75% of the orderly liquidation value of newly acquired and eligible equipment. Borrowings bore interest at 2 3/4% above prime. The Company's agreement with Congress required, among other things, that the Company maintain minimum working capital and net worth levels. Borrowings under the agreement were collateralized by a lien on substantially all of the assets of the Company. As at February 27, 1999 the Company was not in compliance with the net worth and working capital covenants and the facility could no longer be utilized. It was subsequently terminated on October 15, 1999. Because of its poor financial status and outlook, the Company was not able to replace the Congress credit facility.

Continuing Default on Outstanding Debentures

On August 15, 1996, the Company completed a $3.5 million private placement with NAN Investors, L.P., an investment partnership ("NAN Investors"). Terms of this transaction included the issuance of 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock and two convertible subordinated debentures in the aggregate principal amount of $2,760,000 (the "NAN Debenture"). The NAN Debentures bore interest at an annual rate of 12.5%, payable semi-annually, with the principal amount due and payable on August 15, 2001. Although the NAN Debentures were convertible into the Company's common stock, NAN Investors eventually waived all conversion rights.

Beginning in August 1997, the Company was in default on interest payment due under the NAN Debentures. The NAN Debentures were secured by a second mortgage on the Company's manufacturing and distribution facility located in Cartersville, Georgia. This property was sold on October 1, 1997. To release NAN's security interest in the property and to extend the cure period with respect to a $172,500 interest payment default on the NAN Debentures, the Company prepaid $707,000 of the principal amount of the NAN Debentures, plus a $176,000 prepayment penalty.¹ In connection herewith, in September 1997, the Company entered into an agreement with NAN Investors (the "First NAN Forbearance Agreement") providing for the extension of the cure period for the default on the interest payments. The First NAN Forbearance Agreement was extended month by month until May 1998, at which time, the Company entered into another forbearance agreement with NAN Investors (the "Second NAN Forbearance Agreement") to extend, until December 1998, the cure period for interest payments then in default (totaling $322,551) as well as the interest payments, which were to fall due in August and December 1998. In consideration for such extension, the Company agreed to secure the NAN Debentures by a first priority lien on all the assets of the Company, both tangible and intangible, to the extent not otherwise prohibited under the Congress revolving credit facility and to issue to NAN Investors five-year warrants convertible to a total of $16,500,000 shares of the Company's stock at an exercise price of $.10 per share. Thereafter, the Company remained in default on all interest payments as they fell due. There was no forbearance agreement in effect for interest payments which fell due subsequent to December 1998 and, as at February 1999, interest payments in default under the NAN Debentures totaled $2,052,986. As a consequence of such default, in accordance with their rights under the terms of the NAN Security Agreement, NAN Investors took possession of all assets of the Company, which consisted principally of inventory having a value of $430,000 and outstanding accounts receivable in an amount of approximately $500,000. On October 12, 1999, the inventory was sold by NAN Investors to American Basics Company LLC, a third party which was unaffiliated with the Company or any affiliate of the Company or of NAN Investors. The proceeds of the inventory sale and the accounts receivable have been applied by NAN Investors towards the Company's outstanding debt. As at May 31, 2000 remaining debt to NAN was approximately $820,000.

(1) Total proceeds from the sale of the Cartersville facility were $2,850,000. In addition to the $883,000 paid to NAN Investors by way of a $707,000 prepayment of principal and a $176,000 prepayment penalty, the Company used $525,000 to pay other financing secured by this property. The remaining proceeds were utilized to reduce the Company's revolving credit line with Congress.

Termination of All Operations

In the years preceding the termination of operations, the Company had experienced difficulty in filling all of its orders, caused in large part by recurring cash shortages, the expiration of its financing arrangements with Congress (and before that with Chemical Bank), and the failure to obtain the investment necessary to support and develop the GUESS? product line. The Company had previously addressed its liquidity issues by the infusion of debt and equity financing, including (i) a refinancing in March 1994; (ii) additional equity of $3.9 million raised in fiscal 1995; (iii) a $3.5 million private placement completed August 1996; and (iv) by the reduction in costs associated with the consolidation and restructuring of the operations in fiscal 1998 and 1999, and the attempt to more effectively manage working capital. All of these efforts, however, failed to keep the Company solvent and with the loss of the Britannia License, continuing losses from operations, interest payment defaults, and the lack of any credit facilities, the Company was forced to discontinue all business operations by the end of October 1999. The Company has remained totally inactive since October 1999 and filed for protection under Chapter 11 on March 3, 2000.

Products and Sales

Since the termination of all business operations in October of 1999, the Company has not produced any products or made any sales of any kind. Prior to that time, the company manufactured and sold men's fashion underwear to mass merchandisers and, in the case of the GUESS? division, ladies' undergarments to better department and specialty stores, primarily through direct contact by salaried and commissioned Company sales personnel. For a discussion in detail of the Company's former products, sales, and operations, reference is made to item 1 of part I of the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999. With respect to results of operations for the fiscal year ended February 27, 2000 prior to the cessation of operations, reference is made to Item 7 of this Report, "Management's Discussion and analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

Customers

Until the Company ceased operations in October 1999, two of its customers, Target Stores Inc. and Sears each accounted for more than 10% of consolidated net sales during the fiscal years ended February 27, 2000 and 1999. These two customers, as well as K-Mart, each accounted for more than 10% of the Company's consolidated net sales during fiscal 1998.

Delivery Requirements

Until the Company ceased operations in October 1999, all purchase orders were taken for current delivery and the Company had no long-term sales contracts with any customer, or any contract entitling the Company to be the exclusive supplier of merchandise to a retailer or distributor.

Backlog

After the termination of the GUESS? license, the Company did not, in the normal course of its business, carry any significant backlog. Orders for the Company's two major customers were received the same week as the expected ship date. When the company ceased doing business in October 1999, it had no backlog of orders and has had no business activity since, including fiscal year ended February 27, 2001. At the end of the most recent prior fiscal year (year ended February 27, 1999), its backlog was an immaterial amount, as compared to $1 million at the end of February 1998.

Competition

Until the Company ceased operations, all of its markets were highly competitive. For a more detailed description of the competitive environment in which the Company operated and the bases on which it endeavored to compete in such environment, reference is made to the subtopic "Competition" in Item 1 of Part I of the company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999.

Patents

The Company has developed and patented packaging suitable for its former products. With the termination of the Company's operations in October 1999, the Company was no longer in a position to use its patented packaging in its own business. Present management has explored the possibility of selling or licensing the right to exploit the Company's packaging patents, but to date has met with only negative responses because of the wide availability of similar types of packaging products.

Environmental Matters

Until it ceased operations in October 1999, the company's packaging and distribution facility was located in Cartersville, GA. The Company believes that such facility materially conformed to all governmental regulations pertaining to environmental quality as then promulgated.

Employees

Since the termination of its operations in October of 1999, the company has had no employees other than its president, John H. Treglia and Marsha Ellis, its Treasurer and Chief Associate Officer. Both such officers devote such time to the affairs of the Company as is required for the performance of their duties. None of the Company's former employees were covered by collective bargaining agreements. The Company never experienced a work stoppage due to labor difficulties and its former management believed that the relationship of the Company with its employees was satisfactory. (See Item 13 of this Report, Certain Relationships and Related Transactions.)

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES

From the time of the termination of business operations until December 31, 2000, the Company's principal headquarters were located at the office of an unaffiliated company, located at 73 Fifth Avenue, Suite 6A, New York, NY 10003. The Company utilized desk space and certain office personnel services on these premises, in a month to month basis at a cost of $250 per month. These rental costs were waived at the end of calendar year 2000. Since January 1, 2001, the Company has been utilizing desk, certain office personnel, and filing space at the offices of Accutone, Inc. at 45 Ludlow Street, Yonkers, New York 10705.

Until October 1999 the Company's executive offices were located at 510 Broadhollow Road, Melville, New York. The Company occupied 2,000 square feet under a lease which was scheduled to expire July 31, 2002. This lease provided for aggregate rentals which increased 4% annually from $46,000 to $52,000 plus increases for certain taxes and energy costs. The Company terminated this lease agreement effective September 30, 1999 without incurring any penalties. No monies are owed in respect of this lease.

Until October 31, 1999, the Company occupied a 71,000 square foot manufacturing and distribution facility in Cartersville, Georgia under a five year lease. This facility was located at 435 Industrial Park Road, Cartersville, Georgia. The initial annual rental was $188,148 subject to increases based on an established formula over the five year lease term which was scheduled to expire on December 31, 2002. The Company was notified on December 17, 1999 that the premises was considered abandoned and that in accordance with sections 20 and 21 of the lease, the lease was terminated effective that date. To date, no claims have been filed against the Company in respect of this property. The leased Cartersville facility was used for the packaging and distribution of the Company's products.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Management is unaware of any pending or threatened legal proceedings to which the Company is a party or of which any of its assets is the subject. No director, officer, or affiliate of the company, or any associated of any of them, is a party to or has a material interest in any proceeding adverse to the Company, except that George Gold, a director of the company, is a creditor included in the Chapter 11 proceedings initiated by the Company.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS.

During the year ended February 28, 2001 the Company did not submit any matters to a vote of its shareholders.

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR THE REGISTRANT'S COMMON STOCK AND RELATED SECURITY HOLDER MATTERS

The Company's Common Stock, $.10 par value, was traded on the American Stock Exchange under the symbol "NAN" until April 17, 1998. Because the Company had fallen below American Stock Exchange guidelines for continued listing, effective April 17, 1998 the Company's Stock was delisted. It is currently traded in the over-the-counter market and quoted on the OTC Electronic Bulletin Board maintained by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. (the "OTC Bulletin Board"). The stock was quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board under the symbol NANK until March 3, 2000, when the Company filed a Voluntary Petition under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. After that date, the Company's OTC bulletin Board Symbol was changed to, NANKQ, which is its current symbol. The following table sets forth representative high and low bid prices by calendar quarters during

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Termination of Operations

The Company experienced significant losses in recent years which have generally resulted in severe cash flow issues that have negatively impacted the ability of the Company to continue its business. During fiscal 2000, the combined effects of various negative developments, including but not limited to: (I) sharply decreasing revenues over the previous four years; (ii) continuing losses from operations; (iii) interest payment defaults on outstanding debt, (iv) the lack of a long-term credit facility; and (v) the concentration of all sales among only three customers forced the company to discontinue all of its business and operations. During the year ended 2001 the Company remained totally inactive.

