(Attach extra Sheets if Needed)

As reported in Registrant's Current Report on Form 8-K, filed on February 16, 2005, Registrant announced that it was reviewing its accounting for certain items and that it was in the process of determining whether some of them should have been recorded in earlier periods. As reported in Registrant's Current Report on Form 8-K, filed on March 1, 2005, Registrant announced that, on February 25, 2005, the Audit Committee of Registrant's Board of Directors, after discussion with Registrant's management and consultation with Registrant's independent registered public accounting firm, concluded that the previously issued financial statements of Registrant for the fiscal quarters in 2003, for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003 and for the fiscal quarters ended March 31, June 30 and September 30, 2004 should not be relied upon because of items requiring correction in those financial statements, and approved management's recommendation that Registrant's financial statements included in its Annual Report on Form 10-K, as previously amended by its Form 10-K/A, for the year ended December 31, 2003, and in its Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended March 31, June 30 and September 30 in 2003 and 2004 should be restated to make the necessary accounting corrections.

Registrant is filing this Form 12b-25 due to the need for additional time to complete these restatements and its consolidated financial statements and related schedules, as well as its assessment of the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting in order to satisfy the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the "Act"). This Act requires, beginning with the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2004 ("2004 Form 10-K"), (i) management to report on the effectiveness of the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting under Item 308(a) of Regulation S-K and (ii) the Registrant's independent registered public accounting firm to attest to this report under Item 308(b) of Regulation S-K. During 2004 and through the date of this filing, the Registrant has spent considerable time and resources analyzing, documenting and testing its system of internal accounting control over financial reporting.

While the Registrant's evaluation of internal control over financial reporting has not yet been completed, Registrant has concluded as of the date of this filing that it has two material weaknesses as of December 31, 2004.

The Registrant did not maintain effective controls over the application of generally accepted accounting principles related to the financial reporting process for certain complex, non-routine transactions. Specifically, the Registrant does not have sufficient depth, skills and experience in accounting for certain complex, non-routine transactions in the financial reporting process, such as income taxes and stock compensation expense, and there was a lack of review by accounting personnel with appropriate financial reporting expertise. Additionally, as of December 31, 2004, the Registrant did not maintain effective controls over the reconciliation and review of its sales, use and excise tax liability accounts. Specifically, Registrant's reconciliation and review procedures with respect to sales, use and excise tax liabilities were insufficient in their design and execution to determine that sales, use and excise tax liabilities were appropriately reported.

A material weakness is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that results in a more than remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected. As a result of the material weaknesses identified, the Registrant's management believes that it will conclude in its Management Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting in the Registrant's 2004 Form 10-K, that the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting was not effective as of December 31, 2004. Also, as a result of the material weaknesses described above, the Registrant's management believes that the report of its independent registered public accountant firm in the 2004 Form 10-K will contain an adverse opinion with respect to the effectiveness of the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004.

Since management has not completed its testing and evaluation of the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting and the control deficiencies identified to date (including the two material weaknesses identified above), there can be no assurance that additional deficiencies will not be identified or any deficiencies identified previously or hereafter, either alone or in the aggregate, will not be considered an additional material weakness. Registrant anticipates that it will file the 2004 Form 10-K on or before March 31, 2005.

Explanation Referred to in Part IV, Item (3) of Form 12b-25

On March 1, 2005, Registrant reported that on February 25, 2005, the Audit Committee of its Board of Directors had approved the restatement of Registrant's annual and quarterly financial statements for 2003 and the first three quarters of 2004 as discussed below under "Restatements." The Registrant's operating results for its fiscal year and year ended December 31, 2004 are set forth below under "Operating Results."

Restatements:

Registrant reported that (a) it was restating its results for 2003 and 2004 to account for (1) the recording of certain fee revenue that was previously misclassified as a liability, (2) the timing of recording of certain deferred tax assets, (3) the increase in deferred tax assets and corresponding decrease to goodwill related to net operating losses acquired as part of our acquisition of Access One and (4) an overstatement in the number of fully diluted shares outstanding due to the exclusion of the deferred tax benefit of option exercises, and (b) the following table summarizes the effect of the anticipated adjustments described above on Registrant's previously reported revenue, operating income, pre-tax income, net income, fully diluted earnings per share and fully diluted shares. With the exception of the deferred tax assets recorded in connection with the Access One acquisition, these changes are immaterial to the Registrant's balance sheet and cash flow statements for the periods proposed to be restated.

Operating Results:

Registrant reported that:

For the fourth quarter 2004, it reported net income of $11.1 million, or $0.40 per share on a diluted basis, as compared to net income of $7.6 million, or $0.27 per share on a diluted basis, for the fourth quarter 2003. Results for the fourth quarter 2004 include increased depreciation expense of $1.4 million related to a reduction in the remaining useful lives of Registrant's five long distance switches and other income of $1.9 million due to a reduction in sales and use tax accruals.

For the full year 2004, net income was $36.8 million, or $1.32 per share on a diluted basis, as compared to net income of $81.8 million, or $2.94 per share on a diluted basis, for the full year 2003. Registrant has changed the classification of certain expenses presented in the accompanying financial information, including customer billing expenses, from network and line costs to general and administrative expense.

See the attached Consolidated Financial Information for Registrant. The attached Consolidated Financial Information, as well as the financial information discussed above in this section, "Operating Results," and in the table under "Restatement" above reflect Registrant's management's estimates based on its initial evaluation of the effect of the corrections discussed above under "Restatements." All such financial information is unaudited.
