Yes      [ ] No

(3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?

Yes      [ ] No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reason why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

Patient Safety Technologies, Inc. (the "Company") anticipates that its revenue for the year ended December 31, 2006 will approximate its revenue for the year ended December 31, 2005. Increases in revenues from sales of its Safety Sponge combined with revenues recognized at the Company's car wash operating segment offset a significant decrease in consulting service revenues recognized during 2006. The Company anticipates that its operating expenses and net loss for the year ended December 31, 2006 are significantly greater than the expenses and net loss for the year ended December 31, 2005. The increase in operating expenses for the year ended December 31, 2006 when compared to December 31, 2005, was primarily the result of stock based compensation expenses, amortization of debt discount and to a lesser extent salaries and employee benefits, and interest expense. Net loss increased for the year ended December 31, 2006 compared to the year ended December 31, 2005 primarily as a result of a significant increase in operating expenses.

A reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made at this time due to the fact that the compilation, dissemination and review of the information required to be presented in the Form 10-K has not been completed.
