Dear Key Opinion Leader:

Mentor Corporation (Mentor) prides itself on having provided innovative products and best-in-class service to surgeons and their patients worldwide for over 30 years. I am writing you today to inform you of an important next stage in the evolution of Mentor as an aesthetics market leader. Mentor and Johnson & Johnson announced today an agreement whereby Johnson & Johnson will acquire Mentor. The offer is conditioned on the tender of a majority of the outstanding shares of Mentor's common stock, and certain other closing conditions.

Mentor will operate as a stand-alone business unit reporting through ETHICON, Inc., a Johnson & Johnson company and leading provider of suture, mesh and other products for a wide range of surgical procedures. ETHICON is excited to strengthen its presence in aesthetic and reconstructive medicine by delivering a broad range of evidence-based solutions for innovation and enhanced patient outcomes. ETHICON and Mentor share a belief in the future growth of breast aesthetics in particular, and in the important role of breast aesthetics in patients' self esteem and quality of life. This new alliance will also benefit our purified botulinum toxin product program by allowing a more rapid expansion and broader reach into therapeutic markets.

We are excited for Mentor to join the Johnson & Johnson family of companies. J&J has an established track record of enabling acquired companies to continue to operate as highly entrepreneurial organizations while enhancing the products and services they are able to deliver to the marketplace. Mentor and Johnson & Johnson are both dedicated to continuing to deliver the best science, level of service and a broad range of surgical aesthetic, reconstructive, and therapeutic products to meet customer and patient needs.

Mentor's success in establishing itself as the leader in aesthetic surgery, and more recently, the successful clinical trials with our investigational botulinum toxin product PurToxÒ, is due to your helping us focus on clinically relevant safety and efficacy data for our products and insights about physician and patient needs. As a contributor to this vital effort we want to recognize your support for our company and reassure you of our continued commitment to designing and conducting meaningful clinical studies. It is in our heritage and we will do no less.

We look forward to your ongoing support and collaboration as we continue to service the medical community and patients with innovative and science-based products.

Sincerely,

Josh Levine

President and Chief Executive Officer

Mentor Corporation