Prior to the periods covered by the financial statements included in this report, in fiscal 1995 and 1996, the Company had funded its operating losses by refinancing its debt and increasing its capital through: (I) the sale of $1 million of non-voting convertible preferred stock to management; (ii) the sale of treasury stock which increased equity by $2.9 million; (iii) the completion of a $3.5 million private placement. During the several years prior to the termination of its operations, the Company had implemented a restructuring strategy aimed at improving operating results, through the reduction of costs, the streamlining of operations, and the closing of the company's Puerto Rico plant. These efforts failed to bring the Company's operations to a profitable level. Some of the major factors and occurrences which led to the company's insolvency and the termination of its operations; are described below. For a discussion in more detail of each of the matters discussed below, reference is made to the company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999.

The factors noted above resulted in the termination of all of the company's business activities in October 1999 and the filing, on March 3, 2000, of a voluntary Petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the southern District of New York. The company remained inactive during fiscal year ended February 27, 2001. Chief among the factors leading to the present insolvency of the company were: (I) the loss of the company's largest customer because of Levi-Strauss's decision, late in fiscal 1997, to sell its "Brittania" line of men's underwear and other products which the company was licensed to manufacture and sell; (ii) the failure to meet sales goals required under various other licenses held by the company and the resultant loss of such licenses; and (iii) the company's incurrence of substantial amounts of debt in order to fund losses from operations and the inability of the company to repay such debt, including the following:

1. Termination of Levi Strauss/Brittania Operations. Commencing in September 1988, the Company held a license (the "Brittania License") from Brittania Sportswear Ltd. ("Brittania"). Levi Strauss & Co. ("Levi Strauss") was the parent company of Brittania. Under the Brittania License, the Company had the right to manufacture and market men's underwear and other products under the trademark "Brittania from Levi Strauss & Co.". Sales under the Brittania License aggregated $14.9 million in fiscal 1997 and $4.5 million in fiscal 1998, accounting for 49% of the company's fiscal 1997 sales, and 21% of the company's fiscal 1998 sales. During the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999, the Company made no sales under the Brittania License. As of January 1, 1997, the Brittania License had been renewed for a five-year term, including automatic renewals of two years if certain minimum sales levels were achieved. However, on January 22, 1997, Levi's announced its intention to sell Brittania. As a result of the action taken by Levi Strauss, K-Mart, the largest retailer of the Brittania brand, and the Company's largest customer (accounting for sales of Brittania product of approximately $11 million in fiscal year 1997, and $3 million in fiscal year 1998), advised the Company that it would no longer continue its commitment to carry the Brittania trademark. In response, the Company filed a multi-million dollar lawsuit against Levi Strauss and Brittania in March 1997, alleging that Brittania had breached various obligations under its license agreement with the Company, including without limitation its covenant of good faith and fair dealing. This litigation was settled in June 1998, with the Company realizing approximately $725,000 in gross value out of such settlement.

2. Discontinuance of GUESS® Product Line. From December 7, 1992 until the first quarter of the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999, the Company held the exclusive United States rights to produce and sell undergarments bearing the "GUESS®" trademark and variations thereof. The license was subject to termination prior to its expiration if certain minimum sales goals were not met, with the payment of minimum royalties required in the amounts of $560,000, $700,000 and $840,000 for the contract years ended May 31, 1997, 1998 and 1999 respectively. Minimum sales goals were never achieved under this license. Due to the lack of capital resources necessary to develop and support the GUESS® product line at the levels required in the licensing agreement. The Company, with the support of the licensor, initiated a strategy to terminate the GUESS? license, and the Company discontinued its GUESS? division during the first quarter of fiscal year 1999.

3. Termination of "Arrow" License. Pursuant to an agreement, dated October 5, 1992, with Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc., the Company held the exclusive United States rights (the "Arrow License") to produce and sell men's and boys' fashion underwear, T-shirts, V-neck shirts, tank tops, briefs and boxer shorts bearing the "ARROW" trademark during the period commencing January 1, 1993 and expiring, pursuant to an extension, December 31, 1999. The terms of the Arrow License required that the Company pay a minimum royalty of $162,500 for each annual period through December 31, 1996, increasing to $250,000 for each annual period from January 1, 1997 through December 31, 1999. Because the Company was unable to meet the minimum sales requirements under the Arrow License, as of March 12, 1999, the company reached an agreement with the licensor to terminate the Arrow License.

4. Failure to meet Minimum Sales Requirements Under "Botany 500" License. On December 21, 1992, the Company obtained from the McGregor corporation, the exclusive United States rights (the "Botany 500 License") to produce and sell men's and boys' fashion knit underwear briefs bearing the "BOTANY 500" trademark during the period commencing on January 1, 1993 and expiring, pursuant to an extension, December 31, 2001. Under the terms of the license agreement, the McGregor Corporation had the right to terminate the Botany 500 License prior to its expiration if certain minimum sales goals were not met. Minimum sales levels required under the Botany 500 License for calendar 1996 were 4750,000 and $1 million of each calendar year thereafter. The Company was never able to meet the minimum sales requirements under the Botany 500 License with net sales under the license for fiscal 1997 (which included most of calendar 1996) being $652,000 and $225,000 for fiscal 1998 (which included most of calendar 1997). After fiscal 1998, the Company ceased all operations under the Botany 500 License.

5. Loss of Revolving Credit Line. Until October 15, 1999, the Company had a fifteen million dollar revolving credit facility with Congress Financial Corp. ("Congress"). This facility provided for: (i) loans based upon eligible accounts receivable and inventory; (ii) a $3,000,000 letter of credit facility; and (iii) purchase money term loans of up to 75% of the orderly liquidation value of newly acquired and eligible equipment. Borrowings bore interest at 2 3/4% above prime. The Company's agreement with Congress required, among other things, that the Company maintain of minimum working capital and net worth levels. Borrowings under the agreement were collateralized by a lien on substantially all of the assets of the company. As at February 27, 1999 the Company was not in compliance with the net worth and working capital covenants. This credit facility utilized was terminated by Congress on October 15, 1999 and, because of its poor financial status and outlook, the Company was not able to replace it.

6. Continuing Default on Outstanding Debentures. On August 15, 1996, the Company completed a $3.5 million private placement with NAN Investors, L.P., an investment partnership ("NAN Investors"). Terms of this transaction included the issuance of 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock and two convertible subordinated debentures in the aggregate principal amount of $2,760,000 (the "NAN Debenture"). The NAN Debentures bore interest at an annual rate of 12.5%, payable semi-annually, with the principal amount due and payable on August 15, 2001. Although the NAN Debentures were convertible into the Company's common stock, NAN Investors eventually waived all conversion rights.

Beginning in August 1997, the Company was in default on interest payments due under the NAN Debentures. The NAN Debentures were secured by a second mortgage on the company's manufacturing and distribution facility located in Cartersville, Georgia. This property was sold on October 1, 1997. To release NAN's security interest in the property and to extend the cure period with respect to a $172,500 interest payment default on the Debentures, the Company prepaid $707,000 of the principal amount of the NAN Debentures plus a $176,000 prepayment penalty.(2) In connection therewith, in September 1997, the Company entered into an agreement with NAN Investors (the "First NAN Forbearance Agreement") providing for the extension of cure period for the default on the interest payments. The First NAN Forbearance Agreement was extended month by month until May 1998, at which time, the company entered into another forbearance agreement with NAN Investors (the "Second NAN Forbearance Agreement") to extend, until December 1998, the cure period for interest payments then in default (totaling $322,551) as well as the interest payment, which was to fall due in August 1998. In consideration for such extension, the company and NAN Investors entered into a security agreement (The "NAN Security Agreement"), pursuant to which the Company agreed to secure the NAN Debentures by a first priority lien on all the assets of the Company, both tangible and intangible, to the extent not otherwise prohibited under the Congress revolving credit facility and to issue to NAN Investors five-year warrants convertible to a total of 16,500,000 shares of the Company's stock at an exercise price of $.10 per share. Thereafter, the company remained in default on all interest payments due after August 1997. There was no forbearance agreement in effect with respect to interest payments which fell due subsequent to December 1998 and therefore, at that point, the Company was in default with respect to the full principal amount of the NAN Debentures and all unpaid interest accrued thereon, which at that time

(2) Total proceeds from the sale of the Cartersville facility were $2,850,000. In addition to the $883,000 paid to NAN Investors by way of a $707,000 prepayment of principal and a $176,000 prepayment penalty, the Company used $525,000 to pay other financing secured by this property. The remaining proceeds were utilized to reduce the Company's revolving credit financing with Congress.

totalled $2,052,986. Pursuant to their rights under the NAN Security Agreement, NAN Investors took possession of all of the Company's assets, subject to the release of the senior creditor (Congress). These assets consisted entirely of inventory and receivable. NAN Investors ultimately realized a total of $1,222,654 from the sale or collection of such assets, reducing the Company's indebtedness to approximately $826,845 as at the end of fiscal 2000. Further, in recognition of NAN Investors rights, under the NAN Security Agreement, to any and all remaining assets of the Company, on February 17, 2000, the Company surrendered to NAN Investors, all of its right, title, and interest in certain unasserted claims it believes it had against Target Stores, Inc. and SGS U.S. Testing Co., Inc. (the "Claims") on the condition that the net amount collected in respect of the Claims be set off against the amount of the Company's indebtedness to NAN Investors. Management believed that the value of the Claims would thus be maximized because the Company lacked the financial resources to assert the Claims and NAN Investors already had an existing right to any amounts that the company might collect in respect of the Claims. Management believed that the Claims consisted of: (i) a claim against Target Stores, Inc. for unauthorized off-sets and credits taken in a presently undetermined amount to the best of present management's knowledge, NAN Investors is currently pursuing all legal remedies available with respect to (ii) a claim against SGS U.S. Testing Co., Inc. in the approximate amount of $35,000. A claim filed into the Federal Bankruptcy Court by SGS U.S. attorneys for the Company have filed an objection and are seeking a set-off of claims. In the years preceding the termination of operations, the company had experienced difficulty in filling all of its orders, caused in large part by recurring cash shortages, the expiration of its working capital financing arrangements, and the failure to obtain the investment necessary to support and develop the GUESS? product line. From at least fiscal 1996 onwards, the company had attempted to address its liquidity issues by the infusion of debt and equity financing, including (i) a refinancing in March 1994; (ii) additional equity of $3.9 million raised in fiscal 1995; (iii) an August 1996 $3.5 million private placement, which left the Company with $2,760,000 in debt under the NAN Debentures, bearing interest at an annual rate of 12.5%; and (iv) by the reduction in costs associated with the consolidation and restructuring of the operations in fiscal 1998 and 1999, and the attempt to more effectively manage working capital. All of these efforts, however, failed to keep the Company solvent and with the loss of the Brittania License, continuing losses from operations, interest payment defaults, and the lack of any credit facilities, the Company was forced to discontinue all business operations by the end of October 1999. For a discussion in more detail of the restructuring strategy which the Company implemented in attempts to improve operating results and enhance its financial resources, reference is made to Item 7 of part II of the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999.

