Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Stock and Asset Purchase Agreement

On April 23, 2015, Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company, a Massachusetts corporation (“HMH”) and a wholly owned subsidiary of Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Company, a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), entered into a Stock and Asset Purchase Agreement (the “Acquisition Agreement”), with Scholastic Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Parent Seller”), and Scholastic Inc., a New York corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of the Parent Seller (a “Seller” and, together with the Parent Seller, the “Sellers”) under which HMH will acquire (the “Acquisition”) the assets (including the stock of two of the Sellers’ subsidiaries) comprising the Educational Technology and Services business of the Sellers (the “Business”).

Subject to the terms and conditions of the Acquisition Agreement, HMH will pay to the Sellers an aggregate purchase price of $575,000,000 to acquire the Business, subject to adjustments for cash, debt and working capital. $34,500,000 of the purchase price will be deposited into an escrow account to be held for 18 months as security for potential indemnification obligations of the Sellers. Portions of such escrow will be released periodically during the 18-month period upon fulfillment of certain service levels under a transition services agreement to be entered into by the Sellers and HMH for the provision of certain transition support services by the Sellers to the Business and HMH after the closing.

The Acquisition Agreement contains customary representations and warranties of the parties (which have been qualified by confidential disclosures made to the parties in connection with the Acquisition Agreement), including with respect to: organization; power and authority; due authorization; enforceability; capitalization; no conflict; no consents required; no actions; no orders; financial statements; no undisclosed liabilities; absence of certain developments; taxes; contracts; customers, vendors, distributors and authors; intellectual property; title to properties; tangible property; employee benefit plans; employees; labor matters; insurance; compliance with laws; environmental; permits; accounts receivable; business inventory; affiliate transactions; sufficiency of assets; corrupt practices; bonds and letters of credit; no brokers; and insolvency.

The Acquisition Agreement also contains customary covenants and agreements of the Sellers, including covenants and agreements: to conduct the Business in the ordinary course until the Acquisition is completed; not to take certain actions during the interim period between signing and closing; not to compete with HMH in certain lines of business for a period of three years following the closing date; not to solicit HMH’s employees for two years following the closing date; and not to interfere with customers for three years following the closing date.

Subject to certain limitations, either HMH or the Sellers may terminate the Acquisition Agreement if the Acquisition has not been consummated by August 21, 2015. A termination of the Acquisition Agreement under certain circumstances will entitle the Sellers to receive from HMH a termination fee in an amount equal to $28,750,000.

The Acquisition is expected to close on the later of (a) May 29, 2015 and (b) the second business day after the satisfaction or waiver of the limited closing conditions specified in the Acquisition Agreement, including, among other things, the expiration of the applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976. The Acquisition is not subject to any financing conditions. There can be no assurance as to when the closing conditions will be satisfied, if at all.

ABL Amendment

On April 23, 2015, HMH, Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishers Inc., a Delaware corporation, and HMH Publishers LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (collectively, the “Borrowers”), and certain affiliates entered into a Third Amendment to the Superpriority Senior Secured Debtor-in-Possession and Exit Revolving Loan Credit Agreement, dated as of May 22, 2012, as amended, with the requisite lenders and Citibank, N.A., as administrative agent (the “Third Amendment”). The Third Amendment permits the Borrowers to increase the aggregate amount of indebtedness they may incur under their term credit facility to $500,000,000, plus the aggregate amount of any incremental facilities provided for therein.

The representations, warranties, covenants and agreements contained in such agreements were made only for purposes of each such agreement and as of specific dates, were made solely for the benefit of the parties to the agreements and may be intended not as statements of fact, but rather as a way of allocating the risk to one of the parties if those statements prove to be inaccurate. In addition, such representations, warranties, covenants and agreements may have been qualified by certain disclosures not reflected in the text of the relevant agreement, and may be subject to standards of materiality applicable to contracting parties that differ from what may be viewed as material by stockholders of, or other investors in, the Company or its affiliates. Investors are not third-party beneficiaries under the Acquisition Agreement or the Third Amendment and should not rely on the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements or any descriptions thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts or condition of HMH, the Sellers or any of their respective affiliates. Information concerning the subject matter of such representations and warranties may change after the date of the transaction agreements described herein, and such subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in future public disclosures.

In addition, even if our results of operations, financial condition and liquidity and the development of the industry in which we operate are consistent with the forward-looking statements contained in or incorporated by reference into this report, those results or developments may not be indicative of results or developments in subsequent periods.

Important factors that could cause our results to vary from expectations include, but are not limited to: the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the Acquisition Agreement; the outcome of any legal proceedings that may be instituted against the Company, the Sellers or their affiliates following announcement of the Acquisition Agreement and transactions contemplated therein; the inability to complete the transactions contemplated by the Acquisition Agreement due to the failure to meet conditions to closing in the Acquisition Agreement or other factors; the risk that the proposed transactions disrupt current plans and operations as a result of the announcement and consummation of such transactions; the ability to achieve the anticipated benefits of the Acquisition, which may be affected by, among other things, competition, the ability of the acquired Business to grow and manage growth profitably, maintain relationships with suppliers and obtain adequate supply of products and retain its key employees; costs related to the proposed Acquisition; changes in applicable laws or regulations; the possibility that the Company or the Sellers or their affiliates may be adversely affected by other economic, business, and/or competitive factors; our ability to finance the acquisition; our ability to integrate the business; changes in state and local education funding and/or related programs, legislation and procurement processes; adverse or worsening economic trends or the continuation of current economic conditions; changes in consumer demand for, and acceptance of, our products; changes in product mix, format and timing of delivery; changes in competitive factors; offerings by technology companies that compete with our products; industry cycles and trends; conditions and/or changes in the publishing industry; changes or the loss of our key third-party print vendors; restrictions under agreements governing our outstanding indebtedness; changes in laws or regulations governing our business and operations; changes or failures in the information technology systems we use; demographic trends; uncertainty surrounding our ability to enforce our intellectual property rights; inability to retain management or hire employees; impact of potential impairment of goodwill and other intangibles in a challenging economy; decline or volatility of our stock price regardless of our operating performance; and other factors identified under the heading "Risk Factors" in our most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on February 26, 2015, and our other new releases we issue and public documents we file with the SEC.