Operating results for fiscal 1998 reflected $1.8 million in restructuring charges including $1.2 million associated with the phase out of the GUESS? division ($660,000 inventory write-offs, $540,000 in deferred costs and other charges), with the balance associated with write-downs, and reserves of asset values, and other non-cash items. The operating results for fiscal 1999 included $1,930,000 in other income all of which was the result of litigation settlements as discussed earlier. The operating results for fiscal 2000 do not include any unusual credits or charges. Since the Company has remained inactive there are no operating results for the fiscal year ended February 27, 2001.

Results of Operations

Sales

There were no sales for the year ended February 27, 2001. The Company remained inactive since it ceased doing business in October of 1999. Total net sales for the fiscal year ended February 27, 2000 were $5,344,223, which represented a decrease of approximately 53.6% from fiscal 1999 when total net sales were approximately $11.5 million. In turn, fiscal 1999 net sales had represented a decrease of 47% from fiscal 1998, when net sales totaled $21.7 million. Net sales for 1998 also represented a decrease from net sales for 1997 which had totaled $30.4 million.

No sales were generated under the discontinued Brittania license in fiscal 2000 or fiscal 1999 as compared to $4.5 million in fiscal 1998. Sales under the Brittania license in fiscal 1998, in turn, had represented a decrease of $10.4 million from Brittania sales in fiscal 1997.

Operations under the GUESS? License were completely phased out by the first quarter of fiscal 1999. There were, therefore, no sales attributable to this line in fiscal 2000, as compared to $2.4 million in fiscal 1999 and $7 million in fiscal 1998.

Former management of the company has attributed the steady decline in total net sales, since fiscal 1998, primarily to the phase out of the Brittania product associated with the actions announced by Levi to dispose of the Brittania brand, and the loss of certain styles to competitors within the company's business environment as well as a lack of sufficient working capital.

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

There were no selling or general and administrative expense in fiscal 2001. The Company remained inactive since it ceased doing business in October 1999. Selling, general and administrative expenses in fiscal 2000 of $2,161,376 were approximately 41% of sales. For fiscal 1999 and 1998, these expenses were $2.9 million and $2 million respectively, and as a percentage of sales, 25% for fiscal year 1999, and 33% for fiscal year 1998. General and administrative expenses for fiscal year 1998 included $691,000 in non-recurring charges incurred as part of the company's restructuring efforts. While these efforts were somewhat successful in reducing expenses as a percentage of sales, the loss of the Britannia product line ultimately resulted in the Company's becoming insolvent.

Interest Expense

There was no interest expense in fiscal 2001. The company remained inactive since it ceased doing business in October 1999. Interest expense decrease by $172,715 in fiscal 2000, reflecting the payment of interest for only eight months of the fiscal year as well as the reduction of debt caused by the application to the outstanding debt of proceeds from the sale and liquidation by the creditor, NAN Investors, of certain of the company's assets. In fiscal 1999, interest expense decreased by approximately $805,000, reflecting reductions in the outstanding revolving credit facility and the subordinated debt. Prior to that, in fiscal 1998, interest expenses had increased by approximately $112,000, reflecting $175,000 booked as the expense resulting from the issuance of 16,500,000 warrants.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company incurred significant operating losses in recent years which resulted in severe cash flow problems which negatively impacted the ability of the company to conduct its business as structured and ultimately caused it to become and remain insolvent. The pertinent history in recent years of the company's liquidity and capital resources is as follows:

Prior to the periods covered by the financial statements included in this Report, in March, 1994, the company's principal arrangements consisted of (i) a three year $15,000,000 revolving credit facility with Congress financial; (ii) a $2,000,000 Term Loan Agreement with Chemical Bank; and (iii) an additional $1,500,000 Term Loan with Congress. The financing arrangements with Congress were covered by a loan and security agreement, dated March 24, 1994 (the "Congress Loan and Security Agreement"). On May 31, 1996, the company amended the Congress Loan and Security Agreement to provide for; (i) $251,000 in additional equipment term loan financing, (ii) extension of the repayment period for all outstanding term loans, (iii) supplemental revolving loan availability from March 1st through June 30th of each year and (iv) extension of the renewal date to March 20, 1998. In March, May, August and December of 1998, Congress extended its Loan and Security Agreement with the Company. The agreement was to expire on December 31, 1998, but was extended to August 31, 1999 and from each month thereon, on a month to month basis, until October 15, 1999 when it was mutually terminated by Congress and the company. With the loss of the Congress financing, the Company was left with no credit facility, and became insolvent.

During the several years preceding its ultimate insolvency, the Company had raised money through the sale of equity securities with: (i) a $1,000,000 investment by a group of investors headed by George Samberg, who was at that time, the president and CEO of the company; (ii) a $2.9 million sale of 490,000 shares of common treasury stock to GUESS? and certain of its affiliates; and (iii) a sale of 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock to NAN Investors in fiscal 1997. The sale of common stock to NAN Investors was tied to the sale of debt securities consisting of two convertible subordinated debentures in the aggregate face amount of $2,760,000 bearing interest at an annual rate of 12.5%. Therefore, while the company realized gross proceeds of $3.5 million from its sales to NAN Investors, $2,760,000 of this amount actually represented new debt because it constituted the aggregate principal amount of two NAN Debentures. The NAN Debentures were secured by a second mortgage on the Company's manufacturing and distribution facility in Cartersville, Georgia (the "Cartersville Facility"). The Company utilized the $3.5 in proceeds from its sales to NAN Investors to prepay existing debt. Therefore, while these transactions had a positive effect on the company's liquidity and capital resources, the Company was ultimately left with substantial debt which, after the loss of the Britannia line, the company was unable to repay or even to service.

During fiscal 1998, on October 1, 1997, the company completed the consolidation of its facilities and sold the Cartersville facility for cash aggregating to $2,850,000. The company reflected a gain on the sale of $793,000. The proceeds were used to (i) repay $525,000 financing secured by this property; (ii) to prepay 4707,000 of the NAN Debentures; and (iii) to pay a $176,000 prepayment penalty incurred from the prepayment of NAN Debentures. The remaining net proceeds were utilized to reduce the congress revolving credit financing.

During fiscal 2000, working capital levels decreased to $(1,685,573) from $(956,404) at February 27, 1999 levels reflecting the surrender of the company's assets NAN Investors pursuant to its rights under the NAN Security Agreement. Working capital at February 27, 1999, reflected reductions in receivable and inventories utilized to reduce debt levels. The respective $1,108,860 and $1,981,523 million reductions in inventory levels, as at the ends of fiscal 2000 and fiscal 1999, reflected the Company's reduction in sales volume, and its continuing efforts to manage its supply chain towards delivering inventory closer to forecasted demand. During fiscal 1999, the subordinated debt was reclassified as short term due to the Company's inability to make interest payments on the NAN Debentures. During fiscal 2000, on October 11, 1999, the Board of Directors voted to allow NAN Investors to liquidate the assets covered by its security agreement.

Outlook

Nantucket Industries, Inc. (the "Company") is currently insolvent. It has had no business and carried on no business activities since October 1999. On March 3, 2000, the company filed a Voluntary Petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy court for the Southern District of New York. (Case Name: Nantucket Industries, Inc., Case Number: 00-B 10867). The company intends to file a Chapter 11 Plan and a Disclosure Statement in June 2001.

The goal of the projected Chapter 11 reorganization will be for the Company to effect a merger, acquire the assets or the capital stock of existing businesses, or to effect another similar business combination. No assurances can be given that the Company will be successful in doing so. Management will have sole discretion to determine which businesses, if any, may be formed or acquired, as well as the terms of any acquisition. Accutone Inc., a company controlled by John H. Treglia, the Company's current president, has been identified as a potential company and business which management has considered with regard to the possibility of an acquisition or merger transaction with the Company. If the Company should ultimately acquire a business or property from any member of management, the terms of such acquisition might not be the result of arm's length negotiations. Any transaction between the Company and any of its affiliates could present management with a conflict of interest. Therefore, it is the intention of management that, if such transaction should occur, the terms thereof will be no less beneficial to the Company than they would be if such transactions had been effected on an arms length basis.

The proposed reorganization of the Company and the acquisition of or merger with new businesses can be expected to require the issuance of substantial amounts of new shares of the Company's common stock or other securities. Any such stock issuances will significantly reduce the proportionate ownership and voting power of each other shareholder.

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors
Nantucket Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries
(Debtor-In-Possession)
New York, New York

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of Nantucket Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries (Debtor-In-Possession) for the two years ended February 28, 2001 and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' deficit and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements for February 27, 1999 were audited by other auditors, therefore we do not render an opinion on these financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Nantucket Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries (Debtor-In-Possession) as of February 28, 2001, and the consolidated results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As represented in the accompanying financial statements, the Company has a net capital deficiency, operating losses, and defaulted on interest payments. These factors, among others discussed in Note 1 to the accompanying financial statements, raise substantial doubt about the company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 1. These financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Restructuring and
Liquidity Matters

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. There have been no sales since November 1999 and the Company has remained inactive for fiscal year 2001. The Company filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in March 2000. Management is seeking merger candidates in order to continue the Corporation. If Management is unsuccessful in its merger search, the Company will cease to exist. There were no sales under the Brittania license for the fiscal years 2001, 2000 and 1999. As more fully described in Note 3, Levi Strauss & Co., the parent company of Brittania Sportswear Ltd. a licensor which accounted for $4.5 million of the Company's fiscal 1998 sales, announced their intention to sell Brittania. In light of the actions announced by Levi's, K mart, the largest retailer of the Brittania brand and the Company's largest customer, advised the Company that it would no longer continue its on-going commitment to the Brittania trademark. Sales to this customer decreased from $3 million in fiscal 1998, to $0 sales in fiscal year 1999. In response, the Company filed a lawsuit against Levi-Strauss & Co., alleging that the licensor breached various obligations under the license agreement, including without limitation its covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The Company settled this litigation in June 1998 (see Note 12).

The Company experienced significant losses in fiscal years 1998 and 1999 which resulted in severe cash flow issues that negatively impacted the ability of the Company to conduct its business as then structured. In fiscal year 1999 due to the lack of capital resources needed to properly develop and support the GUESS? product line, the Company discontinued sales under the GUESS? license. Sales for this product line in fiscal 2001, 2000, and 1999 aggregated $.0, $.0, and $2.5 million, with gross margins of 0%, 0% and 11.8%, respectively. As of March 1999, the company reached an agreement with Cluett, Peabody & Co., the licensor of the ARROW trademark, to terminate its Arrow license (see Note 12). Until April 17, 1998, the Company's common stock was traded on the American Stock Exchange. Because the Company fell below American Stock Exchange guidelines for continued listing, effective April 17, 1998, the Company's stock was delisted. The Company has defaulted on interest payments to its subordinated debt holder, and has no long-term credit facility in place. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Company can continue as a going concern.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or amounts and classifications of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue in existence. The ultimate impact or resolution of these matters may have a materially adverse effect on the Company or on its financial condition.

The Company has funded its operating losses by refinancing its debt in fiscal 1995 and increasing its capital through (a) the sale of $1 million of non-voting convertible preferred stock to management (Note 11) in fiscal 1995; (b) the fiscal 1995 sale of treasury stock which increased equity by $2.9 million, and (c) the completion in 1996 of a $3.5 million private placement (Note 4).

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

a. The Company

Nantucket Industries, Inc. and its wholly-owned inactive subsidiaries (debtor-in-possession) (the "Company") design and distribute branded and private label fashion undergarments to mass merchandisers and national chains throughout the United States, until it ceased doing business in October 1999.

b. Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Nantucket Industries, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiaries (debtor-in-possession). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

c. Accounts Receivable

An allowance for doubtful accounts is provided based upon historical bad debt experience and periodic evaluations of the aging of the accounts.

and Subsidiaries
(Debtor-In-Possession)

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

d. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Equipment under lease is stated at the present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease. Depreciation and amortization are provided by the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

	Years

Buildings and improvements	20-40
Machinery and equipment	3-10
Furniture and fixtures	10

e. Stock Options

As described in Note 11, the Company has granted stock options for a fixed number of shares to employees and officers at an exercise price equal to the market value of the shares on the date of grant. As permitted by SFAS No. 123, the Company has elected to continue to account for stock options grants in accordance with APB No. 25 and recognizes no compensation expense for these grants.

f. Income Taxes

The Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries file a consolidated federal income tax return. Deferred income taxes arise as a result of differences between financial statement and income tax reporting.

g. Earnings (Loss) Per Common Share

In fiscal year 1998, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128 (SFAS No. 128), Earnings Per Share, which requires public companies to present earnings per share and, if applicable, diluted earnings per share. All comparative periods must be restated as of February 28, 1998 in accordance with SFAS No. 128. Basic earnings per share are based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding without consideration of potential common share equivalents. Diluted earnings per share are based on the weighted average number of common and potential common shares outstanding. The calculation takes into account the shares that may be issued upon exercise of stock options, reduced by the shares that may be repurchased with the funds received from the exercise, based on the average price during the year. At February 27, 2000, the Company had outstanding warrants to purchase 16,500,000 shares of common stock which would potentially dilute basic earnings per share but have not been considered for the two prior periods as they would have had an antidilutive impact (see Note 9).

(Debtor-In-Possession)

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

h. Reporting Comprehensive Income

In June 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 130 (SFAS No. 130), Reporting Comprehensive Income, which is effective for the Company's year ending February 27, 1999. SFAS No. 130 addresses the reporting and displaying of comprehensive income and its components. Earnings (loss) per share will only be reported for net earnings (loss), and not for comprehensive income. Adoption of SFAS No. 130 relates to disclosure within the financial statements and is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

i. Segment Information

In June 1997, the FASB also issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 131 (SFAS No. 131), Disclosure About Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information, which is effective for the Company's year ending February 27, 1999. SFAS No. 131 changes the way public companies report information about segments of their business in their financial statements and requires them to report selected segment information in their quarterly reports. Adoption of SFAS No. 131 relates to disclosure within the financial statements and is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

j. Fiscal Year

The Company's fiscal year ends on the Sunday nearest to February 28, with the exception of February 28, 2001 an inactive year, the fiscal years ended February 27, 2000 and February 27, 1999 contained 52 weeks.

k. Reclassification

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified in order to conform to the current year's presentation.

l. Use of Estimates

In preparing the Company's financial statements, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

m. Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company applies Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of. Accordingly, when indicators of impairment are present, the Company periodically evaluates the carrying value of property, plant and equipment and intangibles in relation to the operating performance and future undiscounted cash flows of the underlying business. The Company adjusts carrying amount of the respective assets if the expected future undiscounted cash flows are less than their book values. No impairment loss was required in fiscal years 2001, 2000 and 1999.

31

Nantucket Industries, Inc.
and Subsidiaries
(Debtor-In-Possession)

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

n. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Based on borrowing rates currently available to the Company for debt with similar terms and maturities, the fair value of the company's long-term debt approximate the carrying value. The carrying value of all other financial instruments potentially subject to valuation risk, principally cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable, also approximate fair value.

3. Concentration of Risk

For the period ended February 28, 2001, there were no sales or other business activities. For February 28, 2000 there were no sales. For February 27, 2000, sales to the Company's largest customer accounted for 38.8% of net sales and 23%, respectively, for the two prior fiscal years. Sales to the second largest customer in fiscal years 1999 and 1998 were 33.6% of net sales and 22%, respectively. As previously described, K Mart, which represented $0 of net sales in the 1999 fiscal year, and 16% and 40%, for the two prior fiscal years, advised the Company it would no longer continue its commitment to the Britannia trademark and consequently, the Company currently has no business with this customer. No other customer accounted for more than 10% of the Company's consolidated net sales for fiscal 1999 and 1998.

4. Private Placement

On August 15, 1996, the Company completed a $3.5 million private placement with an investment partnership. Terms of this transaction included the issuance of 250,000 shares and $2,760,000 of 12.5% convertible subordinated debentures that were due August 15, 2001.

The convertible subordinated debentures are secured by a second mortgage on the Company's manufacturing and distribution facility located in Cartersville, Georgia. In conjunction with the sale of this property completed on October 1, 1997 (see Note 7), the Company prepaid $707,000 of these debentures.

The debentures, after giving effect to the prepayment related to the sale of the Company's facility referred to above, were convertible into the Company's common stock over the next five years. The investment partnership waived all conversion rights.

The agreement grants the investor certain registration rights for the shares issued and the conversion shares to be issued.

The difference between the purchase price of the shares issued and their fair market value on August 15, 1996 aggregated $197,500. This was reflected as deferred issue cost and will be amortized over the expected five-year term of the subordinated convertible debentures. The prorated portion of these costs associated with the prepaid $707,000 of these debentures was recognized in the accounting period in which the event occurred.

Costs associated with this private placement aggregated $409,000 including $104,000 related to the shares issued which have been charged to paid in capital. The remaining balance of $305,000 will be amortized over the five-year term of the debentures.

The Company was in default in respect to interest payments due on the subordinated debt in August 1997, and again in February 1998. In September 1997, the Subordinated debt holder and the Company entered into an agreement to extend the cure period on the default. This forbearance agreement was extended month by month until May 1998. In May 1998, the Company entered into an agreement with the debt holder to extend the cure period, with respect to $322,551 in prior interest payment defaults and for the interest payment due in August 1998, until December 1998. In return, the Company agreed to secure the debentures by a first priority lien on all the assets of the Company, to the extent not otherwise prohibited under the revolving credit facility (Note 8), and to issue five-year warrants convertible to 16,500,000 shares of the Company's stock at an exercise price of $.10. The Company obtained an independent valuation of this transaction, in the amount of $175,000, and this amount was expensed in fiscal year 1998. The Company is currently in default for interest payments due since August 1997 on this note, including the interest payment due February 1999. There is no forbearance agreement in effect subsequent to December 1998 and therefore, the outstanding liability of $2,052,986 is classified as a current liability. In October 1999, the Company assigned the accounts receivable, inventory and all law suits to the subordinated creditor.

5. Unusual (Credit) Charge

In November 1992, the Company acquired Phoenix Associates, Inc., a manufacturing facility in Puerto Rico, pursuant to a stock purchase agreement. Phoenix had been an exclusive contractor for the Company, manufacturing many of the Company's product lines. A portion of the purchase price was subordinated debt payable to the former owners of Phoenix, of which $300,000 was due February 2, 1998. In April 1993, the Company discovered an inventory variance of $1,700,000, principally attributable to unrecorded manufacturing and material cost variance at the Puerto Rico facility, which were incurred prior to the Company's acquisition of this facility. As a result, the Company initiated an action against the former owners of the facility as more fully described in Note 12. Accordingly, in fiscal 1995 the Company eliminated this payable and reflected such reduction as an unusual credit in the 1995 financial statements.

In March of fiscal 1994, the Company terminated the employment contracts of its Chairman and Vice-Chairman. In accordance with the underlying agreement, they were paid in aggregate of approximately $400,000 per year in severance and other benefits, through February 27, 1999.

As of February 28, 2001 and February 27, 2000, the accrued unusual charge of $77,083 represents payments due under the termination agreements to the former Chairman and Vice-chairman. As of October 1997, pending negotiation of more favorable terms, payment under these agreements was suspended.

8. Long-Term Debt and Notes Payable

a. Revolving Credit

The Company has a $15 million revolving credit facility, which expired in March 1998, and has been extended to August 31, 1999. The revolving credit agreement provides for loans based upon eligible accounts receivable and inventory, a $3,000,000 letter of credit facility and purchase money term loans of up to 75% of the orderly liquidation value of newly acquired and eligible equipment. Borrowings bear interest at 2 3/4% above prime. The agreement requires, among other provisions, the maintenance of minimum working capital and net worth levels and also contains restrictions regarding payment of dividends. Borrowings under the agreement are collateralized by substantially all of the assets of the Company. At February 28, 2001 and February 27, 2000, the revolving credit facility was not in place.

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

b. Capital Leases

The Company leases equipment under capital leases. During Fiscal 2000, the Company's equipment was returned for non-payment.

9. Net Earnings (Loss) Per Common Share

The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted loss per share:

	February 28, 2001	February 27, 2000	February 27 1999

10. Income Taxes

Deferred income taxes reflect the net effect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amount used for income tax purposes.

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates. Significant components of the Company's deferred taxes at February 28, 2001, February 27, 2000 and February 27, 1999 are as follows:

	February 28, 2001	February 27, 2000	February 27 1999

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

The Company anticipates utilizing its deferred tax assets only to the extent of its deferred tax liabilities. Accordingly, the Company has fully reserved all remaining deferred tax assets, which it cannot presently utilize.

For tax purposes at February 28, 2001, the Company's net operating loss carryforward was $20,200,000, which, if unused, will expire from 2008 to 2013. Certain tax regulations relating to the change in ownership may limit the Company's ability to utilize its net operating loss carryforward if the ownership change, as computed under each regulation, exceeds 50%. Through February 28, 2001, the change in ownership was less than 50%.

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

There was no income tax provision (benefit) for the fiscal years 2001, 2000 and 1999.

The following is a reconciliation of the normal expected statutory federal income tax rate to the effective rate reported in the financial statements.

11. Stockholders' Equity

a. Stock Options

The 1972 stock option plan, as amended, provides for the issuance of options to purchase up to 340,000 shares of common stock at the market value of the date of grant. Options are exercisable up to ten years from the date of grant and vest at 20% per year.

The Company has adopted the disclosure-only provisions of SFAS No. 123. Accordingly, no compensation costs have been recognized for grants made under the Company's stock option plan. Had compensation cost been determined based on the fair value, as determined in accordance with the requirements of SFAS No. 123, at the date of grant of stock option awards, the increase in the net loss for fiscal 2001, 2000 and 1999 would be $0, $0 and $91,000, respectively. In fiscal 2001, 2000 and 1999 there were no awards of stock options. During the initial phase-in period of SFAS No. 123, such compensation may not be representative of the future effects of applying this statement.

b. Issuance of Preferred Stock

On March 22, 1994, the Company sold to its management group 5,000 shares of non-voting convertible preferred stock for $1,000,000. These shares are convertible into 200,000 shares of common stock at the rate of $5.00 per share. These shares provide for cumulative dividends at a floating rate equal to the prime rate. Such dividends were convertible into common stock at the rate of $5.00 per share. The conversion rights were waived in May 1998. These shares are redeemable, at the option of the Company, on or after February 27, 1999 and have a liquidation preference of $200 per share. As of February 28, 2001, February 27, 2000 and February 27, 1999 dividends in arrears were $570,134, $489,484 and $408,384, respectively.

c. Issuance of Treasury Stock

In connection with the Company's refinancing on March 22, 1994, the Company entered into a $2,000,000 term loan agreement with a financial institution. Pursuant to the agreement, the Company issued to the bank 10,000 treasury common shares related to mandatory prepayments, which were not made.

d. Grant of Warrants

Warrants have been granted to NAN Investors LP to purchase 16,500,000 shares of the

12. Commitments, Contingencies and Related Party Transactions

a. Agreement with Principal Stockholders

On March 1, 1994, in connection with the restructuring described in Note 4, the Company entered into agreements with its two principal stockholders and a group of employees (the "Management Group"). The agreements provide, among other things, for:

The reimbursement of the principal stockholders, limited to $1.50 per share to the extent that the gross proceeds per share from the sale of common stock by the stockholders during the two-year period beginning September 1, 1994 are less than $5.00 per share. Such guaranty is applicable to a maximum of 150,000 shares sold by such stockholders, subject to reductions under certain circumstances. The principal stockholders sold 157,875 shares including 88,400 at prices below $5.00 per share; 37,125 shares in the fiscal year ended March 1, 1997 and 51,275 shares in the year ended March 2, 1996 which resulted in a charge to operating results of $12,000 and $35,000, respectively.

Warrants to purchase up to 157,875 shares of common stock equal to the number of shares sold by the principal stockholders. The exercise price per share of such warrants would equal the gross proceeds per share from the corresponding sale by the principal stockholders. Such warrants expire on February 28, 2000. As of May 14, 1999, these warrants have not been requested to be issued, nor have they been issued.

The contribution to the Company of life insurance policies with a cash value of $535,000 which, if borrowed by the Company, would be repaid by the two principal stockholders.

b. Trademark Licensing Agreements

Royalties including minimum licensing payments to GUESS?, Inc. which owns 9.9% of the outstanding common stock of the Company, aggregated $74,000 in fiscal 1999, and $840,000 in fiscal 1998. Due to the lack of capital resources necessary to develop and support the GUESS? product line, the company discontinued its GUESS? division in the first quarter of fiscal year 1999. The GUESS? license was terminated as of March 31, 1998.

c. Litigation

In September 1993, the Company filed an action against the former owners of Phoenix Associates, Inc. (Phoenix). The Company sought compensatory damages of approximately $4.0 million plus declaratory and injunctive relief for acts of alleged securities fraud, fraudulent conveyances, breach of fiduciary trust and unfair competition in connection with the acquisition of the common stock of Phoenix.

Additionally, the Company has filed a demand for arbitration which seeks compensatory damages of $4.0 million, rescission of the stock purchase agreement, rescission of an employment agreement and other matters, all on account of alleged breaches of the stock employment agreement, fraudulent misrepresentation and breach of fiduciary duties.

In November 1993, the former owners of Phoenix filed counter claims against the Company alleging improper termination with regard to their employment agreement and breach of the stock purchase agreement. The Company settled this litigation and realized $675,000 from this matter which is included in the accompanying statement of operations for 1999 under the caption "Other income."

On December 9, 1997, a former officer and director of the Company filed a complaint against the Company in the State Court of Fulton County, State of Georgia relating to payments allegedly due him under the March 18, 1994 Severance Agreement, and was seeking damages in the amount of $219,472. The Company reached a settlement with the officer in the amount of $100,000 plus an amount based on reaching a certain level of recovery, if any, from the Levi Strauss litigation. Based on the settlement with Levi's, no additional accrual to the former officer and director was necessary.

On January 15, 1998, in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, Westchester County, a Director of the Company filed a complaint against the Company for breach of the March 18, 1994 Severance Agreement, and seeking damages in the amount of $559,456 plus applicable interest and legal fees which was accrued as of February 28, 1998. The Company on March 9, 1998, filed counterclaims in a significantly larger amount. In April 1999, the Company reached a settlement with the Director for $75,000 which resulted in the reduction of approximately $530,000 in the accrued unusual charge this reduction is included in the accompanying Statement of Operations under the caption "Other Income."

The Company is subject to other legal proceedings and claims, which arise, in the ordinary course of its business. In the opinion of management, other legal proceedings and claims in which the Company is defendant will be successfully defended or resolved without a material adverse effect on the consolidated financial position or results of operations of the Company. The Company with respect to the aforementioned litigation at February 27, 2000 has made no provision in the accompanying financial statements.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

13. Brittania Litigation

Beginning in September 1988, the Company became a licensee of Brittania Sportswear, Ltd., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Levi Strauss & Co., to manufacture and market men's underwear and other products under the trademark "Brittania from Levi Strauss & Co.". Sales under this license aggregated $0 in fiscal year 1999, $4.5 million in fiscal 1998.

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

As of January 1, 1997, the license was renewed for a five-year term, including automatic renewals of two years if certain minimum sales levels were achieved. On January 22, 1997, Levi's announced its intention to sell Britannia. In light of the actions announced by Levi's, K Mart, the largest retailer of the Britannia brand and the Company's largest customer accounting for approximately $11 million of the Company's fiscal 1997 sales of Britannia product, advised the Company that it would no longer continue its on-going commitment to the Britannia trademark.

The Company filed a lawsuit against Levi Strauss & Co. and Britannia Sportswear, Ltd., alleging that the licensor breached various obligations under the licensing agreement, including without limitation its covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The Company agreed to settle this litigation in June 1998 and realized approximately $725,000 in gross value from this matter which is included in the accompanying statement of operations under the caption "Other income."

14. Subsequent Events

On March 3, 2000, the Company filed for Chapter 11 protection with U.S. Bankruptcy Court. The Company is involved in discussion with merger candidates, should these discussions prove futile, a move to Chapter 7 liquidation is probable.

[GRANT THORNTON LETTERHEAD]

Report of Independent Certified Public Accountants

Board of Directors
Nantucket Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Nantucket Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of February 27, 1999 and February 28, 1998, and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' deficit and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended February 27, 1999. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Nantucket Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of February 27, 1999 and February 28, 1998, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended February 27, 1999 in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As presented in the accompanying financial statements, the Company has had significant decreases in sales, operating losses, and defaulted on interest payments. These factors, among others discussed in Note A to the accompanying financial statements, raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note A. These financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties.

Nantucket Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS February 27, 1999, February 28, 1998 and March 1, 1997

NOTE A - RESTRUCTURING AND LIQUIDITY MATTERS

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. Net sales for the fiscal year ended February 27, 1999 decreased 47% from the prior year level to $11.5 million. There were no sales under the Brittania license for the current fiscal year, and sales under the GUESS? license declined by $4.5 million from prior year levels. As more fully described in Note L, Levi Strauss & Co., the parent company of Brittania Sportswear Ltd. a licensor which accounted for $14.9 million of the Company's fiscal 1997 sales, and $4.5 million of fiscal 1998 sales, announced their intention to sell Brittania. In light of the actions announced by Levi's, K mart, the largest retailer of the Brittania brand and the Company's largest customer, advised the Company that it would no longer continue its on-going commitment to the Brittania trademark. Sales to this customer decreased from $11 million in fiscal year 1997, to $3 million in fiscal 1998, to $0 sales in fiscal year 1999. In response, the Company filed a lawsuit against Levi Strauss & Co., alleging that the licensor breached various obligations under the license agreement, including without limitation its covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The Company settled this litigation in June 1998 (see Note L).

The Company has experienced significant losses in recent years which have generally resulted in severe cash flow issues that have negatively impacted the ability of the Company to conduct its business as presently structured. In fiscal year 1999 due to the lack of capital resources needed to properly develop and support the GUESS? product line, the Company has discontinued sales under the GUESS? license. Sales for this product line in fiscal 1999, 1998, and 1997 aggregated $2.5, $7.0 and $4.7 million, with gross margins of 11.8%, 6.4% and 13.2%, respectively. As of March 1999, the Company reached an agreement with Cluett, Peabody & Co., the licensor of the ARROW trademark, to terminate its Arrow license (see Note L). Until April 17, 1998, the Company's common stock was traded on the American Stock Exchange. Because the Company fell below American Stock Exchange guidelines for continued listing, effective April 17, 1998, the Company's stock was delisted. The Company has defaulted on interest payments to its subordinated debt holder, and has no long-term credit facility in place, and currently three customers represent 90% of the Company's net sales.

49

As a result of sharply decreasing revenue, the continuing losses, interest payment default, the lack of a long-term credit facility and the present sales concentration over three customers, there can be no assurance that the Company can continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or amounts and classifications of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue in existence. The ultimate impact or resolution of these matters may have a materially adverse effect on the Company or on its financial condition.

In view of the issues described in the preceding paragraph, recoverability of a major portion of the recorded asset amounts shown in the accompanying balance sheet is dependent upon the continued operations of the Company, which in turn is dependent upon the Company's ability to maintain the financing of its working capital requirements on a continuing basis and to improve its future operations.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - CONTINUED

February 27, 1999, February 28, 1998 and March 1, 1997

NOTE A - RESTRUCTURING AND LIQUIDITY MATTERS - Continued

The Company has funded its operating losses by refinancing its debt in fiscal 1995 and increasing its capital through (a) the sale of $1 million of non-voting convertible preferred stock to management (Note K) in fiscal 1995; (b) the fiscal 1995 sale of treasury stock which increased equity by $2.9 million, and (c) the completion in 1996 of a $3.5 million private placement (Note D).

The Company has been implementing a restructuring strategy to improve operating results and enhance its financial resources which included reducing costs, streamlining its operations and closing its Puerto Rico plant. In addition, management has implemented additional steps to reduce its operating costs which it believes are sufficient to provide the Company with the ability to continue in existence. Major elements of these action plans include:

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

- o The phase-out of the GUESS? product line, completed in the second quarter of fiscal year 1999.
- o The sale of the Company's Cartersville, Georgia location (Note G), and the relocation to more appropriate space for its packaging and distribution facilities.
- o The transfer of all domestic manufacturing requirements to foreign manufacturing contract facilities.
- o Staff reductions associated with the transfer of manufacturing to offshore contractors.
- o The relocation of executive offices and showrooms to more appropriate, lower cost facilities.

NOTE B - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. The Company

Nantucket Industries, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiaries (the "Company") design and distribute branded and private label fashion undergarments to mass merchandisers and national chains throughout the United States.

51

2. Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Nantucket Industries, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

3. Accounts Receivable

An allowance for doubtful accounts is provided based upon historical bad debt experience and periodic evaluations of the aging of the accounts.

4. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Equipment under lease is stated at the present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease. Depreciation and amortization are provided by the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

	Years

Buildings and improvements	20-40

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Machinery and equipment	3-10
Furniture and fixtures	10

5. Other Assets

Other long-term assets consist primarily of capitalized loan origination costs. These costs are being amortized over the term of the related credit agreements. Other assets includes $196,000 and $151,000 of accumulated amortization as of February 27, 1999 and February 28, 1998, respectively.

6. Stock Options

As described in Note I, the Company has granted stock options for a fixed number of shares to employees and officers at an exercise price equal to the market value of the shares on the date of grant. As permitted by SFAS No. 123, the Company has elected to continue to account for stock options grants in accordance with APB No. 25 and recognizes no compensation expense for these grants.

53

7. Income Taxes

Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries file a consolidated federal income tax return. Deferred income taxes arise as a result of differences between financial statement and income tax reporting.

NOTE B - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES - Continued

8. Earnings (Loss) Per Common Share

In fiscal year 1998, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128 (SFAS No. 128), Earnings Per Share, which requires public companies to present earnings per share and, if applicable, diluted earnings per share. All comparative periods must be restated as of February 28, 1998 in accordance with SFAS No. 128. Basic earnings per share is based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding without consideration of potential common share equivalents. Diluted earnings per share is based on the weighted average number of common and potential common shares outstanding. The calculation takes into account the shares that may be issued upon exercise of stock options, reduced by the shares that may be repurchased with the funds received from the exercise, based on the average price during the year. At February 27, 1999, the Company had 106,000 outstanding stock options and warrants to purchase 16,500,000 shares of common stock which would potentially dilute basic earnings per share but have not been considered for the two prior periods as they would have had an antidilutive impact (see Note I).

9. Reporting Comprehensive Income

In June 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 130 (SFAS No. 130), Reporting

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Comprehensive Income, which is effective for the Company's year ending February 27, 1999. SFAS No. 130 addresses the reporting and displaying of comprehensive income and its components. Earnings (loss) per share will only be reported for net earnings (loss), and not for comprehensive income. Adoption of SFAS No. 130 relates to disclosure within the financial statements and is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

10. Segment Information

In June 1997, the FASB also issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 131 (SFAS No. 131), Disclosure About Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information, which is effective for the Company's year ending February 26, 1999. SFAS No. 131 changes the way public companies report information about segments of their business in their financial statements and requires them to report selected segment information in their quarterly reports. Adoption of SFAS No. 131 relates to disclosure within the financial statements and is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

11. Fiscal Year

The Company's fiscal year ends on the Sunday nearest to February 28. The fiscal years ended February 27, 1999, February 28, 1998 and March 1, 1997 contained 52 weeks.

12. Reclassification

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified in order to conform to the current year's presentation.

13. Use of Estimates

In preparing the Company's financial statements, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

14. Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company applies Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of. Accordingly, when indicators of impairment are present, the Company periodically evaluates the carrying value of property, plant and equipment and intangibles in relation to the operating performance and future undiscounted cash flows of the underlying business. The Company adjusts carrying amount of the respective assets if the expected future undiscounted cash flows are less than their book values. No impairment loss was required in fiscal years 1999, 1998 and 1997.

15. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Based on borrowing rates currently available to the Company for debt with similar terms and maturities, the fair value of the Company's long-term debt approximate the carrying value. The carrying value of all other financial instruments potentially subject to valuation risk, principally cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable, also approximate fair value.

NOTE C - CONCENTRATION OF RISK

For the current fiscal year, sales to the Company's largest customer accounted for 38.8% of net sales and 23% and 18%, respectively, for the two prior fiscal years. Sales to the second largest customer in the current fiscal year were 33.6% of net sales and 22% and 19%, respectively, for the two prior fiscal years. As previously described, K mart, which represented $0 of net sales in the current fiscal year, 16% and 40%, for the two prior fiscal years, advised the Company it would no longer continue its commitment to the Britannia trademark and consequently, the Company currently has no business with this customer. No other customer accounts for more than 10% of the Company's consolidated net sales for fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997.

NOTE D - PRIVATE PLACEMENT

On August 15, 1996, the Company completed a $3.5 million private placement with an investment partnership. Terms of this transaction included the issuance of 250,000 shares and $2,760,000 of 12.5% convertible subordinated debentures which are due August 15, 2001.

The convertible subordinated debentures are secured by a second mortgage on the Company's manufacturing and distribution facility located in Cartersville, Georgia. In conjunction with the sale of this property completed on October 1, 1997 (see Note G), the Company prepaid $707,000 of these debentures.

The debentures, after giving effect to the prepayment related to the sale of the Company's facility referred to above, were convertible into the Company's common stock over the next five years. The investment partnership waived all conversion rights.

The agreement grants the investor certain registration rights for the shares issued and the conversion shares to be issued.

The difference between the purchase price of the shares issued and their fair market value on August 15, 1996 aggregated $197,500. This was reflected as deferred issue cost and will be amortized over the expected five-year term of the subordinated convertible debentures. The prorated portion of these costs associated with the prepaid $707,000 of these debentures was recognized in the accounting period in which the event occurred.

Costs associated with this private placement aggregated $409,000 including $104,000 related to the shares issued which have been charged to paid in capital. The remaining balance of $305,000 will be amortized over the five-year term of the debentures.

NOTE D - PRIVATE PLACEMENT - Continued

The Company was in default in respect to interest payments due on the subordinated debt in August 1997, and again in February 1998. In September 1997, the Subordinated debt holder and the Company entered into an agreement to extend the cure period on the default. This forbearance agreement was extended month by month until May 1998. In May 1998, the Company entered into an agreement with the debt holder to extend the cure period, with respect to $322,551 in prior interest payment defaults and for the interest payment due in August 1998, until December 1998. In return, the Company agreed to secure the debentures by a first priority lien on all the assets of the Company, to the extent not otherwise prohibited under the revolving credit facility (Note H), and to issue five-year warrants convertible to 16,500,000 shares of the Company's stock at an exercise price of $.10. The Company obtained an independent valuation of this transaction, in the amount of $175,000, and this amount was expensed in fiscal year 1998. To the extent that the Company has insufficient authorized and unissued shares of common stock to satisfy the exercise of the warrants, the Company shall use its best efforts to promptly cause its authorized capital to be increased to the extent necessary to satisfy the conversion rights in full. The Company can, at its option within the framework of the forbearance agreement, prepay all or part of the outstanding subordinated debt at a price equal to 125% of the principal amount paid. The Company is currently in default for interest payments due since August 1997 on this note, including the interest payment due February 1999. There is no forbearance agreement in effect subsequent to December 1998 and therefore, the outstanding liability of $2,052,986 is classified as a current liability.

NOTE E - UNUSUAL (CREDIT) CHARGE

In November, 1992, the Company acquired Phoenix Associates, Inc., a manufacturing facility in Puerto Rico, pursuant to a stock purchase agreement. Phoenix had been an exclusive contractor for the Company, manufacturing many of the Company's product lines. A portion of the purchase price was subordinated debt payable to the former owners of Phoenix, of which $300,000 was due February 2, 1998. In April, 1993, the Company discovered an inventory variance of $1,700,000, principally attributable to unrecorded manufacturing and material cost variance at the Puerto Rico facility, which were incurred prior to the

60

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Company's acquisition of this facility. As a result, the Company initiated an action against the former owners of the facility as more fully described in Note L. Accordingly, in fiscal 1995 the Company eliminated this payable and reflected such reduction as an unusual credit in the 1995 financial statements.

In March of fiscal 1994, the Company terminated the employment contracts of its Chairman and Vice-Chairman. In accordance with the underlying agreement, they were paid in aggregate of approximately $400,000 per year in severance and other benefits, through February 27, 1999.

As of February 27, 1999, the accrued unusual charge of $95,833 represents payments due under the termination agreements to the former Chairman and Vice-Chairman. As of October 1997, pending negotiation of more favorable terms, payment under these agreements was suspended (see Note L).

On October 1, 1997, the Company completed the consolidation of its facilities and sold its 152,000 square foot manufacturing and distribution facility in Cartersville, Georgia for cash aggregating $2,850,000. The Company reflected a gain on the sale in its third fiscal quarter of $793,000. The proceeds were used to pay the $525,000 financing secured by this property, to prepay $707,000 of the convertible subordinated debentures secured by a second mortgage on this property, and to pay a $176,000 prepayment penalty incurred from the prepayment of the subordinated debt. The remaining proceeds were utilized to reduce the revolving credit financing.

NOTE H - LONG-TERM DEBT AND NOTES PAYABLE

1. Revolving Credit

The Company has a $15 million revolving credit facility which expired in March, 1998, and has been extended to August 31, 1999. The revolving credit agreement provides for loans based upon eligible accounts receivable and inventory, a $3,000,000 letter of credit facility and purchase money term loans of up to 75% of the orderly liquidation value of newly acquired and eligible equipment. Borrowings bear interest at 2-3/4% above prime. The agreement requires, among other provisions, the maintenance of minimum working capital and net worth levels and also contains restrictions regarding payment of dividends. Borrowings under the agreement are collateralized by substantially all of the assets of the Company. At February 27, 1999, the revolving credit facility was not utilized, and the Company was not in compliance with the net worth and working capital covenants.

2. Capital Leases

The Company leases equipment under capital leases. A schedule of the yearly minimum rental payments is as follows:

February 2000	$ 64,488
February 2001	64,488
February 2002	2,857

Total minimum lease payments	131,833
Less amount representing interest	(11,131)

Present value of net minimum lease payments	120,702
Less current maturities	(56,452)

Long-term capital lease obligation	$ 64,250

At February 27, 1999, the Company has approximately $96,709 of equipment under capital lease with accumulated depreciation of approximately $29,013.

NOTE J - INCOME TAXES

Deferred income taxes reflect the net effect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amount used for income tax purposes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates. Significant components of the Company's deferred taxes at February 27, 1999 and February 28, 1998 are as follows:

February 27, February 28,

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

Valuation allowance	(6,835,000)	(7,564,000)
	-----	-----
Net deferred taxes	$ --	$ --

66

The Company anticipates utilizing its deferred tax assets only to the extent of its deferred tax liabilities. Accordingly, the Company has fully reserved all remaining deferred tax assets, which it cannot presently utilize. The decrease in valuation allowance of $729,000 is equal to the decrease in net deferred tax assets.

For tax purposes at February 27, 1999, the Company's net operating loss carryforward was $18,405,000, which, if unused, will expire from 2009 to 2013. Certain tax regulations relating to the change in ownership may limit the Company's ability to utilize its net operating loss carryforward if the ownership change, as computed under each regulation, exceeds 50%. Through February 27, 1999, the change in ownership was less than 50%.

There was no income tax provision (benefit) for the fiscal years 1999, 1998 and 1997.

NOTE K - STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

1. Stock Options

The 1972 stock option plan, as amended, provides for the issuance of options to purchase up to 340,000 shares of common stock at the market value of the date of grant. Options are exercisable up to ten years from the date of grant and vest at 20% per year.

The Company has adopted the disclosure-only provisions of SFAS No. 123. Accordingly, no compensation costs have been recognized for grants made under the Company's stock option plan. Had compensation cost been determined based on the fair value, as determined in accordance with the requirements of SFAS No. 123, at the date of grant of stock option awards, the increase in the net loss for fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997 would be $91,000, $91,000 and $91,000, respectively. In fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997 there were no awards of stock options. During the initial phase-in period of SFAS No. 123, such compensation may not be representative of the future effects of applying this statement.

3. Issuance of Preferred Stock

On March 22, 1994, the Company sold to its management group 5,000 shares of non-voting convertible preferred stock for $1,000,000. These shares are convertible into 200,000 shares of common stock at the rate of $5.00 per share. These shares provide for cumulative dividends at a floating rate equal to the prime rate. Such dividends were convertible into common stock at the rate of $5.00 per share. The conversion rights were waived in May 1998. These shares are redeemable, at the option of the Company, on or after February 27, 1999 and have a liquidation preference of $200 per share. As of February 27, 1999 and February 28, 1998 dividends in arrears were $408,384 and $327,281, respectively.

4. Issuance of Treasury Stock

In connection with the Company's refinancing on March 22, 1994, (Note D), the Company entered into a $2,000,000 term loan agreement with a financial institution. Pursuant to the agreement, the Company issued to the bank 10,000 treasury common shares related to mandatory prepayments, which were not made.

5. Grant of Warrants

Warrants have been granted to NAN Investors LP to purchase 16,500,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock for $.10 per share, with a five-year term effective May 21, 1998.

2. Agreement with Principal Stockholders

On March 1, 1994, in connection with the restructuring described in Note A, the Company entered into agreements with its two principal stockholders and a group of employees (the "Management Group"). The agreements provide, among other things, for:

The reimbursement of the principal stockholders, limited to $1.50 per share to the extent that the gross proceeds per share from the sale of common stock by the stockholders during the two-year period beginning September 1, 1994 are less than $5.00 per share. Such guaranty is applicable to a maximum of 150,000 shares sold by such stockholders, subject to reductions under certain circumstances. The principal stockholders sold 157,875 shares including 88,400 at prices below $5.00 per share: 37,125 shares in the fiscal year ended March 1, 1997 and 51,275 shares in the year ended March 2, 1996 which resulted in a charge to operating results of $12,000 and $35,000, respectively.

Warrants to purchase up to 157,875 shares of common stock equal to the number of shares sold by the principal stockholders. The exercise price per share of such warrants would equal the gross proceeds per share from the corresponding sale by the principal stockholders. Such warrants expire on February 28, 2000. As of May 14, 1999, these warrants have not been requested to be issued, nor have they been issued.

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

The contribution to the Company of life insurance policies with a cash value of $535,000 which, if borrowed by the Company, would be repaid by the two principal stockholders.

The cancellation of the outstanding stock options and incentive awards of the Group members and the principal stockholders and the authorization to issue options to Group members to purchase 150,000 shares of common stock based upon certain terms and conditions.

3. Trademark Licensing Agreements

Royalties including minimum licensing payments to GUESS?, Inc. which owns 9.9% of the outstanding common stock of the Company, aggregated $74,000 in fiscal 1999, $840,000 in fiscal 1998 and $294,000 in fiscal 1997. Due to the lack of capital resources necessary to develop and support the GUESS? product line, the Company discontinued its GUESS? division in the first quarter of fiscal year 1999. The GUESS? license was terminated as of March 31, 1998.

Royalty payments including agreement minimums for product sold under the ARROW brand aggregated $250,000 in fiscal 1999, $250,000 in fiscal 1998 and $315,000 in fiscal 1997. As of March 12, 1999, the Company reached an agreement with the licensor to terminate the ARROW license agreement. No payment of sales royalties, or guaranteed minimum royalties were required to be made after January 1, 1999. The licensor made payment of $50,000 to the Company to settle any and all outstanding issues connected with the termination of the licensing agreement.

4. Litigation

In September 1993, the Company filed an action against the former owners of Phoenix Associates, Inc. (Phoenix). The Company sought compensatory damages of approximately $4.0 million plus declaratory and injunctive relief for acts of alleged securities fraud, fraudulent conveyances, breach of fiduciary trust and unfair competition in connection with the acquisition of the common stock of Phoenix.

Additionally, the Company has filed a demand for arbitration which seeks compensatory damages of $4.0 million, rescission of the stock purchase agreement, rescission of an employment agreement and other matters, all on account of alleged breaches of the stock employment agreement, fraudulent misrepresentation and breach of fiduciary duties.

In November 1993, the former owners of Phoenix filed counter claims against the Company alleging improper termination with regard to their employment agreement and breach of the stock purchase agreement. The Company settled this litigation and realized $675,000 from this matter which is included in the accompanying statement of operations for 1999 under the caption "Other income."

On December 9, 1997, a former officer and director of the Company filed a complaint against the Company in the State Court of Fulton County, State of Georgia relating to payments allegedly due him under the March 18, 1994 Severance Agreement, and was seeking damages in the amount of $219,472. The Company reached a settlement with the officer in the amount of $100,000 plus an amount based on reaching a certain level of recovery, if any, from the Levi Strauss litigation. Based on the settlement with Levi's, no additional accrual to the former officer and director was necessary.

On January 15, 1998, in the Supreme court of the State of New York, Westchester County, a Director of the Company filed a complaint against the Company for breach of the March 18, 1994 Severance Agreement, and seeking damages in the amount of $559,456 plus applicable interest and legal fees which was accrued as of February 28, 1998. The Company on March 9, 1998, filed counterclaims in a significantly larger amount. In April 1999, the Company reached a settlement with the Director for $75,000 which resulted in the reduction of approximately $530,000 in the accrued unusual charge this reduction is included in the accompanying Statement of Operations under the caption "Other Income."

Sportswear, Ltd., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Levi Strauss & Co., to manufacture and market men's underwear and other products under the trademark "Brittania from Levi Strauss & Co". Sales under this license aggregated $0 in fiscal year 1999, $4.5 million in fiscal 1998, and $14.9 million in fiscal 1997.

As of January 1, 1997, the license was renewed for a five-year term, including automatic renewals of two years if certain minimum sales levels were achieved. On January 22, 1997, Levi's announced its intention to sell Brittania. In light of the actions announced by Levi's, K mart, the largest retailer of the Brittania brand and the Company's largest customer accounting for approximately $11 million of the Company's fiscal 1997 sales of Brittania product, advised the Company that it would no longer continue its on-going commitment to the Britannia trademark.

The Company filed a lawsuit against Levi Strauss & Co. and Brittania Sportswear, Ltd., alleging that the licensor breached various obligations under the licensing agreement, including without limitation its covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The Company agreed to settle this litigation in June 1998 and realized approximately $725,000 in gross value from this matter which is included in the accompanying statement of operations under the caption "Other income."

Subsequent to year-ended February 27, 1999, the Company ceased all operations and sold certain inventory and fixed assets as well as turned over the collection of all accounts receivable to the primary lender of the Company in order to satisfy a portion of the outstanding debt secured by the assets. The carrying value of the inventory and fixed assets sold was approximately $1,000,000. The Company expects to seek relief from the remaining debt outstanding, to all creditors, through a voluntary petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in February 2000. Pending Bankruptcy Court approval of the Disclosure Statement as adequate, the Company intends to solicit votes on the Plan of Reorganization ("the Plan") from the Company's secured lenders and stockholders. From the Filing Date of the Plan until the Effective Date of the Plan, the Company will operate its business as a debtor-in-possession subject to the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court.

None in last two years.

PART III

ITEM 10. DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS, PROMOTERS AND CONTROL PERSONS; COMPLIANCE WITH SECTION 16(a) OF THE EXCHANGE ACT.

Directors, Executive Officers and Significant Employees

The following sets forth, as of June 1, 2001, the names and ages of all directors, executive officers, and other significant employees of the Company; the date when each director was appointed; and all positions and offices in the Company held by each. Each director will hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until his or her successor has been elected and qualified: Name Age Positions Held Date Appointed Director

Name	Age	Positions Held	Date Appointed Director
John H. Treglia	58	Director, President, And Secretary	Jan. 18, 2000
Dr. Frank J. Castanaro	50	Director	Feb. 17, 2000
George D. Gold	79	Director	1966
Marsha Ellis	40	Treasurer and Chief Accounting Officer	Jan. 18, 2000

Set forth below is information regarding the principal occupations of each current director during the past five years or more. None of the directors or principal executive officers holds the position of director in any other public company.

Mr. Treglia is a graduate of Iona College, from which he received a BBA in Accounting in 1964. Since January 18, 2000 he has served as president, secretary, and a director of the Company, devoting such time to the business and affairs of the Company as is required for the performance of his duties. From 1964 until 1971, Mr. Treglia was employed as an accountant by Ernst & Ernst and, thereafter, founded and operated several businesses in various areas. From 1994 through 1998, Mr. Treglia served as a consultant to several companies which were in Chapter 11. These included J.R.B. Contracting, Inc., Laguardia Contracting, and Melli-Borrelli Associates. In 1996, Mr. Treglia founded Accutone In., a company engaged in the business of manufacturing and distributing hearing aids. He has served as its president and CEO since such time.

George J. Gold has been a director of the company since 1966. During his tenure with the Company he has served as its Chairman of the Board, Chief Executive Officer, and Treasurer of the company. He resigned all positions other than Director on March 18, 1994.

Dr. Castanaro received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Scranton in 1974. In 1978 he graduated from Georgetown University School of Dentistry and has been in private practice as a dentist since such time. Dr. Castanaro was appointed as a director of the company on February 17, 2000. Dr. Castanaro has assisted two large ophthalmology practices to introduce and expand their activities in Laser therapy, including, but not limited to, Lasik procedures. Dr. Castanaro presently practices dentistry in partnership with Dr.'s Joseph C. and John B. Fontana in Peekskill, New York, and has a solo practice in Yonkers, New York. Dr. Castanaro is a member of the American Dental Association, the Dental Society of the State of New York, the Ninth District Dental Society, and the Peekskill-Yorktown Dental Society.

Marsha Ellis has served as treasurer and chief accounting officer of the Company since January 18, 2000. Miss Ellis attended North Carolina State University at which she studied accounting and computer sciences. She is currently employed full time as comptroller of St. Ives Country Club. Miss Ellis served as assistant controller of the company from 1994 until it ceased doing business in October of 1999. Since January 18, 2000 she has kept that position on a part time basis devoting much of her time to the business and affairs of the Company as is required for the performance of her duties. From 1986 until 1993 Ms. Ellis was a manager in the Accounting Department of The British-American International Services Group of Companies.

Resignations of Officers and Directors
During the Fiscal Year February 2000

On June 22, 1999, during the fiscal year prior to that covered by this report, Stephen Samberg submitted his resignation as chairman, CEO, and a director of the Company. As of such date, the Company was left with only one executive officer, Nicholas J. Dmytryszyn, who served in the positions of secretary, CFO, and treasurer. Members of the Company's former management have advised present management that Mr. Dmytryszyn resigned all of his positions with the Company some time in October 1999. The board of directors did not take any action to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Messrs. Samberg and Dmytryszyn. Therefore, from October 1999 until January 18, 2000 (see below), the Company had no executive officers in place.

Resolution to Reorganize the Company Under Chapter 11
And Appointment of John H. Treglia to Administer Same

Prior to the fiscal year covered by this report at a special meeting of the board of directors, held on January 18, 2000, the Company's board of directors reviewed the Company's insolvent state, its total absence of business operations since October 1999 and the lack of prospects to improve its financial and operational positions. In light of the company's poor position and prospects, the board approved the filing of a Voluntarily petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the Federal Court for the Southern District of New York for the purpose or reorganizing the business and affairs of the Corporation through a merger with or acquisition of a new and viable business.

In connection with the projected reorganization of the Company with a new, viable business, John H. Treglia, was appointed as a director to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James H. Carey, which had occurred on October 8, 1999. Upon the appointment of Mr. Treglia, the Company's board consisted of Mr. Treglia and four members of the former management, Steven Schneider, Marc Feder, Kenneth Klein, and George J. Gold. Mr. Treglia, who is the president and a controlling shareholder of Accutone Inc., a company engaged in the business of manufacturing and distributing hearing aids, was also appointed President and Secretary of the company and of its four subsidiaries. Management is seeking merger or acquisition candidates in order to continue the existence of the Company. It management is unsuccessful in finding at least one appropriate candidate, the company and its subsidiaries will cease to exist. Management has not identified any specific business or even any specific industry for the company or any of its subsidiaries and has not made or entered into any definite plans, proposals, arrangements, or understandings with respect to any possible business combination or opportunity nor has it made application to the Bankruptcy Court for approval of any particular merger or acquisition. However, Accutone Inc., a company controlled by John H. Treglia, the Company's current president, will be among the companies and businesses which management will consider with regard to the possibility of an acquisition or merger transaction with the Company. If the Company should ultimately acquire a business or property from any member of management, the terms of such acquisition might not be the result of arm's length negotiations. While any transaction between the Company and any of its affiliates could present management with a conflict of interest, it is the intention of management that if such transaction should occur, the terms thereof will be no less beneficial to the Company than if such transactions were effected on an arms length basis.

Appointment of Marsha Ellis as Treasurer and Chief Accounting Officer

Prior to the fiscal year covered by this report, at the January 18, 2000 special meeting of the board of directors, Marsha Ellis, the former assistant comptroller of the company, was appointed treasurer and chief accounting officer, of the Company.

Resignation of Three Directors and Appointment of Dr. F.J. Castanaro to Board

Prior to the fiscal year covered by this report, at a meeting of the board of directors held on February 17, 2000, Marc Feder resigned his position as a director of the Company and the remaining directors present at the meeting appointed Dr. Frank J. Castanaro to fill the vacancy on the board caused by Mr. Feder's resignation. Subsequent to the said meeting, two more directors, Steven Schneider and Kenneth Klein also resigned from the board. The resignation of Messrs. Feder, Klein, and Schneider were submitted in light of the termination of the Company's former business and the projected reorganization of the Company through a Chapter 11 proceeding.

Section 16(a) ownership Reporting Compliance

To the best knowledge of current management and the members of management who resigned in February 2000, during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2000, the Company did not receive any Forms 3 or 4 or any amendments thereto, nor did any director, officer or beneficial owner of more than 10% of the company's equity securities fail to file, on a timely basis, reports required by Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act.

ITEM 11. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation of Directors

Until June of 2000, when the board of directors eliminated compensation for directors other than those employed by the Company, such persons were paid $5,000 annually and an additional $500 for each Board or committee meeting attended in person. No payments made during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2001.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

The Compensation Committee was disbanded in May 1998. As of the date

Edgar Filing: NANTUCKET INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10-K

hereof, the

Board of Directors has not established a new Compensation Committee and it has no plans to do so until such time as the financial position and prospects of the Company improve significantly.

SUMMARY COMPENSATION TABLE

The Summary Compensation Table shows compensation information for each of the fiscal years ended February 28, 2001 and February 27, 2000 for all persons who served as the Company's chief executive officer. No other executive officers of the Company received compensation in excess of $100,000 during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2000.

To the best knowledge of current management, prior to and/or during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2000 the Company had in effect a 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan, a Long Term Incentive Plan and one or more Stock Option and SAR Plans and/or granted stock options outside of specific Plans therefore. As part of the projected reorganization under chapter 11, all existing compensation plans and rights to purchase securities of the Company arising thereunder will be terminated, as will all outstanding stock options; any funds or assets in the company's 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan and any other compensation plan holding funds or assets of former employees will be distributed by the Trustees of any such plans to the beneficial owners thereof and all such Plans will also be terminated.

Pursuant to the rules of the Securities and Exchange commission, shares of Common Stock which an individual or member of a group has right to acquire within 60 days pursuant to the exercise of options or warrants are deemed to be outstanding for the purpose of computing the ownership of such individual or group, but are not deemed to be outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage ownership of any other person; shown in the table. Accordingly, where applicable, each individual or group member's rights to acquire shares pursuant to the exercise of options or warrants are noted below.

- (2) All such shares are subject to the Nantucket Industries Stock Voting Trust u/i/d March 22, 1994 the "Voting Trust"). In addition, the severance agreement with Mr. Gold provided for the company to issue, as of April 1, 1997, warrants for the purchase of up to a total of $157,875 shares to George J. Gold and Donald D. Gold. Such warrants have not yet been issued.

ITEM 13. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

The following is a description of any transactions during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2001 or any presently proposed transactions, to which the Company was or is to be a party, in which the amount involved in such transaction (or series of transactions) was $60,000 or more and which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest: (i) any director or executive officer of the Company; (ii) any person who owns or has the right to acquire 5% or more of the issued and outstanding common stock of the Company; and (iii) any member of the immediate family of any such persons. Current management is not aware of any requirements, which may have been in effect prior to January 2000, with respect to the approval of related transactions by independent directors. Because of its current limited management resources, the company does not presently have any requirement respecting the necessity for independent directors to approve transactions with related parties. All transactions are approved by the vote of the majority, or the unanimous written consent, of the full board of directors. J all member so the board of directors all members of the board of directors, individually and/or collectively, could have possible conflicts of interest with respect to transactions with related parties.

Employment Agreement with John H. Treglia

On April 3, 2000, the Company entered into an employment agreement with John H. Treglia, its President and CEO. The agreement provides for an annual salary in the amount of $150,000 and a term of three years. Mr. Treglia has agreed to waive the right to be paid in cash until, in the opinion of the board of directors, the Company has sufficient financial resources to make such payments. In lieu of cash salary payments, Mr. Treglia may accept shares of common stock at, or at a discount from the market price. His agreements provides for the possibility of both increases in salary and the payment of bonuses at the sole discretion of the board of directors, participation in any pension plan, profit-sharing plan, life insurance, hospitalization of surgical program or insurance program hereafter adopted by the Company (to the extent that the employee is eligible to do so under the provisions of such plan or program), reimbursement of business related expenses, for the non-disclosure of information which the Company deems to be confidential to it, for non-competition with the Company for the two-year period following termination of employment with the company and for various other terms and conditions of employment. The Company does not intend to provide any of its employees with medical, hospital or life insurance benefits until the board of directors determines that it has sufficient financial resources to do so.
